ITALIAN-FRENCH LEADERS FAIL TO BREAK DEADLOCK

Demand for Services of Chiropractors and Drugless Healers Causes Thousands to Flout Law, Victoria Member Tells House; Discussion Ends With Passing of Medical Act Amendment Limiting Use of "Doctor" and Suggestion for Investigation by Impartial Tribunal.

The demand of the people of British Columbia for the services of chiropractors and drugless healers had caused the law to be flouted and when such a situation was reached the law should be changed, not public opinion coerced, H. D. Twigg declared in the Legislature yesterday.

What appears to be the end of many discussions of the Medical Act and the status of those practicing the profession of healing who are not members of the medical profession came last night with all motions on the subject being withdrawn with the exception of that of Doctor L. E. Borden, which puts restrictions on the use of the word doctor, which would prevent the title being used by chiropractors.

Probabilities of an investigation of the whole subject by an impartial and judicial tribunal appear as a result of the discussions.

PROMISES CONSIDERATION

When the House appeared to have reached a hopeless impasse last night Capt. Ian Mackenzie, relieved the tension by making this proposal. It was promptly agreed to by Mr. Twigg, chief champion of the drugless practitioners, and Hon. R. L. Maitland, a member of the government, who, however, made it plain he was not speaking in behalf of the administration.

FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPE AND ONE IS RECAPTURED

Letter Dropped at Rear of Toronto Jail Quickly Leads to Rearrest

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 21.—A letter dropped at the rear of the Toronto jail led a detachment of the police flying squad to an Angus Street address, where they recaptured Basil O'Donnell, nineteen, one of four prisoners who had cut their way through bars of the jail early today. One of his companions was shot at by police officers as he croched alongside a fence, but when a constable dashed down the yard he found the fugitive had disappeared in the darkness.

Found with O'Donnell was Jennie Graham, nineteen, she was arrested on a charge of vagrancy.

No trace has yet been found of three other men who daringly slipped through the sawed bars of a window on the third story of the jail and climbed down a drain pipe. Those who are still at liberty are Fred Kemp, nineteen, Hugh Barclay, seventeen, and Albert Murphy, seventeen.

SENATE OF U.S. VOTES FOR NO DUTY ON OIL

Second Chamber Called on to Stay in Session Till It Completes Tariff Bill

Canadian Press

Washington, March 21.—After the United States Senate to-day had refused for the fifth time to vote for a tariff on oil, Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, announced the Senate should stay in session to-morrow until it passed the measure.

Prior to the vote of 38 to 37 against oil protection, Democrats and western Republicans had rallied and put through, 39 to 36, an amendment to slash existing rates on plateglass, which were placed under the flexible provisions by presidential proclamation.

Watson was joined in his demand for speedy disposition of the tariff measure by Senators Swanson of Virginia and Barkley of Kentucky, Democrats.

The Senate then, by a vote of 39 to 29, approved an amendment by Senator Hatfield, Republican, West Virginia, to add 10 cents a dozen pieces to the duties now in the bill on all chinaware.

After the Senate completes its work on the tariff bill it must be sent to the House for a conference.

LEGISLATURE REJECTS PLEA FOR PENSION

Close Vote on Motion to Include Public Workers

Uphill's Motion Supported By All Liberals and Some Conservatives

Regret was expressed by several members in the Legislature this morning at the withdrawal of the resolution in the name of Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie, calling for public utility workers to be included in the Superannuation Act.

The motion was only dropped by a small majority, several Conservative members voting with Mr. Uphill and the Liberal members of the House.

Dr. C. M. Kingston, Conservative, Grand Forks-Greenwood, moved the motion be dropped from the order papers.

W. F. Kennedy, Conservative, North Okanagan, suggested the subject could be considered by the State Health Insurance Commission, which would sit again during the recess.

J. W. Cornett, Conservative, South Vancouver, expressed regret that the resolution had not been brought up earlier, and was among the Conservatives voting against its withdrawal.

EXPORT TRADE CAUSES WHEAT PRICE TO RISE

Winnipeg, March 21.—Foreign buyers at last have looked to Canada for their wheat. Sales of export leaped to over the million-bushel mark for the first time in weeks overnight, and in response wheat prices to-day moved upward sensationally. The encouraging sale for export, together with a strong Liverpool market and exceptionally small shipments of wheat from Argentina, carried prices up 3¼ cents to 3 cents in the early minutes of closing. The close was 2¾ cents to 2⅞ cents up for the day.

At $1.12⅝ a bushel—its closing quotation—May wheat was 2¾ cents higher than its close of yesterday. Compared with a previous finish of 1.12¼, the July future marked up a gain of 2¾ cents, closing at $1.14⅝. October's final quotation to-day was $1.15⅛, which was 2¼ to ⅛ up from yesterday.

Argentina's small shipments of wheat were reflected bullishly here as well as at Liverpool and Chicago, but it was the 1,000,000-bushel export business in Canadian wheat that brought about the flurry. Top prices were not held, the market receding about a cent at midday, but it is believed to be in a stronger position as a result.

City Fire Wardens Defend Latest Action on Legal Grounds

Provincial Motor Act and Civic By-laws Cited as Reason For Ruling

The ruling declaring city fire department apparatus under the same strictures as private cars in the obeyance of city by-laws and the Provincial Motor Act was the chief centre of interest in City Hall circles to-day.

While fire wardens on the one hand were busy disclaiming any personal responsibility for the new ruling, other members of the council were preparing for what may become an early reconsideration of the whole issue.

The instructions to the fire department were said by the wardens to have

AGREEMENT PERMITS DON TO RACE CAR

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 21.—A break between Kaye Don, British driver, and Louis Coatelen, designer of the Silver Bullet, which threatened to put an abrupt end to their quest for the world automobile speed record, apparently had been averted to-day, for the time being.

Difficulties arising as a result of sharp disagreement between Don and Coatelen over the racing schedule as well as the conditioning of the big machine were understood to have been partially ironed out over-night at a conference with Val Haresnape, speedway director, and other officials. It was reported Haresnape served an ultimatum on the two to patch up their differences or have the official sanction for their speed trials withdrawn.

Hieroglyphics on Rocks At Chase River Reveal Prehistoric Forms of Art

Seventy-four miles up the Island from Victoria is the interesting district of Chase River which, besides mining, is noted for its agricultural activities. A feature of the district, which is attracting visitors and students, lies in some of the rocks there on which are strange carvings of some race antedating the present occupants of this Island.

As a feature of the Saturday Magazine Section, The Victoria Times to-morrow will publish a full page article on the Chase River district. The article will be illustrated with carvings on the rocks.

Other features of the Magazine Section to-morrow will include:

COURT ORDER MEANS STEAMER CAPILANO FREE

San Francisco, Calif., March 21.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals here to-day refused to issue a writ prohibiting Federal Judge E. E. Cushman at Seattle from signing an order quashing the attachment under which the steamship Chief Capilano, Canadian-American Company freighter, was seized Wednesday in the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

The court held that inasmuch as there were no records in the case on file here, it could take no action.

THOMAS IS NOT PLANNING CAREER AS GOVERNOR

London, March 21.—Rt. Hon. J. H. Island Launching Drive For Direct Railroad to Peace By Seymour Bridge

On-to-the-Peace Association Plans to Make Victoria Ocean Terminus of New Direct Route to Inland Empire; Bank Account Opened as Subscriptions for Drive Come In; Proposals to Go Before Premier Tolmie and Cabinet at Early Date.

To achieve Victoria's long-cherished ambition of becoming an actual land terminus of a trans-continental railroad system, and now become the Pacific Coast port outlet for the whole Peace River area, the Victoria On-to-the-Peace Association is to launch a drive on the two governments for the early start of a new transprovincial railway or auto truck road from Victoria, up the Island, across Seymour Narrows by bridge, with line leading to the west coast of Vancouver Island, up the Homathko River, through the Homathko Pass to Prince George, or joining up with the Canadian National at another point, and on into the Peace River, it was announced to-day by R. T. Williams, head of the association.

A bank account has been opened by the association at the Imperial Bank here and funds are now being received to finance the campaign, he said.

"We are going to campaign this Island from Cape Scott to Victoria, and put this over, to make Victoria the railway terminus she was cheated out of when the transcontinental railways stopped on the mainland instead of being brought right on to the capital," Mr. Williams said.

NEW WESTMINSTER REQUESTS HEARD BY THE RAIL BOARD

Freight Readjustment For Royal City Is Asked at Session

Vancouver, March 21.—Discussion of New Westminster's railway affairs occupied the attention of the Board of Railway Commissioners here this forenoon.

The Harbor Board of New Westminster began its fight for an adjustment of switching rates which will put the grain elevator there on the same basis as those on Burrard Inlet.

Thomas Vien, deputy chief commissioner, and J. A. Stoneman are the members of the board sitting here.

The Harbor Board of New Westminster asks that business over the Canadian Pacific Railway, which has direct connection with the elevator, be handled on the same basis as that from the Canadian National, a reverse of the situation between the two railways on the Vancouver waterfront.

The commission desired to secure further evidence before handing down a decision.

Increased Tax On E. and N. Belt Timber

Government Plan to Recoup Itself for $200,000 Revenue Loss Through Scrapping of Log Export Tax.

Original plans of the government for reinstating the timber export tax thrown out by the Privy Council have been abandoned following the receipt of full details of the Privy Council's judgment.

The government has now moved to recoup itself for the loss of this revenue of $200,000 a year by increased taxation on timber land within the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway belt.

This tax will be worked out through a system of land assessments so as to represent a levy of about $1.50 per 1,000 feet of timber. The tax will be on the land itself, which already is taxed at a lower rate. In this way the province should secure about the same amount as collected from the former export log tax.

It was explained that in the past the timber holders in the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway belt were able to carry their timber at far lower cost than the holders of any other timber in the province. They are agreeable to an increase in the present charges, the government understands, as this will only put them on a basis of equity with other holders elsewhere.

After the Privy Council turned down the export tax the government prepared to collect it in another way by levying it on all timber and rebating it on logs not exported. When the full details of the judgment arrived this week, however, it was found that they precluded this plan entirely. For this reason, to avoid a heavy loss of revenue, the new land tax on timber areas in the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway belt was devised.

No legislation is necessary to cover the increased tax in these areas. It will be worked out departmentally by increased assessments.

Meanwhile the government has asked the House to pass legislation fixing timber royalties for 1931 on the present basis. It also is extending for one year its right to allow log exports. The present power was established in 1920 for ten years and will lapse shortly.

EARL BALFOUR FUNERAL TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Body To-day Lies at Whittingehame, Scotland, After Trip From Surrey

Canadian Press

Whittingehame, Scotland, March 21.—The body of the Earl of Balfour was brought back amongst his "ain folk" to-day by his faithful valet, James Coltman, to which the veteran statesman said farewell just before he died Wednesday morning at Woking, Surrey, Eng.

In the early hours of the morning the train reached Dunbar bearing the oak coffin of antique design. Coltman stood by tearfully as the body of the man he had served for a quarter of a century, was placed in a motor hearse on its last journey to Whittingehame, the old family home.

MET BY PASTOR

The minister of Whittingehame Church, Rev. Marshall Lang, brother of the Archbishop of Canterbury, met the coffin as it was borne to the Balfours' Scottish home church.

To-morrow his own people will place the body by the side of those of his mother, Lady Blanche Balfour, and his brother. The coffin will be carried on an old farm cart drawn by farm horses, in accordance with custom, and the body of the Scottish Laird will be borne to his grave by six old servants, some of whom have been in the family for nearly sixty years.

MUNICIPAL ANGLE OF SHELLY BUDGET SCORED BY BLANDY

True Picture of Financial Relations Not Given, Realtors Told

Increased Taxation Burden on Municipalities Is Outlined By Speaker

Claiming that an unfair presentation of financal relations between the Provincial Government and municipalities of British Columbia had been given by Hon. W. C. Shelly in his recent budget speech, R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk of Oak Bay, to-day addressed the Real Estate Board at lunch in Spencer's private dining-room on the topic of taxation.

Mr. Blandy first discussed the various taxes of the federal, provincial and municipal governments. A total of $15,913,000 was secured by British Columbia provincial taxation in the year ending March 31, 1929, the largest items being $4,400,000 from income tax and $4,376,000 from liquor profits and permits.

The municipal taxes were largely made up of land taxes, which last year totaled about $18,500,000 all over the Province. Thus the municipalities levied the largest taxes.

Mr. Blandy went on to discuss the last Shelly budget, declaring that his remarks were intended to be entirely non-political.

HARBOR PLANS FOR VANCOUVER TO BE STATED

Vancouver, March 21.—F. R. McD. Russell, K.C., chairman of the Vancouver Board of Harbor Commissioners, has returned from Ottawa, and it is believed he will shortly make an important announcement regarding the proposed port development undertakings. These include a deep sea pier, a fishermen's wharf, a coastwise quay, all with modern sheds and equipments; a cold storage plant, and additional grain storage facilities. In all the expenditure will total probably $10,000,000, spread over two or three years.

LIQUID DRUNK FOR RUM KILLS THREE IN OHIO

Cincinnatti, Ohio, March 21.—The deaths of three Ohioans were listed to-day and 125 were suffering with a strange form of paralysis which physicians said came from drinking a Jamaica ginger concoction. Sixty-five were stricken in or near Cincinnati, twenty at Middleton and forty at Mount Vernon.

GRAF ZEPPELIN BEING PREPARED FOR LONG FLIGHT

Friedrichshafen, Germany, March 21.—Captain Ernst Lehman to-day stated the take-off of the dirigible Graf Zeppelin on its first South American flight would be made between May 10 and May 15, with the return planned by way of Lakehurst, N.J.

Strong Drive For Tri-partite Navy Treaty Foreseen

Grandi and Dumesnil Hold Conversation in London, But Make No Progress Toward Breaking Deadlock Which Is Delaying Naval Limitation Conference; Reported Britain, U.S. and Japan Preparing to Move Vigorously Toward Formal Reduction Agreement Among Themselves.

Canadian Press

London, March 21.—Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy and Jacques Dumesnil of the French delegation to the Naval Limitation Conference held a two-hour conference this afternoon. It was understood no progress toward breaking the Franco-Italian deadlock resulted.

JAPANESE REPLY AWAITED

Tokio, March 21.—It was authoritatively learned to-day that Japan may require another full week for deliberation before reaching a decision on the formula advanced at the London Naval Limitation Conference to fix the strength of the British, Japanese and United States navies.

London, March 21.—The British, United States and Japanese delegations to the Naval Limitation Conference were understood to-day to be preparing for quick, definite action next week in the production of a limitation and reduction pact.

In United States circles it was said the moment the Japanese government should indicate acceptance of the proposals now being considered in Tokio for an agreement among Great Britain, the United States and Japan, France and Italy would be called upon to put their cards on the table in an effort to settle their parity disagreement.

MAY SIGN SOME CLAUSES

If it should be found that France and Italy still could not see any purpose in further negotiating on their difference, then the other three powers would quickly frame an agreement along the lines of the Washington Treaty, and France and Italy would be invited to sign such parts as they might wish.

ATTITUDE OF TARDIEU

Paris, March 21.—Asked to-day whether and when he would go to London, Premier Tardieu replied he planned to go to London when something definite at the Naval Limitation Conference seemed to require his presence.

The attitude of the French government toward the conference remained unchanged, it was said in official circles.

BROKERS' TRIAL IN CALGARY IS NEARING END

Solloway-Mills Preliminary Hearing May Be Concluded This Evening

Canadian Press

Calgary, March 21.—Indications at the opening of this afternoon's session of the Solloway-Mills preliminary hearing here were that the trial would be concluded later in the day.

It was expected the prosecution counsel would rest their case after hearing five witnesses in addition to those called up till noon to-day.

It was indicated a night session might be necessary to wind up the hearing.

The defendants, I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills, heads of Solloway, Mills & Company Limited, brokers, face charges of conspiracy to defraud and "bucketing."

CONVICT BREAKS OUT OF PRISON AND IS KILLED

One of Two Men Escaping in Alabama Shot By County Police

Montgomery, Alabama, March 21.—Thomas Barnes, one of two prisoners who made a break from Speigner Prison early to-day, was killed in a gun battle with county officers near here shortly before 10 a.m. Reports at the county jail gave no information concerning Lee Hudgens, who accompanied Barnes in the dash for liberty.

Two guards at the state penitentiary were shot and seriously wounded by the two prisoners, who opened fire with pistols as shifts were being changed at the prison cotton mill.

In the confusion that followed both convicts fled through the prison gates.

B. F. Baltzer and J. D. Richardson were the guards shot.

Lee Hudgens was serving a two to three year sentence and Tom Barnes a thirty-five-year sentence for bank robbery. They stepped from the line and opened fire without warning.

Arab Delegation On Way to London

Jerusalem, March 21.—An Arab delegation was given an enthusiastic farewell to-day when it started for London to present the case to the British Government in connection with the publication of the report of the commission n inquiry into the disorders of last August. ELIMINATING CHINESE FROM ISLAND MINES

Weeding Out Process Has Already Started at Cumberland

While there was a slight percenttage increase in the number of Orientals employed in coal mines during the last year Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, informed the Legislature yesterday that following a conference with Col. Villiers of the Canadian Collieries a policy of replacing Orientals with white miners had been adopted at Cumberland.

Col. Villiers had begun by replacing forty-one Orientals on March 14 and since then had dismissed another fifty, and another group were being let out that day, the Minister stated.

He hoped the experiment would prove a success. Statistics of Oriental employment showed that sixty-three per cent of all Orientals employed in coal mines were in the Comox district.

SUPPORT FOR WHEAT POOL URGED BY HALIFAX LEADER

Halifax, N.S., March 21.—The rest of Canada, at this testing time, should stand firmly behind the Wheat Pool, the "greatest undertaking" in the country, in the opinion of John Murphy of the Halifax Harbor Commission.

"In the situation which has arisen respecting the present crop, Canadians should keep before them the fact that the men directing the Wheat Pool have to bank their judgment against that of the world and have to endeavor even to penetrate the will of Providence," he said in an address before the Halifax Commercial Club.

"During the five years of the Pool's existence their judgment has proved sound. It may possibly prove that the course followed by them during the last six months is open to criticism, but it can in no way take from them the credit due them for past results."

"At this testing time, with a problem which means so much to this country, it is due to the people of these prairie provinces that the rest of Canada stand behind them, recognizing the problem as a distinctly national one and lending such support to the situation as will enable and encourage them to weave it out to the very best advantage of all.

"There is no single undertaking in this country the effects of which are so far-reaching on the economic and social life of the people as this problem."

TRIBUTE PAID TO OFFICIAL

Deputy Minister of Labor Wins Glowing Compliment in House

A glowing tribute to the efficiency of J. D. McNiven, Deputy Minister of Labor, was paid in the Legislature yesterday by Thomas Uphill, Labor member for Fernie, when G. A. Walkem asked the Minister of Mines if the deputy was due for superannuation.

Hon. W. A. McKenzie replied that the deputy could have retired under the superannuation act three years ago, but apart from that he did not care to discuss the subject. Mr. Walkem remarked that he believed Mr. McNiven was an excellent man for the position but he recalled that another man, John Peck, a capable man and in the prime of life, had been given only one year's grace after superannuation age. Why, he asked, should there be discrimination.

Mr. Uphill rose to his feet with a challenge to anyone to say they knew of a man who knew more about Labor conditions than the deputy minister. He had known him for twenty years and could testify to his qualifications. It would be a great loss to the Province and to the Dominion if he retired.

Premier Tolmie was then pressed for a statement.

"The matter of the various other groups undoubtedly requires very careful consideration. The suggestion of a commission was brought to my attention to-night for the first time. I will give it my earnest consideration and draw it to the attention of the cabinet at the earliest possible moment," stated the Premier.

On the strength of this assurance the House decided to allow Dr. Borden's modified amendment of the Medical Act prohibiting the use of the title "doctor" to all those who are not graduates of a medical college having a four-year course. Mr. Maitland's suggestion that pending the investigation it was in the public interest to classify the various cults so that the public could properly identify them had much to do with the ease with which Dr. Borden's motion finally went through.

IMPARTIAL TRIBUNAL

Capt. Mackenzie setting forth the difficulties in which members found themselves in appealed to Premier Tolmie to grant an impartial commission of inquiry during the next twelve months. He suggested three Supreme Court judges, but said any strictly impartial tribunal containing no medical men, no chiropractors, but containing men of high scientific intelligence and representing the spirit of personal liberty would meet with his approval.

TWIGG'S CHALLENGE

Mr. Twigg's forceful opening of the debate at last night's session was in the nature of a ringing challenge to the medical profession to take upon itself the responsibility of inaugurating prosecutions against chiropractors and drugless healers.

The power was in the hands of the B.C. Medical Association to prosecute men who were practicing as drugless healers and chiropractors. It was their duty to do so, and not to call upon the Attorney-General to take the initiative. They were not, he said with emphasis, able to carry out that duty and it was only natural they should not be able to do so. They had an indigestion of legal power, a plethora of responsibility.

"The cases are so many they cannot act," said the speaker. "The law is flouted by hundreds and thousands of people in British Columbia to-day, and the Medical Association is given a duty it is unable to perform. I think the law of England is the best. There they say it is a free country. They do not stop those who claim they can give relief to human ailments from practicing, but they will not let them pretend to be doctors. But they say this is a free country, you can go to anyone you like for treatment."

This was a matter that was up to the people themselves, he said, to go where they desired to go.

"When there is a conflict of law and public opinion the law must be altered, not public opinion coerced," said Mr. Twigg. In attempting to coerce public opinion the medical men had got their act so unwieldly they were unable to operate it.

NO ACTION TAKEN

Another striking angle to the dispute was introduced by Mr. Twigg in regard to patients of chiropractors.

"To-day," he said, "it is an offence for chiropractors to practice in British Columbia. If so, it should be an offence for anyone to go to them. That is a logical conclusion to draw. Yet it is known that numbers of leading citizens of British Columbia are going to them. Are they aiding and abetting an offence?" On this point he emphasized that medical men had taken no action against chiropractors, and it was the doctors' duty to do so. Anybody could lay a charge, but the disciplinary body was the B.C. Medical Association.

"I wish to say now I am not bitter against the medical profession. I hope no one thinks so. I have a great respect for the members of that honorable and self-sacrificing profession. Their kindness and self-sacrifice is not beaten by any other profession, and I appreciate personal kindnesses I have received from members of it."

On Dr. Borden's amendment to limit the use of the title "doctor" to all but medical men and surgeons, Mr. Twigg leveled stinging criticism on several grounds. "What right," he asked, "had they to say there was no such thing as a doctor of chiropractic or anything else? Doctor was a generic term. There were doctors of laws, doctors of divinity and doctors of other qualifications, and no reason why doctors of medicine should bar them from using the title to which they were justly entitled."

In this connection Mr. Twigg pointed out that the amendment in the name of Dr. Borden would mean that if any eminent doctor from the University of Edinburgh, Dublin, France or Germany came to British Columbia and registered himself at the Empress Hotel as "doctor" he would be liable to summary conviction and a fine of $100. He was satisfied the B.C. Medical Association never intended to go that far. He had too great a respect for their intelligence to believe that they intended that. That is why he had placed the amendment on the order papers in his name.

AMENDMENTS

Dr. Borden's amendment read:

Mr. Borden to move, in committee of the whole on bill (No. 30), intituled "an act to amend the 'Medical Act,'" to amend as follows:

To add at end of subsection (2) of section 2 the words "or to any person having a diploma in medicine or surgery from any college or school of medicine and surgery requiring at least four years' course of study, and who is not treating or attempting to treat human ailments for gain in the Province of British Columbia."

Mr. Twigg's amendment read:

Section 2 is amended by striking out all the words after the word "who," in the first line thereof, and substituting therefor the following words: "Wilfully and falsely pretends to be or tages or uses the name or title of a physician, doctor of medicine, licentiate in medicine, surgeon, or general practitioner, or any name, title, addition, or description implying that he is registered or that he is recognized by law as a physician or surgeon, or licentiate in medicine and surgery, or a doctor of medicine, shall be liable, on summary conviction, to pay a penalty of not exceeding $100 nor less than $25."

"I think," said Mr. Twigg, "my amendment covers every requirement the B.C. Medical Association could ask for. It does not prevent men who have properly earned their title in other countries calling themselves "doctor." He thought a man who had earned the title in another country had the right to use the title in British Columbia if he came to this country. The Medical Association had no right to pass upon a title that had been secured in Spain, France, England, Germany or any other country. A man who had earned the title or doctor or surgeon was entitled to use it no matter where he went. If the amendment to limit the use of the title was aimed against gentlemen to the south who came to British Columbia after a short course at some institution as chiropodists, optometrists or something of that nature, he thought it was beneath the dignity of the medical profession to seek to make it an offence for them to call themselves doctors.

"The offence is," said the speaker, "not in calling themselves doctor but in practicing."

Capt. Mackenzie question Mr. Twigg on the wording of his amendment. He had doubts, he intimated, as to whether it did not go farther than the courtesy title and permitted a man claiming the title to practice. His questions indicated that he would take up the matter further before the debate closed.

Dr. H. C. Wrinch suggested that Mr. Twigg was confusing two bodies, the Medical Association and the Medical Council, adding the significant statement:

"The Medical Association does not necessarily represent all the medical men in British Columbia."

C. F. Davie said that the term "doctor" implied medical man, and he insisted that one who called himself doctor must know something of anatomy. He was opposed to conferring the title on men who refused to answer any question indicating what they knew of this subject.

Capt. Mackenzie thought the Medical Council had been ill advised in their own interests to raise this issue. He had a great admiration for the medical profession, but he had not enough knowledge to say that others could not effectively treat human ills.

"Two great principles are disturbing me, because they appear to be in conflict," he said. "We in this House must try to safeguard the public health. On the other hand we must do our utmost to grant the utmost in the way of personal liberty and medical freedom."

He wished to know how the public health could be best safeguarded. Could the House safely say to these practitioners outside the medical profession that they must not carry on?

"I appeal to the Prime Minister. This question divides public opinion sharply. It is non-political. If ever a matter warranted an impartial investigation it is this question affecting public health and personal liberty. This House should decide that in the next twelve months we will have an investigating body go into it and bring in final recommendations."

Asked whom he would suggest, he said offhand perhaps three judges of the Supreme Court.

"Let this bill die and let the whole question go to any impartial committee the Prime Minister sets up and it will have my absolute support and approval. Let there be no medical man, no chiropractor, but a committee representing the learned scientific knowledge of British Columbia and representing the ideal of medical freedom. It will relieve this House of tremendous difficulty because we cannot get together and do justice to this great and vital question."

WITHDRAWS

Mr. Twigg promptly agreed to withdraw his amendment if the Premier would agree to Capt. Mackenzie's suggestion.

A. M. Manson intervened to insist that the Borden motion should go through in any event. People thought of a doctor as one having complete knowledge of anatomy and pathology at least. So long as the public were saved from possible deception by somebody without that knowledge calling himself a doctor, he would not oppose an investigation of the question, whether means of qualifying chiropractors and others could not be determined. He would not say there was nothing in the art of the chiropractors and drugless practitioners. He would admit that the doctors might be unfair to the chiropractors, but suggested that the Senate of the University set up an examining body to determine whether they were qualified to practice on the human body.

"If they can pass the test I have nothing to say," he said.

Mr. Maitland pointed out that to scrap the bill at this stage would be unfair to the Christian Scientists, who had been granted certain privileges the previous day. Mr. Twigg said he was willing to let that much of the bill go.

Mr. Maitland said the public desired the chiropractors. He knew many of them and admired their work, but he was not sure about all of them.

OUT OF MEDICAL ACT

"But if the public want the chiropractors and drugless healers, that is their right," he declared. "Let us adopt the suggestion of the member for North Vancouver, but they should not come under the Medical Act. Let us put these people in their right pockets. Let the doctors have the medical act and let the chiropractors have their act, and the drugless practitioners have their act. An honest chiropractor will wish to be known as a chiropractor, not as a doctor. The people want this issue settled. They want the chiropractors to have the right to carry on within the law. Let us define each profession by its own name, leaving the name of doctor to the doctors. We can't settle this by lobbying around here, the only way is by adopting the proposed investigation, but let us start by putting each group in its proper category."

Then followed the Premier's promise to give the matter consideration and the adoption of the Borden amendment.

The report of the proceedings in the Legislature on Wednesday in connection with legislation affecting treatment of the sick, which appeared in The Times yesterday, associated the Christian Scientists with the drugless healers in the controversy. As will be seen from a letter elsewhere in this issue, Christian Scientists state that they are not fighting the medical profession and are not connected in any way with chiropractors or drugless healers in these proceedings.

OFFERS PLAN TO STIMULATE COAL DEMAND

G. S. Pearson Urged Government to Take Lead in Organization

Government leadership in organizing the coal mine companies of British Columbia in a sales promotion campaign to restore animation in the once prosperous coal mine towns of Vancouver Island and the Interior was earnestly advocated in the Legislature Thursday by G. S. Pearson, Liberal member for Nanaimo.

Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, agreed that there was a big job to be done, gave statistics of the seriousness of the situation, detailed what was being done to assist development of the use of pulverized coal, and climated his utterances with the suggestion that the selling campaign would be an excellent undertaking for the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs.

"I am afraid we'll all starve to death if we wait for service clubs to come to the rescue of the coal industry" commented Mr. Pearson.

The Minister's statistics were impressive. Consumption of Alberta coal in British Columbia has increased from 30,000 tons in 1915 to 350,000 tons this year. Importations of crude oil for refinement into fuel oil has increased from 42,000,000 gallons in 1926 to an estimate of 150,000,000 gallons this year.

REPLACING MINERS

Alberta coal is replacing work for 3,000 miners and fuel oil is replacing 2,100 miners in this province, he stated.

The government's work to promote the use of pulverized coal was described. The Pacific Coyle Navigation Company had been subsidized $12,000 to instal pulverized coal on one of its finest tugs, the Pacific Monarch, which would make its trial run on Saturday.

The new Essondale mental hospital is to be heated with pulverized coal, and he hoped this plant would help to show private industry exactly how economical this kind of fuel is.

Four carloads of fuel from the four chief mines in the province had been sent to the Research laboratories at Ottawa for complete tests and analysis and the reports are to be published in pamphlet form. He thanked the C.P.R. and C.N.R. for hauling this coal free.

In addition efforts were being made to persuade the Canadian National hotel as Vancouver to use pulverized coal heating.

Mr. Pearson said the government should exert pressure on certain industries to use coal instead of oil. It was a disgrace that the E. & N. Railway, capitalized out of coal lands and running through a coal territory should burn oil and displace hundreds of miners right in its own territory, he said.

A central heating plant in the courthouse area of Vancouver to heat the group of great hotels and other large buildings should be encouraged, not only because it would assist the coal industry but because it would effect a great economy for those buildings.

Opposition members reminded Mr. McKenzie that he need not fear establishing a precedent by assisting the market problems of the coal industry, as the government similarly assisted extension of the lumber trade and had dispatched a market commissioner to England to assist the fruit industry.

WAGE BOARD

Operations of the minimum wage board prompted a discussion on the relationship of workers and employers when the Department of Labor estimates were under review.

Mr. Pearson suggested there should be some supplementary method of inquiring into the conditions of workers than under the Public Inquiries Act. A worker was placed in an invidious position when he had to testify that his working conditions were not satisfactory and faced, as a civil servant faced, the threat of being dismissed on the grounds of disloyalty.

G. A. Walkem, Conservative, Vancouver, said surely the individual employee did not have to testify, but this would be done through an association to which he belonged, and when Mr. Pearson replied that some workers had no such association and dare not belong to one Mr. Walkem replied that he could not imagine an employer in British Columbia refusing to receive representations from an association of employers.

Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie, asked if P.G.E. engineers were permitted to belong to a union, and was informed by Col. Nelson Spencer, a member of the board of directors, that there were no restrictions whatever.

NORTH INDIA QUIET DURING GANDHI MARCH

Chief Centre of Unrest as Campaign Proceeds Is Bombay District

Indian Nationalist Ranks in Bengal Described as Split Into Factions

Canadian Press Cable Via Reuter's

New Delhi, India, March 21.—A week has passed since Mahatma Gandhi and his seventy-nine followers marched out of Ahmadabad to tread the roads in their first stage of the "civil disobedience" campaign, yet reports from various parts of the country show no widespread movement for resistance to the power of the government.

In northern India the situation is peaceful, for Gandhi's crusade had had no repercussion there. Responsible citizens in the north apparently resent the manufacture of alarmist stories by the press. The United Provinces have so far made no response to the Nehru appeal for an early start of the campaign.

Bengal sees the members of the Indian National Congress rent into two factions, with small chance they will compose their differences for some time.

SITUATION IN BURMA

Burmese politics are divorced from Indian affairs save for a movement started by the Indian residents of Rangoon. This agitation resulted in a riot last Tuesday and 100 persons were injured. It was on the occasion of the trial of the Swarajist mayor of Calcutta on a charge of making seditious speeches on a visit to Burma.

The majority of the Burmese feel there is more to be gained by cooperating with the government with a view of securing autonomy than by becoming involved as partisans in Indian politics.

The Bombay Presidency, however, reveals a different picture. Unrest among the mill and railway workers is rife, with consequent disturbing of the peace and generation of a spirit of defiance toward constituted authority. Thanks to these favorable conditions, Nariam, who is Gandhi's lieutenant in the Presidency, hopes to organize a successful disobedience campaign.

The main force of Gandhi's movement is in Gujerat, where the Mahatma's influence counts for much.

SUPPORT FOUND

The government is finding support among Indian political parties in the Legislative Assembly. Although they are not prepared to array themselves openly on the side of the government, they appear anxious that Gandhi's movement should fail through lack of support and die of sheer neglect.

TWO SCIENTISTS SCORE GAIN IN ROYALTY CLAIM

U.S. Patent Office Gives Lowell and Dunmore Priority on All-electric Radio Sets

Washington, March 21.—Two young scientists, Percival D. Lowell and Francis W. Dunmore of Washington, have advanced a step nearer an estimated fortune of $20,000,000 in royalties on radio patents.

In a decision given yesterday by the examiner of interference of the United States Patent Office they were awarded priority in the invention of the "all-electric" radio receiving set which can be operated from house lighting circuits and without batteries.

Their claim had been contested by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, Wired Radio Inc., and Murad Radio Laboratories Inc.

It was a second victory for the young scientists, as they had previously been awarded a court decision in a suit against the Radio Corporation of America.

Canadian Dollar Is Just Below Par Now at New York

Canadian Press

New York, March 21.—The Canadian dollar was quoted on the New York money market at 1-32 of one per cent discount to-day, the second day in succession this nominal discount had prevailed. This is the lowest discount on Canadian funds since last fall and is a reflection of easier money and conditions here.

ISLAND LAUNCHING DRIVE FOR DIRECT RAILROAD TO PEACE BY SEYMOUR BRIDGE

PURPOSE OF ROCK

In preparation for the Victoria-Peace River Railway campaign, Mr. Williams recently led members of the association in a fight against Vancouver and shipping interests seeking to have the government remove Ripple Rock in the middle of Seymour Narrows. The local backers claimed that the rock was placed there by nature as the stepping stone for the piers to support the railway or auto bridge to give all-land connection between this Island and the mainland.

The railway proposals of the Island will be placed before Premier Tolmie and members of his cabinet before long, it was announced.

Mr. Williams explained that the new line by Homathko Pass and Seymour Narrows to Victoria, as can be seen on the map, will give a shorter railway outlet for the Peace River empire than any possible route derived from an extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and running down into the lower mainland ports. He also explained that the development is quite logical; that immediate use of Ripple Rock should be made in the interests of the Island, and the newly developed northeastern part of the province, as well as the central interior section through which the railway will pass, if the rock is to be saved.

It was pointed out that with the development of the Peace River empire the wheat exports from that district alone will make Victoria one of the greatest grain ports in Canada.

BROKER FIRM'S MANAGER IS ON WITNESS STAND

Handling of Stocks Described By Him at Solloway-Mills Hearing in Calgary

Canadian Press

Calgary, March 21.—Evidence that the fir mof Solloway, Mills and Company had accepted all the business which came its way in spite of the fact that "they had been swamped with orders in March and had never caught up," and that clients' orders which could not be executed on the floor of the exchange had been filed from the firm's house account featured this morning's session of the preliminary hearing of I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills here.

Allan Bury, assistant manager of the company's Calgary office, testified under examination by A. A. Smith, K.C., senior prosecution counsel, that the house account of Solloway, Mills and Company was the "short account" of the firm.

CLIENTS NOT DECEIVED

The witness described the relations between his firm and the Dominion Oil Exchange, operated by H. Jashunsky, and in reply to questioning by A. A. McGillivray, K.C., leading defence counsel, stated there were absolutely no arrangements between the two contrary to the interests of the clients or the rules of the Calgary Stock Exchange.

In reply to prosecution counsel, the witness said that when a buying order was received from a client every effort was made to secure the stock on the floor of the exchange, and only where this could not be done was the transaction put through the house account. In the event of clients demanding shares, these were supplied from the security box, and he could not say to whom they belonged.

Harold M. Kramer Dies in Chicago

Chicago, March 21.—Harold Morton Kramer, author and lecturer, dropped dead while telephoning in a Chicago south side drug store late yesterday evening.

Kramer was born in Frankfort, Ind., in 1875. He was an officer in the Spanish-American War and served with the Y.M.C.A. in France during the World War. His books, which were published from 1908 to 1919, included "Hearts and the Cross," "Gayle Langford," "The Castle of Dawn," "The Chrysalis," "The Rugged Way," and "With Seeing Eyes."

DR. F. A. COOK IS NAMED LEADER OF BOYS IN CHICAGO

Chicago, March 21.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, former Arctic explorer, who was recently paroled from the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, to-day became physical director of the Boys' Brotherhood Republic here.

Nine hundred boys cheered Dr. Cook yesterday evening as they made his a life member of the organization—an honor awarded only to two others, President Theodore Roosevelt and Mrs. Marshall Field.

The sixty-eight-year-old polar explorer, whose claim that he discovered the North Pole in 1909 was disputed by his former associate, Rear-Admiral Robert E. Peary, will establish a health centre at the republic headquarters here and at their summer camp at Burlington, Wis.

COMMONS TO HAVE HOLIDAY APRIL 11 TO 24

Easter Recess Motion Is Approved on Request of Premier King

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 21. — Parliament's Easter recess will be from April 11 till April 24.

In the Commons yesterday afternoon Premier King said the time seemed appropriate to determine the Easter recess. The government had thought the House should take at least a week at Easter. On consulting with the leader of the Conservative Party and leader of the U.F.A. group, however, it had been discovered either a longer or a shorter recess would be preferable. The government had finally concluded twelve days would perhaps meet the wishes of the majority of the members. He therefore moved that when the House adjourned on Friday, April 11, it should stand adjourned until Thursday, April 24.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, remarked that the session had opened rather late this year. Some of the members of the Conservative Party felt it would be wise to get along with the business as quickly as possible, and they were willing to shorten the Easter recess with this object.

The motion was carried.

TO SPEED UP BUSINESS

Premier King moved that on and after Monday, March 24, and all subsequent Mondays and Wednesdays till the end of the session, government notices of motion and government orders should have precedence over all other business, except questions and notices of motion for the production of papers and private bills on Mondays.

He said the private members already had been given a fair average of the time of the House. It was in the interest of private members that the government business was carried on.

Robert Gardiner, O.F.A. leader, thought it a mistake to take away private members' days before resolutions he described as standing in the names of private members, had been taken up. If the motion was adopted members of the U.F.A. group would have to take other means for bringing up these motions, he said.

The motion carried.

NAVY TREATY IS CITIZENS' HOPE

Ottawa, March 21.—Expressing confidence that a successful conclusion will be reached at the Naval Limitation Conference in London, a message was dispatched to Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence and Canada's representative, by the League of Nations Society in Canada. In his reply, Colonel Ralston says the assurance of confidence is both encouraging and timely.

CIVIL SERVICE APPOINTMENTS

Ottawa, March 21.—The preference now given to ex-service men in selections for civil service appointments would be modified if a bill of which Oscar L. Boulanger, M.P. for Bellechasse, Que., has given notice, should become law. Mr. Boulanger would limit the "preference" to Canadian-born soldiers. As to other appointments to the service, where now three years' continuous residence in Canada is called for, the bill would make it five years.

SIX ARE HELD FOR TRIAL ON BRIBERY MOVES

Los Angeles, March 21.—Six persons, three of the defendants and two of the jurors in the Julian Petroleum Corporation fraud trial fiasco, and a private detective, alleged jury fixer, were indicted yesterday by the grand jury here for bribery and bribery conspiracy.

Those indicted are:

S. C. Lewis, president of the oil company at the time a $100,000,000 stock over-issue caused its collapse in May, 1927, charged with bribery.

Louis Berman, an employee of the Julian firm, who was a defendant with Lewis, his brother, Jacob Berman, and seven others in the fraud trial during the spring of 1928, charged with bribery conspiracy.

Lewis, the Berman brothers, Groves and Grider were released under $5,000 bond each.

GUARDED BY POLICE

Lewis was indicted after J. H. Weaver, his alleged agent, had testified before the grand jury that he had bought the votes of three women jurors. Weaver was not indicted, but was given a heavy guard. He will testify against Lewis.

Mrs. Caroline Love, one of the women named by Weaver, who admitted she had agreed to accept $10,000 for her vote for acquittal of Lewis, still was held in technical custody, for her case is to be considered by the grand jury to-day.

Jacob Berman has been a principal in every criminal trial and investigation growing out of the stock over-issue.

EXTREMIST LABOR M.P.'S IN BRITAIN GIVEN WARNING

Canadian Press

London, March 21.—"Obey party decisions or get out." This was the ultimatum given by Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, at Wednesday's meeting of the Parliamentary Labor Party, details of which seeped out yesterday and to-day.

It was, according to all accounts, the stormiest meeting held for a long time. It was called to discuss the action of the twenty-two Laborites who divided the House of Commons on a motion of J. Beckett, Labor, Peckham, proposing abolition of the Air Force.

The rebels were at the meeting and Mr. Henderson did some plain speaking—not at all in the usual tenor of "Uncle Arthur." He said the rebels would next want to have the army abolished. Their whole attitude was opposed to the policy of the government, which favored disarmament through international agreement.

Mr. Henderson vigorously castigated those who tabled the Air Force abolition motion and caused the government the embarrassment of surprise.

Rt. Hon. John Wheatley, once a Labor minister and long an extremist, attacked the government for its alleged failure to carry out party decisions and its neglect of the opinions of those members who thought and acted as did Mr. Wheatley.

The meeting was adjourned for further discussion next week.

ALBERTA WANTS MORE TOURISTS

Edmonton, March 21.—Bona-fide tourists seeing Alberta by automobile may now operate their cars for as long as six months without having to take out Alberta licenses, according to an amendment to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act passed by the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

A "visitor's sticker" will be issued by the Alberta Provincial Police for cars registered by them, and this sticker will be considered sufficient for the licensing and registering of the auto to which it is affixed.

SENTENCE OF DEATH IMPOSED IN VANCOUVER

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 21.—"Guilty, with a very strong recommendation for mercy," was the verdict of an assize court jury here on the charge against Albert Wiser, twenty, of murder, arising out of the death in North Vancouver on November 9 last of forty-five-year-old Joe Chew Way, Chinese vegetable peddler.

Sentence of death was imposed by Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, who designated June 13 next and Oakalla Jail as the time and place of execution.

The jury of twelve men came to a verdict at 10.35 p.m. yesterday, after deliberating four hours and thirty-five minutes.

Outwardly, anyway, the convicted youth was the coolest and most collected person in the courtroom when he was asked by the judge whether he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him.

The silence was only broken by a woman's sob, and she finally broke down and was assisted from the courtroom.

"I would like to say a few words," replied Wiser to the judge. "I would like to say that the accused, McCreight, is not guilty."

Charles Melvin McCreight, nineteen, granted a separate trial, will be arraigned in assize court next Monday on the same charge on which Wiser was convicted.

AL CAPONE'S TWO BROTHERS HELD AT MIAMI

Miami Beach, Fla., March 21.—John and Albert Capone, said by police to be brothers of Alphonse (Scarface Al) Capone, were arrested with three other men following a raid by Sheriff M. P. Lehman of Dade County, and R. H. Wood, Miami Beach, chief of police, on Capone's palatial Palm Island residence here yesterday.

Sheriff Lehman raided the residence on a capias issued by Judge E. C. Collins of criminal court of record, based on affidavits of deputy sheriffs that they had seen liquor in the Capone home two weeks ago when they went there to search for Roy Nugent, a bond jumper.

The move was the only development yesterday in the search for "Scarface Al," reported earlier in the day by The Jacksonville Journal to have passed through Malabar, Florida, on his way to Miami.

FOUND LIQUOR

Officers in the raid found ten sacks and three bottles of liquor in a bathroom connected with Capone's suite, they said. In the kitchen refrigerator deputies said they found an iced bottle of champagne and in a closet off the kitchen two bottles of champagne and a bottle of wine.

WENT SWIMMING

Frankie Newton, said to be the caretaker of the residence, was arrested and charged with violating the national prohibition law. He informed deputies at the time of the raid that five men had left the place a short time before in bathing suits for a swim in the ocean.

Sheriff Lehman and Chief Wood left six officers outside the grilled gate of the home. The officers later arrested the two Capones and three other men who gave their names as James Vincent, Palm Island; Louis Cowen, Miami, and L. J. Brennan, Miami. The last two said they had "dropped in to pay a social call." Officers said they would be charged with vagrancy.

Frank H. Wharton, city manager, characterized the act as a "grandstand play," and said he was not in favor of sending Miami police officers out of the city unless there was a riot, and there was actual need for them by the sheriff.

AT INDIANAPOLIS MINE WORKERS CHEER FOR LEWIS

Indianapolis, Ind., March 21. — The United Mine Workers of America completed the business of their thirty-first constitutional convention here at 6.30 o'clock yesterday evening and adjourned after a wild ovation for International President John L. Lewis.

Just before adjournment the convention unanimously adopted a report of the scale committee recommending that every effort be made to have all contracts in the bituminous field expire on the same date, and that an attempt be made to have the contracts about to be negotiated expire April 1, 1932.

The delegates also unanimously adopted the recommendations of the committee that all resolutions bearing on the anthracite scale matter be referred to the proper authority in Districts 1, 7 and 9, for consideration and disposition. By proper authority the committee referred to the tri-district executive boards, the tri-district convention and the scale committee.

The convention, in adopting the report, pledged its "moral and financial assistance to the anthracite mine workers in their efforts to secure consummation of an agreement that will protect and advance the best interests of the mine workers of Districts 1, 7 and 9."

Urged Marler Speak For This Country in China

By PERCY WHITEING,
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

Tokio, Japan, March 21.—The Canadian Legation here knows nothing concerning the suggestion of Dr. C. C. Wu, Chinese Minister to the United States, that Hon. Herbert Marler, Canadian Minister to Japan, also be appointed Canadian Minister to China. Dr. Wu also advocates the appointing of a Chinese Minister to Canada, in view of the growing importance of the relations between Canada and China.

It is taken here that Dr. Wu, in making his suggestion, voiced the desire of his government. The suggestion has aroused considerable interest in the capital of Japan.

Port Alberni, March 20.—Mrs. Stanley Raybone left on Friday for Victoria, where she will visit as the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. Richards, Blanchard Street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Cozens were bridge hosts Thursday evening when their guests included: Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. S. Raybone, Mrs. Jock Watson, Stewart Carter and David Cozens.

Mrs. Marion Arnold has returned to the city, to be the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Pendleton, at Marpole Hill, after spending the last three months at Akron, Ohio.

Mrs. E. A. Waterhouse has returned home after a short visit to Victoria.

Final plans were made for the forthcoming St. Patrick's tea to be held this week, at the regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the West Coast Hospital, which took place on Friday last. It was decided to consider the formation of a junior auxiliary, to affiliate with the senior organization, and Mrs. Gordon Campbell was appointed as organizer.

Harold E. Murray, principal of the Central Public School, has announced that a repeat performance of "Ali Baba," which was produced here last week with phenomenal success, will be given at the Hirst Hall at Parksville on Friday evening, March 21.

Tom Paterson, an employee of Flanagan's Meat Market, got his hand caught in a sausage-making machine and had the end taken off of the middle finger of his left hand Monday evening.

The progressive crib tournament held under the auspices of the amalgamated fraternal societies in the Elks Hall on Tuesday evening was not as largely attended as the previous week, but some very interesting games took place, first prize being won by J. Stewart and S. Croll with a score of 121, while the consolation was won by S. W. Walters and D. Gailliford with a score of 54. Next Tuesday will in all probability be the last one of the season, and will be held in the Masonic Building.

DRY LEADER IN U.S. TAKES NEW RAP AT PRESS

Senator Jones of Washington State Issues Prohibition Statement

Washington, March 21.—Holding the press lacked sympathy with the prohibition laws, Senator Wesley Jones of Washington, a Republican dry leader and author of the Jones Enforcement Act, yesterday issued a compendium of opinions of citizens in United States and Canada which he called "the voice of the multitude."

Jones asserted that "the last and greatest factor" in enforcement difficulties was the "attitude of many newspapers, which, so it seems, publish everything which may be unfavorably construed."

Charging that this, "apparent lack of sympathy was causing "the encouragement of crime," Jones said "the general public is no longer dependent upon newspapers for correct information, as there are now many other sources available," adding:

"The newspapers are to a great extent considered to be expressive of the idea of ordinary people, though whether or not the newspapers are the ideas of the American people at this period of history of our country is problematical."

The statement quoted many expressions from people which Jones said he had received in response to a radio address. He did not make public their names.

Anti-smuggling Measure Is To Prevent Incidents

Ottawa, March 21.—Premier King, answering a question of Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, declared that his words, when in the Commons last week he introduced the measure to stop liquor clearances, should not be interpreted as statement that the United States had threatened Canada in any way in this regard.

No threats had been made, Mr. King emphasized, but no one could tell when an international situation might develop in connection with liquor smuggling which might be embarrassing because of government officials being brought into it through the issuance of permits and clearances to vessels.

LUMBER DUTIES

THE DUTY ON LUMBER ADOPTED BY the United States Senate yesterday has a long way to go before it can become law, since it must be accepted by the House of Representatives and pass a formidable barrage of opposition which up to this time has been strong enough to head it off. The fact that even in the Senate it was adopted by only one vote shows how sharply this issue is being fought.

A significant development in the Senate proceedings was the acceptance of a proposal from Senator Copeland of New York which exempts Canada from the proposed duty increase if Canada will cancel its duty on lumber imported from the United States. Canada for years has had a duty of twenty-five per cent. against dressed lumber imported from the United States, while Canadian lumber entered the United States free of duty. This condition furnished a handy weapon for the advocates of a duty on lumber across the line, and they have not been slow in using it.

If the Senate action in regard to lumber is concurred in by the House of Representatives and the duty goes into effect, the next move will have to be from Canada. Our lumbermen either will have to consent to the removal of the duty now charged by Canada against United States lumber or reconcile themselves to the new charge against their lumber entering the United States. They cannot have it both ways. If they had taken the advice of some of their number and urged Ottawa to remove the duty against lumber imports from the United States, it is doubtful if the Senate would have included a similar provision in the tariff yesterday.

A GROWING BUSINESS

IN A RECENT ESTIMATE BY ERNEST N. Smith of the American Automobile Association we are told that in a very few years Canada's tourist business will be worth half a billion dollars.

Only in the last decade have we in Canada given really serious thought to the value of the holiday business. It was one of those sources of revenue in pre-war days, for instance, that was permitted to look after itself. But a considerable change has taken place. It has become a national business. The Department of the Interior is actively concerned about its development, and its periodical bulletins devote as much space to the discussion of it as they do to the many other phases of its ramified operations as a branch of the Dominion public service. Provincial and municipal organizations, too, are bending their efforts toward the same end.

How long it will be before Mr. Smith's estimate of half a billion dollars is reached will depend upon certain economic circumstances on this continent. In 1928 Canada took $250,000,000 from tourists, and when the complete returns for last year have been compiled, it is expected that the total will reach $300,000,000. At that rate, therefore, and as our many and varied attractions become more widely known, not only in America, but in Europe, less than five years from now we should be able to put down $500,000,000 as the value of this business.

OF AN ANCIENT LINE

WHEN SIR RONALD LINDSAY, NEWly-appointed British ambassador to the United States, reached the neighboring republic the other day, he was asked by newspapermen what part of England he came from. He admitted, according to the Canadian Press dispatch, that "the Lindsays were an old family in Scotland." Here is something about his ancestors during the last four centuries:

The sixth Earl was slain on Flodden field.

The twenty-sixth Earl of Crawford — Ronald Lindsay's father—was president of the Royal Astronomical Society, and a famous collector of manuscripts.

The twenty-seventh Earl of Crawford—Ronald Lindsay's uncle—is a trustee of the National Gallery in London; has written a book on Donatello; is an authority on Italian art; and served as Lord of the Privy Seal in Lloyd George's government.

One commentator has not been able to resist the temptation of suggesting that if Mrs. Molly Gann and Alice Roosevelt Longworth found something to scrap about in the order of precedence when the state guest was Sir Esme Howard — the head of whose house, the Duke of Norfolk, was the premier duke in England—what sort of a social upheaval may be expected over a British ambassador whose father, the twenty-sixth Earl of Crawford, was the premier Earl of Scotland.

THE TIMBER TAX

MR. PATTULLO HAS WARNED THE government that if it increases the assessment on crown granted timber to meet the loss of revenue occasioned by the judgment of the Privy Council which declares an export tax on logs from crown granted lands to be illegal, it will force owners to cut more rapidly and glut a market that could find relief only in shipping the surplus to the United States. Attorney-General Pooley agreed with the leader of the opposition in this contention. But in his opinion it could not be helped; there was no other way of meeting the loss—an annual revenue of something like $200,000.

As a way out of the difficulty, Mr. Pattullo suggested that since the government could not impose a royalty, it might suggest to owners of this crown granted timber that they voluntarily agree to pay a royalty—not as high as a license—when the timber was cut. If they refused, however, the government would be justified in increasing the assessment, as he understood it contemplated doing. But it would have to be remembered, the opposition leader advised the Legislature, that if carrying charges were increased, the answer of the owners would be accelerated cutting. He regards a heavy carrying charge on standing timber as an unsound policy. Increased cutting of logs, of course, means that more of them would be ground up in the mills of the United States, to be followed by British Columbia citizens in search of employment in their manufacture.

Mr. Pooley's admission that Mr. Pattullo had correctly stated the danger that would attend the proposed increased assessment is interesting at this stage. It is sharply in conflict with the attitude the party to which he belongs adopted when it was in opposition. We recall how Mr. Hinchliffe and Mr. Davie on every possible occasion roundly scored the Minister of Lands and the government of which he was a member for permitting logs to leave the province in an unmanufactured state, notwithstanding the fact that they were of a class for which there was no demand at all on this side of the line, that if they had remained in the province they would merely have been food for the teredos. Yet not a voice on the government side was raised in alarm at the prospect of an increased export of logs which the new policy raises. Verily we have heard the last wail on this subject from the members on the government side of the House—until they get into opposition again.

SUPPLYING THE ARGUMENT

NO MORE TELLING ARGUMENT IS required to support the proposal of radio control by the national government than the arrogant manner in which at least one Toronto station is using the air to belittle it. It has ridiculed the findings of the Aird Commission and abused the newspapers which have supported its recommendations.

The people of this country are unanimous in their desire for high-class radio entertainment. They certainly do not want to listen to propaganda, especially if that propaganda takes the form of abuse of governments when matters of important public interest are under discussion. The case in point in Toronto is a fair illustration of some of the worst possibilities of privately-owned broadcasting. Special privilege would dearly like to lay its hand on broadcasting as it has on many other things.

THE ADVENTURES OF A COW

SOLOMON WAS QUITE WRONG. There is always something new under the sun. If you doubt it, consider how a cow at St. Louis was enticed into an aeroplane, carried high above the earth and there milked, surrounded by pilots, white clouds and limitless space.

The milk, we learn, was put in buckets and tossed out of the window—the buckets being attached to parachutes so that they might come down properly.

All of this is highly instructive and not a little amusing. But the part that would interest us most of all is precisely the part about which we can never find out anything. It is: what did the cow think of it all? Surely she must have thought something. The cow that jumped over the moon had nothing on her.

INDIAN INDEPENDENCE
The Boston Transcript

The ultimate demand of the Indian Congress is "complete independence"—but what does independence mean for a region where Hindoos and Mahometans in millions hate each other more bitterly than either one of them hates the English, and where autonomous kings, princes and rajahs, all of different races and languages, with their quite loyal people, care more for their local self-rule, secured to them by the British authority, than for any dream of all-Indian independence?

WHAT THE PUBLIC WANTS
Y. Y. in The New Statesman

What the public wants and has always wanted is to be taught what to want. The public has a wavering mind, which responds readily to those who have stronger minds than its own. A public that at one time did not want Mr. Ramsay MacDonald as a private member of parliament wanted him a few years later as Prime Minister. A public that once wanted Mr. Bernard Shaw so little that the mere mention of his name was exasperating, now wants him to such an extent that he has made a large fortune out of his plays. Yet Mr. Shaw did not set out to give the public the plays it wanted. . . . . In literature, as in social life, it is often those who set out to please who end by pleasing least.

Across the Bay

The Seventeenth Legislature suddenly realizes that it is sunk—it abandons all hope of going home this week—but cheers up when it is immortalized on the front steps—and dined on Mr. Lougheed's famous moose.

By H. B. W.

THERE CAN be no more doubt it. There is no use disguising it any longer. Let us face it with what fortitude we can. The Seventeenth Legislature of British Columbia is sunk—utterly and without trace.

* * *

YESTERDAY, YOU will say, this column said nothing of that kind. Yesterday this column said the Premier had looked at Mr. Pattullo, and Mr. Pattullo had looked at the Premier, and the session, by a mystical process known only to us here, would die before the end of the week. Yesterday that was true. To-day it is not true. Not this column but the Legislature has changed. Before it was going to wind up on Saturday. Now all hope of such a consummation has sped. We are here to stay for some time yet and once we get past the week-end no one knows how long it may be.

* * *

HOW THIS fate has come upon us no one can explain. No one decided that we should not go home this week. No one deliberately held us up. No one wanted to remain here an hour longer than necessary. But some how, all of a sudden, in the middle of Thursday afternoon everyone realized with a start that nothing could save us. Having realized that, the House made no further attempt to defy the destinies of politics and took its time. In such a humor it may easily go on for another full week. But, as Premier Tolmie is always careful to say when he promises anything to the opposition, all these forecasts are made with reservations. This session is quite capable of collapsing before these words are printed just to prove that this column has been wrong again.

* * *

THURSDAY STARTED mildly enough in the morning with Minister of Public Works Lougheed introducing his new road programme with an able speech and the government introducing new legislation galore. At the luncheon hour immediately afterwards occurred an event which seemed to put everyone in a good humor for the rest of the day. At the luncheon hour the members of the Seventeenth Legislature assembled on the front steps and there immortalized themselves by a photograph which will show their likenesses to all generations. Later on in the day this photograph duly appeared in the House delighting all those who were in it.

* * *

IN THE centre of it sat Mr. Speaker Jones under his three-cornered black hat and his robes so closely wrapped about him that he seemed to have nothing beneath them and all future generations will suppose that he was garbed in a black night shirt. Beside him sat all the cabinet ranged out in a semi-circle of chairs for all the world like a minstrel show, appropriately enough with Mr. Maitland as the end man. From the front where the camera stood the Seventeenth Legislature looked like forty-eight jolly souls without a care in the world. From a window in the buildings behind and far above, however, this observer discovered that the stress of politics, and a too devoted attention to public duties has left the Seventeenth Legislature of British Columbia almost entirely bald. Such a collection of bald heads probably has not been gathered together in one place before.

* * *

THUS CHEERED by its new-found immortality, the House settled down to spend the afternoon on a high plane, utterly oblivious to the need of finishing this job by Saturday night. Thus, at a time like this in the session, Mr. Pearson of Nanaimo, who is a sincere and able man, and believes in the fundamental goodness of this assembly, began to talk on higher economics, the place of machinery in our civilization, and where our race is in the next century. As the House is interested only in where it is going in the next forty-eight hours Mr. Pearson's remarks, while excellent and probably more important than most of the remarks made this session, made only a small dent in our collective consciousness. Mr. Uphill followed along the same line with a red-hot labor speech in which he found that our whole economic system was collapsing. This members could well believe, having already spent most of their sessional indemnity already.

* * *

ALL THIS, it should be explained, took place when Minister of Mines McKenzie presented his annual estimates. Mr. McKenzie was generous with explanations and patient with the opposition. He told how he would spend every dollar granted to him by the House, outlined his policy on every matter coming before his department, and was so agreeable that, before we knew it, dinner time had come.

* * *

NOW IT should be said, without breaking any confidences, that this was no ordinary dinner time. This, indeed, was a historic occasion for Minister of Works Lougheed and Provincial Secretary Howe were giving a dinner for the entire House, regardless of party, and it was such a dinner as the House has never sat down to at any time within living memory. The House even received from Mr. Lougheed sumptuous portions of that famous moose which he shot on the road to old Barkerville last autumn and this, with the sparkling wit of Johnny Mitchell, of Kamloops, made the party forever memorable.

* * *

THE HOUSE still being in a good humor after this function, the government continued to rain legislation upon it. No less than twelve new bills brought down during the day until Dr. Sutherland of Revelstoke vowed that they reminded him of a bride's linen chower and Mr. Manson ventured the dismal prediction that we should not leave these premises until after July 1. Such a surgitation of new bills at this stage of the session is typical of governments whose pleasant habit it is to make prorogation on time almost impossible.

* * *

LATER ON in the evening we plunged into the drugless healing question which has appeared little on the surface, but which, behind the scenes has caused more grief to the average member than any other issue this session. Thrown out on a technical point and not on their merits, drugless healers or a group of them, sought to legalize themselves by other legislation and they found an extremely able champion in Mr. Twigg of Victoria. Mr. Twigg's speech demanding justice for all such people and freedom for the public was one of the best efforts the House has heard in a long time.

* * *

THIS DEBATE found the House more like its real self than any other discussion of the session. Free of any party affiliation on this great issue, every member spoke and voted as he liked and as his conscience dictated. Conservative clashed with Conservative, Liberal with Liberal, and some ungodly people thought that the House might reach wiser decisions if it always worked on such a basis. We had a moving speech from Mr. Manson which had the Conservative benches thundering their applause, a logical speech from Mr. Ian Mackenzie which eventually seemed to open the way out of the entire problem via a royal commission inquiry into drugless healing, and an impassioned address from Mr. Maitland which made the Liberal benches rock with approval. Never has the House in recent times seen party lines split so wide open, and never did it go home to bed with a clearer conscience.

SUBDIVISION NO LONGER TO BAR COMPLAINT

Assessment Relief For Farmers Will Aid Saanich Landowners

Farmers cultivating subdivided tracts in Gordon Head and other areas of Saanich adjacent to the city will receive substantial tax relief under new legislation which sets agricultural worth as basis of valuing farm lands for assessment, according to Robert Baird, Inspector of Municipalities. Benefit will especially apply to scores of farmers of tracts of five acres or more who have hitherto been refused reduction in assessment because the lands were technically divided in smaller blocks than three acres.

Plans filed at the Land Registry Office will no longer have the effect of barring application for reduced assessments, a condition which has often occurred in Saanich in recent years.

Substantial acreage in adjoining properties used for the same purposes have been assessed differently because one block was mapped in tracts of three or more acres while the other farm was mapped in smaller parcels.

NEW PRINCIPLE

Mr. Baird remarked this morning "There has never been legislation of this character. There has been authority for reductions in assessment values, but it was of permissive character. This new measure is mandatory on all assessors. There should be no trouble experienced by Saanich property owners affected in obtaining the reduced assessment contemplated, and therewith substantial relief in taxation."

Who Is Your Skinny Friend, Ethel?

Tell him that thousands of thin, puny, peaked, scrawny men all over America have improved their physical health and appearance and bless the day they first heard of these wonderful sugar coated tablets so full of weight producing vitamines.

Ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets. MacFarlane Drug Co., Vancouver Drug Co., Owl Drug Co. and every druggist worthy of the name sells them—60 tablets—60 cents. Any thin man or woman can put on five pounds of healthy flesh in 30 days or your druggist will willingly refund the purchase price.

One woman put on 15 pounds in six weeks. Children grow robust and strong—feeble old people feel younger in a few weeks. (Advt.)

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, March 21, 1905

Mention was made in The Times yesterday of the sale of coal lands in northern British Columbia to the Grand Trunk Pacific. Official confirmation of the sale was received just too late for publication yesterday. The company will be known as the Bulkley and Telqua Valley Coal Company, capitalized at $1,000,000. The organization has for its object the mining for coal in northern British Columbia and more particularly in the Bulkley and Telqua Valleys.

* * *

* * *

The Legislature to-day went through the assessment bill in committee, passing the non-contentious sections and leaving a number over for consideration at a later time.

* * *

Three thousand tons of general cargo, of which about 600 tons are for Victoria, arrived here to-day on the steamer Hyades from China and Japan. The voyage of the ship was marked with stormy weather.

* * *

The Tyee Copper Company's smelter at Ladysmith ran twenty-three days during the month of February, handling 5,325 tons of Tyee ore and giving a return, after a deduction of freight and refining charges, of $76,393.

* * *

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Tourist Association is being held this afternoon. A number of important matters are before the members in connection with literature being issued and the canvass for subscriptions now in progress.

* * *

The season of 1905 promises to mark a turning point in the history of the Victoria Lacrosse Club. Last evening's annual meeting demonstrated conclusively that the players are in earnest and that no stone will be left unturned in the effort to organize a twelve sufficiently strong to bring the championship back to Vancouver Island.

* * *

The City Council will devote $1,000 to the building of a permanent sidewalk on the north side of Belleville Street between Menzies Street and Birdcage Walk, and in the improvement of the embankment leading down to the water from the proposed walk.

* * *

The battalion parade of the Fifth Regiment at the drill hall last evening passed off very satisfactory in spite of the unfavorable weather. While the attendance of some companies was much smaller than it should have been, other companies showed up creditably.

HOPE TO FORM PLANE CLUB

Vernon, B.C., March 21.—It has been found that the chief obstacle to the formation of an aeroplane club in Vernon is the regulation of the Government that the $8,000 bonds must be furnished by three citizens. The purpose here was to divide this among a large number of citizens. All other requirements can be easily met.

When Food Sours

Sweeten the stomach—instantly

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore. (Advt.)

ROTARY TOLD TOOTH DECAY PREVENTIBLE

Dr. Varon Smith Reviews Progress Made in Dental Knowledge

Preventive dentistry was advocated by Dr. Varon Smith before the Rotary Club yesterday at the weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel. Dr. Smith stated that dentistry had been practiced by the Egyptians more than 4,000 years before Christ, but the great strides had been made in the last twenty years, since the basic discovery of focal infection had been made in the Old Country.

He declared that decay could be kept out of the mouth if taken early enough and the patient treated properly.

COST THE SAME

Only one person in 3,000 inherited the perfect glands which assure perfect teeth, said Dr. Smith. The average man had the choice between spending a certain amount on his teeth in painless, timely preventive work or spending about the same amount in remedial work too late to be of value. The former would have comfort and teeth until advanced years, while the negligent would acquire personal discomfort and a collection of discarded plates for the same expenditure, the Rotarians were told.

Admitting that his advocacy of preventive dentistry did not apply to adults past their prime, Dr. Smith urged in conclusion: "Do not tell your crying child: 'For goodness sake stop that or I'll take you to the dentist.'"

SPEEDOMETER EXPLAINED

C. Dowman gave an explanation of the construction of the automobile speedometer, demonstrating the delicate magnetic dial control with a stripped instrument which was passed around the tables.

Miss Adele Bucklin was accorded rounds of applause at the conclusion of a group of violin selections. She was accompanied by Miss Eileen Dumbleton.

Salt Spring

A big crowd attended the Fulford Frolicers' Kids' Night Out, on St. Patrick's night, Monday, March 17, held in the Institute Hall at Fulford Harbor. The hall presented a beautiful appearance with decorations of green and white streamers, green shamrocks and masses of lilies with foliage which filled the front of the stage and every available space. Each person was presented with a big paper shamrock leaf which bore a number on the back, giving them chances for the tombola prizes. Novelty dances took place at intervals for which prizes were offered. All the young people and many of the older ones, were attired as small children, some of the dresses of the latter causing much hilarity. D. Tweedhope acted as floor manager. Supper was prepared and served by the young people. Prize winners were: Spotlight dance, first, Miss Sylvia Trage and Gordon Ruckers; second, Miss Tillie Akerman and Harry Caldwell; spoon and potato dance, Miss Edna Morris and Fred Morris; exhibition two-step, first, Mr. and Mrs. Larson; second, Miss E. M. Shaw and Major Drummond; lucky card dance, Mrs. Tweedhope and Gerald Hamilton; statue dance, Miss Dorothy Gynes and Miss Eileen Cearley; serpentine dance winners were: Mrs. V. Prils and Clifford Lee and Miss Wilson and V. Douglas. The young people gave a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Cearley, Mrs. Mollett, Mrs. Akerman and Mr. Tweedhope for help. Eaton's orchestra was in attendance.

Mrs. A. J. Eaton, of the White House, Fulford Harbor, was tea hostess Sunday afternoon, in honor of her sister, Miss K. Smith, who left on Tuesday for the Old Country. Among those present were: Mrs. T. M. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Tassel, Mr. and Mrs. Lacey, Mr. and Mrs. Emslie, Mrs. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. J. Horel, Mr. and Mrs. and the Misses Shaw, Major Drummond, the Misses Ena and Violet Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. P. Horel, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gyves, Mrs. and the Misses Akerman, Mrs. W. Cearley, Mrs. T. Isherwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stewart and others.

Mrs. J. Reid left on Tuesday for Vancouver where she will spend a holiday with friends.

Salmon and grilse are runing well now in Fulford Harbor. Mrs. T. Isherwood and Miss Evelyn Jackson caught two fine salmon in less than half an hour on Tuesday evening, and hooked a big fish on Wednesday morning.

C. Nelson, Ganges, left on Tuesday for Vancouver.

Mr. Peters Sr., of Cowichan Lake, is the guest of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Peter, Ganges Hil.

Rev. G. W. Dean Returned on Monday from Vancouver, where he was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Abbott, of Long Harbor, went to Victoria on Monday, and are guests at the Dominion Hotel.

Mrs. Harcus, of New Westminster, is the guest for a week of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Reid, of Booth's Canal.

O. Garner returned on Monday to Ganger from Vancouver, where he has been spending a holiday.

Mrs. G. J. Mouat, Ganges, accompanied by her small daughter, Peggy, and son, Malcolm, are visiting friends in Victoria.

Miss McPhail, of Victoria, is the guest for a few weeks of her aunt, Mrs. J. Akerman, Beaver Point Road, South Salt Spring Island.

The Salt Spring Island Badminton Club played the Fulford club on Tuesday at Fulford, the results being a win for the Ganges players, 10-5. The Ganges players were: Mr. and Mrs. V. Case-Morris, Miss Moorhouse, Miss Blon, Miss Doreen Crofton and Messrs. Dermont Crofton, Cecil Springford and Eric Springford. Those playing for Fulford were: the Misses Ena and Violet. Hamilton, E. M. Shaw and Gladys Shaw, Messrs. Claude Hamilton, A. Davis, Gerald Jackson and Captain Drummond. Following the game, refreshments were served by the Fulford club.

The property of the late J. Scovel at Ganges, was recently purchased by W. A. Brown, of Quathiaska Cove, who intends making his home there.

A small property adjoining the Golf Course, belonging to A. H. Robinson, has also changed hands, the purchaser being Mrs. C. S. Macintosh.

The grass hockey match between Ganges and Duncan at Duncan, resulted in a draw 5-5. Those playing for Ganges were: the Misses Mabel Harris, Denise Crofton and Nancy Elliott; Messrs. Dermot and Desmond Crofton, R. Price, Eric Springfold, Pease, Baldwin, Hilton and P. Crofton Garvin C. Mouat, of Ganges, is visiting his uncle, Gavin Mouat Sr., at Spokane. They will leave later for a visit to California.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ells and family from Duncan, are visiting relatives on Salt Spring Island for a week or two.

The Ganges junior hockey team, at the Mahon Hall grounds on Saturday, defeated the team from St. Margaret's School, Duncan, by a score of 3-1. This is the first time the St. Margaret's team have been beaten this season and the game finished amidst great excitement.

The Guild of Sunshine held their monthly meeting on Saturday afternoon in the Guild room at Ganges, with fifteen members present. A class for fancy stitching and smocking was held prior to the business meeting. One new member was proposed and accepted. The members are planning a daffodil tea for April 16, to be held at the home of the president, Mrs. G. J. Mouat. There will be stalls for home-made cooking and candy, plants and bulbs and miscellaneous articles. Afternoon tea will be served and a musical programme is being arranged.

Mrs. F. Hall and small son who have been spending a week on Salt Spring Island, with Mrs. Hall's sister, Mrs. E. Parsons left on Monday for their home in Victoria.

Mr. Case-Morris, of Fernwood, North Salt Spring Island, returned on Friday evening from Victoria.

Mrs. Ogden, of Pasadena, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mouat of Ganges.

Mrs. Stanley Wagg and daughter, Norma, left on Monday for Victoria, where they will stay with relatives for a few weeks.

Mrs. A. F. Eaton, Fulford, spent a day or two in Victoria this week.

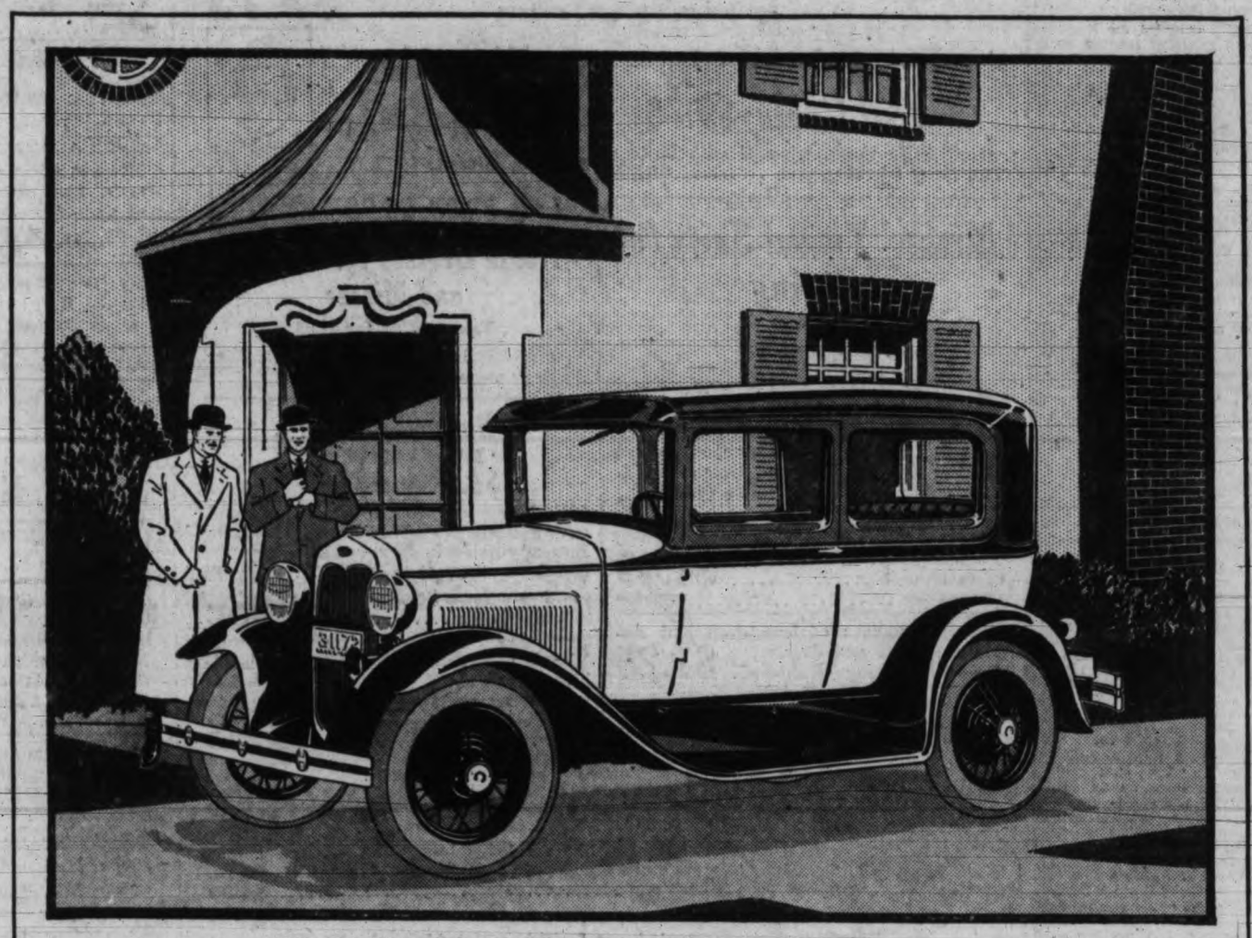
OUTSTANDING VALUE AND PERFORMANCE



THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

Simplicity of design, excellence of material and accuracy in manufacturing are reflected in the speed, power, safety, comfort, economy and reliability of the new Ford

ONE of the most significant points about the introduction of the new Ford bodies is the manner in which new beauty has been added to outstanding performance without increase in price. Following the established Ford policy, the savings resulting from economies in manufacturing and distribution are being passed on to the public in increased value.

These new bodies, in fact, are but one of the many features that make the new Ford such a satisfactory car to own and drive. For beneath this new beauty — in those hidden, vital mechanical parts which you may never see — is an excellence of material and craftsmanship unusual in a low-price car.

The following partial list of Ford features shows the high quality that has been built into the car . . . fully enclosed, silent four-wheel brakes . . . four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers . . . Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield . . . exceptionally large number of ball and roller bearings . . . extensive use of fine steel forgings instead of castings or stampings . . . aluminum pistons . . . chrome silicon alloy valves . . . chrome alloy transmission gears and shaft . . . torque-tube drive . . . three-quarter floating rear axle . . . and Rustless Steel head lamps, radiator shell, hub caps, cowl finish strip, radiator cap, gasoline tank cap and tail lamp.

The unusual accuracy of Ford manufacturing methods is shown in the close limits of measurement maintained in making vital parts.

The aluminum pistons, for instance, are held true to within one one-thousandth of an inch of the specified diameter of 3⅞ inches. The connecting rod is not permitted to exceed a variation of more than four one-thousandths of an inch in length. Every crankshaft is statically and dynamically balanced, with a minimum of 174 checks for accuracy. Many of these checks are to limits of one one-thousandth of an inch — others to five ten-thousandths of an inch — and still others to three ten-thousandths of an inch.

Keep this mechanical, structural superiority in mind, therefore, when considering the unusual value of the new Ford. It is the reason for the safety, comfort, speed, acceleration, economy and long-lived reliability of the car—for its outstanding performance under all conditions.

NEW VETERANS' PENSION ACT IS NOW APPROVED

Commons Gives Hon. J. H. King's Bill Second Reading; Sent to Committee

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 21.—The first measure for the assistance of war veterans offered by the government at this session is now ready for consideration by the pensions committee of the Commons. Without a division, the House yesterday gave second reading to the measure termed "An Act Respecting War Veterans' Allowances."

At the committee sessions members of returned soldiers' organizations and others will have an opportunity to express their views with respect to it, as well as in regard to other proposal for relief of the returned men.

Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions and National Health, made it clear in the course of the debate yesterday afternoon that further legislation designed to aid returned men will be introduced later in the session if the committee so recommends.

He stated this in answer to a suggestion by one speaker that the present bill was the single legislative proposal for relief of war veterans the government intended to bring down.

OLD AGE PAYMENTS

The bill which occupied the House at such length yesterday received its first reading March 4.—It provides for payment of an allowance or pension to all veterans who have attained the age of sixty-five years and are "permanently unemployable. (Under the Old Age Pensions Act the age is seventy.) The maxium allowance payable under the bill to a married man caring for a wife and children will be $40 a month. For a single man the maximum is fixed at $20 a month. A number of limitations respecting the reduction in the amount to be paid when the veteran is in receipt of an income, etc., are set forth in the bill.

TO FORM COMMITTEE

It also provides for the creation of a new organization to be known as the "War Veterans' Allowance Committee" to perform certain duties set forth in the measure. It will be a departmental committee made up of the Deputy Minister and the Assistant Deputy Minister of the Department of Pensions and National Health, and not more than five nor less than three other members to be appointed from the staff of the same department.

It is provided the act shall come into effect on the first day of next September.

GUIDED BY REPRESENTATIONS

Hon. J. H. King declared this legislation should not be considered in the same way as pensions legislation. The principles of the latter were well known and should not be disturbed other than by a special committee.

In its decisions with regard to pensions legislation the department had been guided to a great extent by resolutions which had been passed by the Canadian Legion and other ex-soldier bodies. It was due to such representations that it had been decided to make special provision for returned men who were prematurely aged.

Answering Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, Dr. King said the membership of the Canadian Legion was between 70,000 and 80,000.

Brig.-Gen. J. A. Clark, Conservative, Vancouver-Burrard, asked if Dr. King though the matter of pensions could be better dealt with by the department than by the Board of Pensions Commissioners.

Dr. King replied he would not suggest that, but he would say that in the past Parliament had not been sufficiently willing to accept responsibility in such matters.

NOT BREAKING UP HOMES

The present proposal had been decided upon in preference to providing homes for certain types of returned men. The feeling was it was better not to break up homes.

"I am not anxious in regard to the matter of administration," said Dr. King.

He pointed out returned soldiers themselves had indicated they did not want this act administered by the Board of Pensions Commissioners or the Federal Appeal Board. Another advantage was that the officers of the department throughout the various provinces would provide the machinery for dealing with the matter.

BENNETT SPEAKS

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, said there were two principles in the bill to which he objected. One was that dealing with the assistance to veterans, and the second was the method in distributing that assistance. War veterans must be sixty-five years old in order to receive the allowance, but if they were younger than that, he said, their case must be approved by a committee which was political in character. He said he wished to object to that feature inasmuch as such committee would have to deal with over ninety per cent of the veterans. With regard to the amount paid, it was a matter of detail which involved the acceptance of a condition that no applicant should be compelled to put forward—that of impoverishment, he said. If such an applicant based his plea on a physical disability he got his pension, but in this case the plea would have to be based on a condition of poverty.

L. J. Ladner, Conservative, Vancouver South, urged amendment of the Pensions Act so as to shift the onus of proof from the returned man.

DICKIE SPEAKS

The same stand was taken by C. H. Dickie, Conservative, Nanaimo. He said that on Vancouver Island a number of soldier settlers had striven vainly but earnestly to make good. They had been able to work only a few hours a day. To look at them it was unnecessary to inquire whether their disabilities were due to war services. That much was apparent to those who had known them before the war, he said.

Where there was any reasonable doubt, declared A. M. Dunn, Liberal, Saskatoon, the returned man should be given the benefit of that doubt. He had no complaint to make against the Pensions Board but there were cases when he felt the soldier had not been given such a benefit.

GLOVES GIVEN BY QUEEN VICTORIA WILL AID FUNDS

Mrs. Catherine Fenwick Gives Charming Royal Souvenirs to Cathedral Bazaar

Tw opairs of dainty white kid gloves, exquisitely hand-embroidered, which were presented by Queen Victoria to the mother of a Victoria resident, will be included among the fascinating wares offered for sale at the antique stall which is to be a feature of the forthcoming dollar bazaar arranged by the Women's Parish Guild of Christ Church Cathedral on April 9, at the Memorial Hall.

These charming relics of the past were given by her late Majesty to the mother of Mrs. Catherine Fenwick of the Hibbon-Bone Building, Government Street. One is a long pair of gloves, embroidered on the backs of the hands and around the wrists with finest hand-embroidered pastel silks, while the short pair are embroidered on the backs in a nelaborate design in silver thread. Beyond the tarnishing of the silver thread, the gloves are in wonderful condition and have evidently been carefully preserved.

PHEASANT FEATHER CAPE

Mrs. Fenwick, in her desire to help the cause of the new Cathedral, has given these charming heirlooms, which are redolent of "lavender and old lace," to Mrs. W. Finmore, who, with her husband will have charge of the "'Arry and 'Arriet 'Arris Hantigue Stall' at the bazaar.

Another gift made to the stall by Mrs. Fenwick is an exquisitely-made little cape fashioned entirely of pheasant's feathers. This litle pelerine, which once graced the slender shoulders of a lady of fashion in the mid-Victorian era, is composed almost entirely of the "eye" feathers, with the tiny reddish-brown neck feathers as a trimming, plucked from pheasants which were shot on an estate in Devonshire, England. It is in perfect condition and would be of great interest to a collector.

Fine Concert Aids St. Paul's Scout Funds

A substantial sum will accrue to the building fund of the new hall erected for the use of the St. Paul's Boy Scout troop as the result of the very enjoyable concert held in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening under the auspices of the St. Paul's troop and pack committee.

H. W. Creelman, principal of the Lampson Street School, acted as chairman, and an enthusiastic audience vociferously applauded each of the excellent items, which included selections by an instrumental trio, including Miss O. Heale, piano; Miss M. Phillips and Miss B. Sledge, violins; songs charmingly sung by Mrs. E. Grimmond, soprano, and Miss D. Hartree, contralto; harmonious numbers by the Imperial Quartette, including Frank Spooner, first tenor; Stanley Honeychurch, second tenor; J. W. Buckler, first bass; F. E. Rowley, second bass, and tenor soloist, Frank Spooner; bass soloist, Maidwyn Humphries; some clever, humorous numbers by A. H. Adams, an able comedian; recitations by G. Hallett and A. L. Robinson, which were well received, and an exceptionally clever exposition of magic by W. Harkness. The committee wishes to express its sincere thanks to the artists for their generous help.

Plan Whist Drive—Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Barton are sponsoring a progressive whist party at their new home "Hopedene," 51 Gorge Road West, on Monday at 8 o'clock in aid of funds for the Progressive Thought Temple Ladies' club. Reservations may be had by telephoning Mrs. Barton at 2027.

Says MYRNA LOY

"I don't have to," explains the charming actress whose lovely lips fascinate countless film fans. "Before going on the lot or out for the evening, I simply make up my lips with Kissproof. That's my assurance that they will look their best—and keep looking their best—all day or evening long."

See the Kissproof lips of Miss Loy in "The Great Divide," and remember that she is but one of the 5,000,000 women who have found that they can leave their lipsticks at home if they use Kissproof.

Follow their example and you'll find that this lasting waterproof lipstick will do more than stay on—it will flatter your lips tremendously, making them glow with natural beauty. At any toilet counter.

CONFERENCE OF SOCIAL WORKERS

Dominion Rally at Toronto April 28 to May 1; Noted Speakers

The second annual Canadian Conference on Social Work will be held in Toronto from April 28 to May 1, when attention will be focused on the work which is being carried on throughout the Dominion by way of "helping lame dogs over stiles." Few years social work in Canada has been becoming more and more conscious of itself as a real profession, a job which requires training technique and personality, and at the Toronto conference leaders in the work will expound their views and relate their experiences.

NOTABLE SPEAKERS

"A Campaign Against Diphtheria," by Dr. James Roberts, medical officer of health, Hamilton, the city which has made diphtheria non-existent; "The Care of the Handicapped," by Edward Hochhauser, president of the Altro Work Shops, New York; "The Cost of Living and a Minimum Wage," by Dr. J. W. MacMillan, chairman of the Ontario Minimum Wage Board; "Where the Public Health Nurse and the Social Worker Meet," by Miss Elizabeth Smellie, chief superintendent, Victorian Order of Nurses of Canada.

RALPH CONNOR

At the open evening meetings, subjects of interest to all will include Karl ge Schweinitz, speaking on "Social Work and Our Changing Family Life"; and Dr. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), making public his findings in his recent survey of the Canadian steel industries, in "The Human Element in Industry." On the very last night a banquet will bring the gathering to a close. Guest speakers at the banquet will be Premier G. Howard Ferguson and E. W. Beatty.

MRS. G. V. HOLT WINS DAMAGES

Vancouver Woman Awarded $5,000 For Husband's Death By Car

Vancouver, March 21. — Assessing damages at $5,000, a Supreme Court jury of eight men on Tuesday evening returned a verdict in favor of Mrs. Rose A. Holt, Connaught Drive, and against Holmes and Wilson Limited, Granville Street.

Monetary compensation was claimed by the plaintiff on behalf of herself and two daughters for the death of her husband, Grange Viret Holt, for many years manager here for the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who was killed in an automobile accident at the corner of Fourth Avenue and Granville Street on August 24 last.

Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, who conducted the trial, will hear argument from counsel later on a motion to enter judgment against the defendant.

The award, according to the jury, is divided: $3,000 to Mrs. Holt and $2,000 to her daughter, Winnifred. No damages were allowed the second daughter, Mrs. Violet A. Haines, who resides in Rohat, India.

At the close of the plaintiff's case, His Lordship dismissed the action against a co-defendant, Edward Thomson, carter, Burnsoby Street, on the ground that there had been no evidence of negligence adduced against him.

The motor truck which struck Mr. Holt was being used by Holmes and Wilson Limited under an arrangement with Thomson, who shared the earnings, and it was driven by E. H. Lewis, employee of the defendant company.

There was no finding by the jury of negligence against the deceased.

First United Will Give Y.P.S. Social

A delightfully entertaining, humorous, and well balanced programme has been arranged for the concert to be presented under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the First United Church on Monday evening at 8.15.

This concert, promoted by John Gough and John Smith, is offered as a sequel to an amusing and successful mock musical festival given in April from which a few numbers will be repeated.

In addition to vocal solos by Mrs. McMoran; Carol Menzies, Ina Easton, D. and G. Lea, there will be instrumental selections by the mandolin trio; George Tate, violinist, Pat Campbell, trombonist, and Dorothy Morton and John Smith, pianists. Comical choral numbers will be led by Olive Hentage, Winetta Copeman, P. Campbell and G. Robson.

The programme will conclude with a sketch directed by John Gough in which will appear P. Campbell, G. Gordon, J. Taylor, G. Robson and J. Walker.

Tickets for this concert can be procured from the executive or at the door of the schoolroom. John Gough will act as chairman.

Children's Story Hour — The children's story hour will be held on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. McKee will have charge of the games at the close of the stories. All children are invited to come.

You can leave a stone in the dishwater all day

It cannot dissolve . . . it will do nothing . . . but you can depend upon it to "last."

Most soaps are like that . . . they may last, but this lasting quality is deceptive. It means rubbing and rubbing to get suds.

Suds should come quickly and easily . . . as Sunlight suds do. Sunlight is all pure soap. It is purposely made to dissolve freely. No need to rub and rub with a bar of Sunlight to get suds . . . and as for leaving Sunlight Soap in the water, that's unnecessary—even wasteful.

Yet because Sunlight is all pure soap it is more economical. It makes more suds to wash more clothes.

Do you wonder that millions of women the world over becoming impatient with low quality soaps now use Sunlight . . . and never could be content with any other soap?

Then look for the $5,000 Sunlight Guarantee of Purity. It means real economy—longer life to your clothes—protection to your hands.

YOUR BABY and MINE

by Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

FOUR-HOUR SCHEDULE BEST FOR BOTH MOTHER AND BABY

Years ago the mothers who were courageous enough to start their babies on a four-hour schedule had to suffer a lot of ridicule and criticism. Someone was always pointing out that baby's small stomach couldn't take enough food to last four hours, that their mothers fed the baby every time it cried, and see how many she reared, etc.

We find only feeble rumblings of that controversy to-day. All mothers with the least claim to modernity feed their babies regularly, never less than three-hour periods. The vast majority of them have succumbed to the obvious advantages of the four-hour feeding periods.

MORE FREEDOM FOR MOTHER

This is a wonderful step forward. Nursing a baby no longer need make the mother a slave to the house. The interval between two and six is long enough to give her opportunities for recreation which she needs so badly in order to make a happy and successful nurse. What is more, the baby thrives on fewer feedings. He consumes more at each feeding, and his appetite and digestion are better. His stomach has periods of rest and a chance to empty itself, one condition which must be present before there is real hunger. Babies who are fed too often seldom have an appetite, leave portions of their milk, and view all meals with indifference. Such a baby needs fewer feedings a day rather than dosing with tonics to improve his appetite.

FEWER NIGHT FEEDINGS, TOO

Contrary to expectations, the baby who dines only four times a day takes correspondingly fewer feedings at night. He is even more apt to sleep soundly until morning than the baby who is fed five times daily and sometimes almost that many times at night.

Weight records of babies fed four times daily and five times daily show that month by month the baby fed every four hours gains just as well as the baby fed oftener. With this evidence one wonders why all babies are not fed on the four-hour schedule.

Any baby over six pounds in weight at birth can be put upon the four-hour schedule. However, babies are still individuals and some babies do not take kindly to this interval. They cry one hour before their meals are due and show obvious signs of hunger. Perhaps the baby is not vigorous enough to get all he needs for a four-hour interval, or the mother secretes too small an amount of milk (the reasons for which are not always clear). If the mother has conscientiously tried the four-hour schedule and baby isn't happy and satisfied on it, then by all means feed the baby on the three-hour schedule until such time as he seems able to go the longer period.

In changing from the three to four-hour schedule with an older baby, it need not be done gradually; just start h nw schedule and let baby become adjusted to it. The change in bath and nap times will tend to make the change in meal times less noticeable to him.

Perfectly fed
Perfectly happy

HOW serene are his blue eyes. How ready his mouth to smile. And how he sleeps—when he should. A perfectly normal, healthy baby, fed by his mother.

There is no substitute equal to maternal milk, Nature's own food, pure and germ-free, containing in most acceptable form, everything baby needs most.

Before and after baby comes Ovaltine should be on the mother's dietary—to ensure an adequate and rich flow of maternal milk upon which baby will thrive. To ensure, also, perfect maintenance of mother's own health.

Ovaltine is the concentrated goodness of ripe barley malt, fresh eggs, and creamy milk, made by an unique and exclusive scientific process, and is sold at all good stores in 50c, 75c, $1.25 and special $4.50 family size tins. Also served at Soda Fountains.

BREAST FED IS BEST FED

Over and over again it has been proved that the breast fed baby has far more chance of avoiding nutritional disease, of growing up to healthy childhood, than the bottle fed infant.

A baby's stomach is extremely delicate. The least departure from the normal upsets it. Therefore, every mother should ensure her baby the natural right of maternal milk. Ovaltine should be commenced as early as possible before baby is born and continued until breast feeding ceases.

Doctors, nurses and mothers themselves all over the world have testified to the wonderful assistance Ovaltine gives—the effective safeguard it provides against nutritional diseases.

OVALTINE RUSKS

NEW SOLARIUM UNIT TO COST ABOUT $30,000

Shriners Give $10,000 Towards Cost; Original Plan Amplified to Meet Needs

Decision to enlarge the proposed new Shrine unit at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, so that it will cost $30,000, instead of $15,000 as at first arranged, was made at yesterday's meeting of the board of directors.

Plans submitted by the architect, Ralph Berrill, and approved by the board showed that through the additional cost a building could be erected which would provide for such extra staff as may be required with the ever-increasing number of patients, thus dispensing with the need of an additional building later.

W. B. Lanigan of the building committee stated that the Shriners had decided to divert to the Solarium the gift of $10,000 made to them some time ago by an anonymous donor for benevolent purposes. The Solarium directors had decided to supplement this sum with a further $5,000, making possible a ten-bed unit. In going into the plans it was found that it would be cheaper, eventually, to double the expenditure and supplement the ward accommodation with accommodation for the increased staff and offices.

The plan ultimately drawn up, therefore, provided an administration building that would house the central heating plant, and adequate kitchen, dining-room for the help, housing for the domestics, an additional ward on the first floor, bedrooms, bathrooms, etc., on the second floor for the staff. To begin with only the main ward would be completely finished.

Without furnishings the proposed new building will cost $30,000, of which amount the Solarium has in hand, in the form mentioned above, the sum of $15,000. The generosity of the public must be trusted to provide the remaining amount required.

MOVIES STATED NOT SUITABLE FOR CHILDREN

The unsuitability of present-day motion pictures for children was discussed by the Colwood Women's Institute at their regular monthly meeting in the institute rooms Wednesday afternoon.

After many members had taken part in the discussion, the meeting was unanimous in the opinion that the present type of pictures were unsuitable for children.

Credit was accorded the Board of Motion Picture Censors for efforts to permit only clean pictures to be shown in Canada, but it was felt that suitable types of pictures for children of school age were lacking.

Alberta Decides Woman a "Person" In Common Law

Edmonton, March 21.—Establishing that in Alberta a woman is a "person" in common law, the act sponsored by Hon. Irene Parlby, minister without portfolio in the Alberta Cabinet, was endorsed by the Legislature on Thursday.

The act is known as "an act for the removal of sex disqualification," and it provides that in Alberta no person shall be disqualified by sex or marriage from the exercise of any public function, from holding any civil or judicial office or from entering upon or carrying on any civil profession or vocation or for admission to any incorporated society.

Programme at St. Ann's — The Aquinas Literary Society of St. Ann's Academy observed the festival of St Thomas Aquinas recently with a special programme of instrumental music and choral numbers, which preceded and followed an interesting debate between two teams selected from the membership. Among the judges was Mrs. J. A. J. McKenna, diocesan convener of education for the Catholic Women's League, and the auditorium was filled with an interested audience. Following the debate tea was served in the blue room, which has been newly decorated, and in the arrangement of which the pupils of the school have taken a very lively interest. A large number of new books have been received during the past months from old pupils and friends for the High School library, which is contained in this room.

WOMAN SENATOR IS PAID TRIBUTE

Ottawa Council Women Hold Reception For Hon. Cairine Wilson

Ottawa, March 21—A tribute to Canada's first woman member of the Senate, Hon. Cairine Mackay Wilson, was paid yesterday afternoon by the women of Ottawa, when throngs attended a reception in her honor, held in a local hotel and sponsored by the Local Council of Women. Practically every women's organization of the capital city was represented in the great gathering, which also took the form of a celebration of the recognition of women as "persons" in Canada and their eligibility to representation in the Second Chamber.

Reference to this was made by Mrs. J. A. Wilson, president, who conveyed the greetings of the National Council of Women of Canada.

MAY LOSE JOB

J.B.A.A. Dance At Gorge Club House Saturday

The J.B.A.A. will hold another of their popular dances in the clubhouse at the Gorge to-morrow night, commencing at 9 o'clock. These jolly gatherings arranged by the popular hosts of this leading athletic organization have been drawing big crowds, and it is anticipated that to-morrow's affair will prove as successful as its predecessors. An excellent orchestra will furnish the latest and snappiest dance hits.

A dance and whist drive under the auspices of the Victoria and District Building Trades Council will be held at the Foresters' Hall, 750 Cormorant Street, this evening. Ozard's orchestra will be in attendance. The whist drive will commence at 8.30 p.m. and dancing at 9 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

Y.P.S. Entertained — The young people of the Ecquimalt and Wilkinson Road United Churches were the guests of the Metropolitan Young People's Society at a St. Patrick's social on Monday evening. Under the leadership of Fred Robins an interesting and enjoyable programme of Irish music and games was enjoyed by all. John Atkin, on behalf of the Y.P.S., extended a very hearty welcome to the visitors. Miss Mona Morgan and Mr. Ireland on behalf of the visitors thanked the Metropolitan members for the enjoyable evening's entertainment. Delicious refreshments were served, followed by group singing which brought a delightful evening to a close.

PEARSON PLAN FOR INDUSTRY IS ADVOCATED

Industrial Relation Board Would Help Employers and Workers

Would Be Friendly Link Between Industrialists and Labor

Another plea for the establishment in British Columbia of a Board of Industrial Relations to mediate between industrialists and workers with the broad object of providing continuous and satisfactory employment for workers and a supply of contented workers for industry was made by G. S. Pearson, Liberal, Nanaimo, in the Legislature yesterday when the estimates of the Department of Labor were under consideration.

Mr. Pearson recalled his advocacy along these lines during his speech in the budget debate, when he suggested the board be composed of an industrialist, a labor man and an economist. The success of the board would depend largely upon the broad humanitarian viewpoint possessed by the men who served on it.

One of the main troubles British Columbia faced, along with many other parts of the world, was that there were too many low-priced wage-earners. Too much attention was given to production and not enough to consumption. It was ridiculous to oppose the increased production brought about by machinery, but on the other hand, great production without the workers possessing the means to consume it was equally ridiculous. Attention should be given to creating greater spending power to purchase the goods produced.

Thomas Uphill, Labor, Fernie, said no labor men condemned increased production. The greater the production the more the people should get. Lower wages reduced purchasing power. By low wages producers "trimmed" their best customers. Production for use and not for profit was the solution.

LITTLE EARLY, SAYS SPENCER

Col. Nelson Spencer thought the House was sympathetic to the principles advocated by Mr. Pearson, but British Columbia was too small a province to set the lead in this class of legislation. Such a board in British Columbia would be about as effective as Henry Ford's peace ship to England to establish peace for Europe. Soon the world would be up against a five-hour day and a five-hour week, but it could not start in British Columbia. "Any time you put on more overhead you are barking up the wrong tree," he said.

Col. Spencer's contribution to the debate was an expression of reactionary Tory opinion, said A. M. Manson, K.C. British Columbia had set the lead in a lot of legislation of the nature advocated by the member for Nanaimo, and in spite of the fear in which it was regarded by some at the time, he thought the workers of British Columbia were as prosperous and contented on the whole as those of any part of the world.

The part that labor bureaus played in distributing workers to places where they were most needed was raised and brought a request from C. L. Hanna for the establishment of a bureau at Port Alberni.

Mr. Pearson cited the uncertainty of employment at Extension Mine, which was the backbone of Ladysmith. If assurance as to how long the mine would remain open and how long it would be closed could be obtained miners could make their plans for work accordingly. This was one of the things a board such as he advocated could give consideration to.

Franklin Apartments Are Now Open

Home Atmosphere Is Maintained In New Set of Suites Here

Every Modern Convenience Installed in Remodeled Structure Overlooking Fairfield District; Four Large and Spacious Suites Laid Out; Pretty Grounds With Tennis Court Set Off Fine Building; Alterations Made at Cost of $8,500.

With every modern convenience and a home-like environment such as is hard to procure in the usual hotel or flat, the Franklin Apartments, at 1325 Franklin Terrace, are now ready for occupation, it was announced by the agents, Douglas MacKay and Company, 1214 Broad Street.

The whole structure has been entirely remodeled in the interior at a cost approximating $8,500, and is one of the most convenient and up-to-date apartments in the city created.

The new apartments are located on one of the highest pieces of ground in the Fairfield district, and a commanding view of the surrounding area and the sea is obtained from the place. It is only two blocks from the street car line and one block from the Sir James Douglas School, and is served by stores close at hand.

Private grounds, which include a single tennis court, bird bath and flower gardens are a feature of the establishment in which the owner has paid every attention to creating a home-like and cheery atmosphere.

FOUR SUITES

There are four suites laid out in the structure, including one of five rooms and bath, one of four rooms and bath and two others of three rooms and bath. Delightful color schemes have been carried out in each of the suites, each of which has been finished throughout in a different shade. Pink, blue, green and yellow are the colors of the four suites.

Bathroom tiles, walls and ceilings have been worked into this scheme of color and a very pleasing effect has been achieved.

The main five-room suite has an open fireplace, while all the other apartments are fitted with gas fireplaces. Gas cooking ranges and full electrical equipment, with a central heating plant are other features of the building. All suites are fitted with frigidaire as a further contribution to the up-to-date appliances which mark the furnishings throughout.

CONTRACTORS

The remodeling work was under the supervision of Joseph Knight, who has had a wide experience in apartment construction. Among the sub-contractors were Thacker and Holt, who did the plumbing work on the structure when it was built originally.

The suites are all moderately priced and rents include janitorial service, frigidaire, heating and water. The agents invite an inspection of the premises.

Tick—Tick!

A wide-awake, healthy little mite—isn't he? Interested in everything—a typical Nestlé's Evaporated Milk Baby.

And here's the Reason! Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is just the best of fresh, cow's milk with part of the water removed—then sealed and sterilized in air-tight containers. Add water again and you have absolutely pure, safe milk—but more readily digestible than ordinary milk because the large fat globules of the milk have been broken up into small ones of the same size as in Mother's milk. Also, the curds which form in the stomach when Nestlé's Evaporated Milk is used are soft and flaky and therefore easily digestible.

Use Nestlé's Evaporated Milk for Your Baby. Use it in coffee—in cocoa—in tea. Use it in all cooking and as a beverage by diluting with one to two parts water.

TWELVE NEW BILLS DOWN

"Like a Bride's Shower," Says Dr. Sutherland on Legislation Rush

Twelve new bills were introduced for consideration of the Legislature yesterday. When Hon. W. A. McKenzie brought in five new bills at the evening session, Dr. W. H. Sutherland was prompted to remark: "This looks like a bride's shower. The fuel oil tax of half a cent a gallon, calling upon a householder with an oil-o-matic oil furnace to keep books of record and have them inspected at any time, was brought in.

The gasoline tax increasing the impost from three to five cents a gallon was introduced.

The loan bill authorizing the borrowing of $5,041,300 for consolidated revenue made its first appearance.

Attorney-General Pooley introduced a bill creating the superintendent of Provincial Police a commissioner of police, and another bill altering the procedure for appeals under the Summary Convictions Act.

MINING LEGISLATION

The Minister of Mines' legislation affected the mining industry. One bill establishes a mineral reserve in the watershed of the Greater Vancouver water district, but provides for a geological survey by the government of the water district, as a result of which any areas suitable for mineral development may be taken out of the reserve providing the health of the city is not affected.

The Mines Development Act is amended to allow repair and reconstruction of roads and trails to mines, as well as new construction. The Mineral Survey and Development Act extends to the provincial mineralogist the same privileges from libel as now exists for district engineers with respect to reports on mine properties.

The Mineral Act is amended to require Dominion chartered companies to register provincially before obtaining miners' licenses, and to allow claims which overlap naval reserves or Dominion parks to remain valid to the extent that they do not overlap such property.

Placer Mining Act amendments follow the Mineral Act with respect to Dominion companies.

The Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Act is amended also to give the committee of adjustment the technical amendments asked by them before the agricultural committee of the House.

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe introduced some technical amendments to the Superannuation Act.

Pacific Ocean Storms Delaying Big Liners

President Madison and Empress of Asia Due To-night and To-morrow Morning, Respectively, From Orient Will Not Dock Until Sunday.

Storms on the Pacific Ocean between the Orient and the West Coast of Vancouver Island are delaying the arrival at Victoria of two big transpacific liners, the Empress of Asia and the President Madison, the former originally due here to-morrow morning and the latter to-night. Both will be unable to make port until Sunday, the masters have advised the local agents by wireless.

The President Madison was originally due to make port here to-night at 9 o'clock, but running into severe storms south of the Aleutian Islands she will not be able to dock until Sunday. She will arrive at the William Head quarantine station at 9 o'clock in the morning. Capt. D. C. Austin, master of the ship, this morning advised W. M. Allan, local agent, by wireless. She will berth at the Rithet piers about 10.30 o'clock, and will clear for Seattle as soon as her local cargo has been discharged. She has 400 tons for this port, which will take about four hours to unload. Several passengers from her cabin and steerage lists will also disembark here. The Madison was to have been the first ship on a new schedule which calls for the arrival of an American Mail liner here from the Orient every second Friday night at 9 o'clock instead of every second Friday morning.

EMPRESS DUE

The Empress of Asia will arrive at the quarantine station at noon on Sunday. L. D. Chetham, local agent, was advised this morning by Capt. A. J. Hailey, commander of the liner. The ship will be alongside the Rithet piers early in the afternoon to discharge light cargo and leave passengers before proceeding to Vancouver. It is understood the Asia has a fair list of passengers this voyage, most of whom, however, will proceed to Vancouver.

There is only one other scheduled liner now on the ocean bound for Victoria, the Shidzuoka Maru of the N.Y.K., which is expected next Wednesday from the Orient. It is not yet known whether she will be delayed.

Among the passengers aboard the President Madison are Lieut.-Commander Sowell, Lieut. Moureau and Lieut. Wagner of the United States navy returning with their families, for service on this continent; B. C. Sweeney, well-known importer and exporter of the Orient; P. J. Walowit, prominent manufacturer of New York; A. Y. Chew, passenger agent for the American Mail line at El Paso, Texas, returning from China with his family; L. A. Wagenhal of New York, a retired business man, returning from a pleasure trip; Samuel Landenheim, a fur importer of San Francisco.

Sulairia Due In Port From U.K. To-morrow

Providing she meets favorable weather the new Donaldson freighter Sulairia will dock at the Rithet piers to-morrow morning at 6 o'clock, A. E. Shanks of Rithet Consolidated Limited, local agents, was advised this morning. The ship left San Francisco on Wednesday evening. She is on her second voyage to Victoria from the United Kingdom, since being commissioned several months ago. She is a sister ship to the new Gregalia, which was also recently built for the Donaldson service between England and the Pacific Coast.

For Victoria the Sulairia has about 100 tons of general cargo. Before proceeding to Vancouver she will load 50,000 feet of Vancouver Island timber here for the return run to Europe.

Another vessel from Europe due here over the week-end is the new Holland-America freight and passenger motorship, Delftdyk, which is expected some time on Sunday. Although it is the Delftdyk's second voyage to the Pacific Coast, it will be her first call at Victoria and local shipping men are looking forward to the opportunity of inspecting one of the most modern freight and passenger ships in the popular Panama Canal run between the Pacific Northwest and Europe.

EUROPA RUNS INTO STRONG HEAD WINDS

Remains Only 65 Minutes at Cherbourg and Then Puts Out on Maiden Voyage

Cherbourg, France, March 21.—Off for New York on her first Atlantic crossing, the new North German Lloyd line Europa, sister ship of the blue ribbon Bremen, steamed out of port into head winds and westerly gales yesterday evening.

She remained in the roads only sixty-five minutes, a call, record-breaking for its shortness.

A hundred miles out the big liner wirelessed that she had run into violent head winds, Nautical men here believe she will be unable to break the Bremen's record for the crossing if the westerly gales hold for several hours.

Officials of the North German Lloyd line have declined to comment on reports that the Europa will try to better the Bremen's time of four days seventeen hours and twenty-four minutes. Nevertheless her time will be closely watched.

WILL LAUNCH THIRD SHIP NEXT MONTH

Mrs. J. L. Ralston Will Officiate at Launching of C.N.R. Steamer Prince Robert

London, March 20.—Mrs. J. L. Ralston, wife of the Minister of Defence in the Canadian Government, has agreed to act as sponsor for the new Canadian National steamer Prince Robert, third and last of three new vessels for the British Columbia Service, at the launching at Birkenhead on the afternoon of April 3. Mrs. Ralston came to England with Colonel Ralston, who is Canada's representative at the Naval Conference, and it is looked upon as a good omen that, while on a mission to reduce naval armaments, the Defence Minister's wife should officiate at the launching of a vessel which will operate in peaceful trade.

The Prince Robert will arrive on the British Columbia coast in June. The first of the three steamers, the Prince Henry, will shortly be put through her trial runs and will leave for this coast scheduled to take her first sailing to Alaska on July 4. The second of the three steamers, the Prince David, will arrive here in July and will immediately be placed in the service between Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle.

The C.N.R. docks here are now being rebuilt to accomodate the new steamers. Men are working on the sheds and the pier formerly occupied by the Pacific Salvage Company is nearly entirely demolished. The contract, which has been awarded to the Victoria Pile-driving Company of this city, calls for the completion of the contract by June 1. Work will be rushed steadily, and large gangs of men will be used on two shifts a day.

WILL ERECT NEW BEACONS

Dominion Government Plans Radio Aids to Navigation at Several B.C. Points

Vancouver, March 21.—At least three and perhaps four, radio beacons will be added to the British Columbia coast aids to navigation by the government, according to word received by the Vancouver chamber of shipping from the Dominion radio telegraph branch. One will be established at Entrance Island, near Nanaimo; another at Green Island, Chatham Sound, and a third at Langara, north end of Queen Charlotte Islands.

All apparatus for these beacons has arrived and installation will be made shortly. A fourth beacon may be established this season at Estevan, entrance to Barkley Sound. This latter, however, has not been definitely approved.

The chamber of shipping has also been advised by the radio telegraph department that, commencing this summer, the shipping interests of British Columbia will no longer have to depend upon United States wireless reports to obtain the positions of all ships on the Pacific.

A new central station, which will embody all the latest in long-range short-wave apparatus, will be stationed on Lulu Island. It will be operated by remote control from a station in the new quarters of the Vancouver Merchants' Exchange in the Marine Building. It will give direct connection with all ships on the Pacific Ocean.

RUTH DELAYED ON VOYAGE BY STRONG WINDS

Docked Early This Morning From California; Eighty Passengers For Victoria

Delayed by stiff head winds off the coast of Washington yesterday, it was 1.30 o'clock this morning before the Pacific Steamship Company's coastal liner Ruth Alexander docked at the Rithet piers here from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Passengers for Victoria stayed aboard all night and debarked at 6 o'clock this morning, the ship leaving for Seattle an hour later. Capt. Fred Nystrom, master of the ship, reported a fair trip up the coast, despite the head winds.

There were eighty passengers aboard the Ruth for Victoria. Most of these proceeded to Vancouver aboard the regular steamer this afternoon from where they will proceed to their homes on the prairies and in the east. There were also several well-known Victorians aboard, returning from holiday visits to southern California. Among the passengers for Vancouver was G. A. McNicholl, general passenger agent for the Canadian National Railways at Vancouver, returning from an inspection trip of the company's offices in California. He was accompanied by Bruce Boreham, Canadian National publicity agent in British Columbia.

DEBARKED HERE

Among the passengers who left the liner here this morning were: W. G. Allender, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Arnold, Mrs. L. Atkinson, Miss G. Atkinson, Miss K. Argle, Mrs. A. Bowen, Charles Boyle, C. W. SEARCH MADE FOR MISSING TACOMA MAN

Tacoma, Wash., March 21.—John J. Nerbonne, fifty-four, superintendent of a large Tacoma lumber mill, and widely known in northwest lumber circles, has been missing from his home here for ten days.

Belief he is suffering from amnesia or was a victim of foul play, is expressed by members of his family.

CUTTERS ARE BOUND SOUTH

Chelan and Unalga Complete Patrol Duty on Halibut Banks and Sail For Seattle

Seattle, March 21.—After completing their first season of patrol duty on the halibut fishing banks of Alaska, the United States Coastguard cutters Chelan and Unalga are bound for Seattle. They are expected here Sunday or Monday. The vessels spent most of their time while in the north on the Portlock and Albatross banks to prevent a recurrence of loss of life on the storm-swept halibut fishing grounds. The patrol was maintained by the coastguard from March 1 until to-day, during the stormy period in southwestern Alaska waters.

Immediately following her arrival, the Chelan will engage in target practice in the Sound and then will prepare for Bering Sea patrol duty. Her commander is Capt. Ralph W. Dempwolf. The Unalga will go to her station at Juneau and then will take up the North Pacific seal patrol.

GOES ON BERING SEA

The cutter Haida will sail on April 15 to join the Bering Sea patrol. There will be no commander of this service ashore this year, the senior officer of the fleet filling this position. At present he is Comdr. T. A. Shanley of the Haida.

The cutter Northland will sail from San Francisco early in May bound for Nome and the Arctic via Seattle. She will leave this port about May 15 and will carry mail for Nome.

MAY RELEASE CAPILANO ON U.S. ORDER

Big Freighter Held at Port Townsend May Proceed to Orient This Afternoon

Seattle, March 21.—Release of the Canadian-American freighter Capilano, seized under a writ of foreign attachment in the Strait of Juan de Fuca last Wednesday, by a United States coastguard patrol boat, loomed to-day as a result of a ruling by Federal Judge E. Cushman at a special court session last night.

Although it was claimed the freighter was seized in United States waters, Judge Cushman held the seizure was illegal under a treaty which guaranteed free passage through the Strait to United States and British vessels. He allowed attorneys for the libellants until 3 p.m. to-day to obtain a writ from the United States Court of Appeal at San Francisco prohibiting the signing of an order quashing the attachment under which the Chief Capilano was being held at Port Townsend.

The ship was bound from Vancouver, B.C., to the Orient, and is claimed to have drifted into United States waters because of adverse tides when seized. The vessel was libelled by Dant and Russell, Inc., of Portland, Ore., who claimed $20,000 damages for lumber cargo lost when the Chief Maquilla, owned by the same company, foundered off the Aleutian Islands in 1928. Another attachment of $100,000 was later placed against the ship for losses sustained in the wreck of the Maquilla.

Aorangi Sails For Victoria With Big List

Bound for Victoria and Vancouver with a large passenger list, the Canadian Australasian motor liner Aorangi sailed from Honolulu to-day. She will dock here late next Thursday night or early Friday morning from Sydney, Auckland, Suva and the Hawaiian Islands.

The seasonal northward trend of passenger traffic is commencing and the Aorangi has a passenger list of 400, according to advance information reaching Victoria. Capt. Robert Crawford, her regular commander, remained on shore at Sydney for a holiday and his place is being taken by Capt. Martin, whose regular command is on the San Francisco-Australia run of the company.

Among the passengers on board the Aorangi this voyage are members of the British Columbia lumber delegation who passed through Victoria last fall, and members of the Canadian Lawn Bowling Team who have been touring the Antipodes.

Other passengers include R. V. Tait, a prominent wool buyer of Sydney, and W. D. Loveridge, ex-president of the Sydney Harbor Trust. Mr. Loveridge is posted to address the Canadian Club of Vancouver while he is in that city.

Around the Docks

The motorship Pacific Commerce is expected at Ogden Point piers to-morrow to take on 950,000 feet of lumber for Australia, Klitg Brothers, local shipping agents, were advised this morning. The ship is under charter to the Australia-British Columbia Shipping Company.

* * *

The C.P.R. steamer Princess Maquinna will sail from the Belleville Street docks at 11 o'clock to-night for ports along the West Coast of Vancouver Island as far north as Port Alice. She will take out a capacity cargo and a fair passenger list.

* * *

The steamers Princess Mary, the Princess Ena, the Princess Patricia, the Malaspina, and the Lillooet are now tied up at the Bay Street plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot for repairs and overhaul. A new turbine engine has arrived for the Princess Patricia, and will be installed shortly. The Princess Ena is completed, and will be turned over to her owners to-morrow.

* * *

* * *

The night steamers operating between Victoria and Vancouver have been equipped with a telephone system which enables passengers to talk from their staterooms to persons on shore anywhere in Vancouver or Victoria. This new feature is proving popular with the traveling public.

H.M.C.S. Vancouver of the Esquimalt naval station has left Kingston, Jamaica for Victoria by way of the Panama Canal and Manzanillo, Mexico. She is expected at Esquimalt towards the end of April.

* * *

The steam schooner Quinalt was expected to leave the C.P.R. mill in the upper harbor this afternoon for southern California ports with 375,000 feet of lumber loaded here. The freighter San Diego is expected at the same mill to-morrow to take on lumber also for California.

TIMBER MARKING ACT AMENDED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 21.—The House of Commons late yesterday evening gave second reading to two government measures. One amends the Timber Marking Act. This is to enable the Exchequer Court to expunge from the register timber marks which are no longer in use. The bill was taken up in committee, but held there because of criticism directed at the grammar of the clause, to be probably redrafted.

The other bill is to straighten out a clash between two clauses of the Patents Act as to the time limit on making application for a patent. This bill was approved in committee and stands for third reading.

PIONEER WIRE OPERATOR DIES

William Martin, Well-known in Vancouver, Passes at Age of 72

Vancouver, March 21.—A veteran of fifty-five years' railway service and one of Canada's earliest telegraph operators, William Philip Martin, who was assistant superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway here from 1913 until superannuation in January, 1927, died yesterday at the age of seventy-two years.

Born in Gananoque, Ont., in 1858, Mr. Martin first learned telegraphy as a boy working in the general store of his father when the latter operated a telegraph office. At an early age he entered the service of the Quebec, Montreal and Ottawa Railway, and became at the age of eighteen years a chief dispatcher, with the amalgamation of the Q.M. and O. Railway and the Canadian Pacific, he became identified with the transcontinental railway and served as train dispatcher, later becoming freight agent at North Bay, Sudbury, west St. Johns, and for ten years at Montreal, coming to Vancouver first in 1911 as wharf freight agent.

He is survived by a widow, two daughters, Mrs. L. M. Nicholls, Birkenfalls, Ont.; Mrs. A. B. Laird, Vancouver, and two sons, Douglas A. Martin, Montreal; and Gosford H. Martin, Vancouver.

Horoscope

SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1930

In the busiest hours of this day benefic aspects dominate, according to astrology. Adverse influences are strong after sundown.

It is not an auspicious day for making any sort of effort toward improving one's business status.

Those who seek employment will be wise if they postpone initiative until more friendly stars rule.

This is believed to be an especially lucky day for beginning a long voyage. Danger of storms is supposed to be slight.

Neptune is in a place supposed to be peculiarly sinister in the effect upon law enforcement. Continued agitation is indicated.

While this rule prevails foresight should be keen and judgment dependable. It is favorable to make plans.

Whatever is constructive in its aims should benefit under this planetary government. Engineers, chemists and scientists in many lines of work are under the best possible sway.

In Europe struggle for freedom from old tyrannies and out-grown systems of government may be desperate in nations now subject to the influences of Saturn and Uranus.

Again the Balkan provinces will develop problems that menace the peace of the great powers, it is foretold.

The question of tenure of African possessions is to be one of the topics for discussion and diplomacy among European powers, the seers prognosticate.

Persons whose birthdate it is may meet with unexpected changes in business organizations with which they are connected. It is well to make new plans cautiously.

Children born on this day probably will travel widely. The subjects of this sign may have artistic gifts, but they may be often the shuttlecock of fortune.

Van Dyck, celebrated painter, was born on this day, 1599. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Rosa Bonheur, 1822, great artist; Thomas Crawford, 1814, sculptor.

Pile Sufferers

You can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, is guaranteed to quickly and safely banish any form of Pile misery or money back. MacFarlane Drug Co., Vancouver Drug Co., and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee. (Advt.)

Bach Learned to Make His Way in the World

The coach was ready to start. The horses' feet pawed restlessly on the cobblestones. Johann Sebastian Bach was setting forth, at fourteen, to make his way in the world. He was going to the north of Germany to work and to study music.

He was an orphan, and he lived with an elder brother. Perhaps because he was motherless and perhaps because he was a charming lad, he was a great favorite with the townspeople. More than half the village had gathered to see him off.

At last the coach started, with a crack of the whip. Everyone waved and shouted good-byes. Johann waved through the open window as long as anyone was in sight.

On sped the coach to the next village. There Johann got out. He took his belongings under his arm and set off down the road. He couldn't afford to make the journey by coach, but, at any rate, he had set off in great style, even though he did have to tramp the rest of the way.

Bach, the great composer, was born 245 years ago to-day.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TRAINING ENDS

Six-day Course at Memorial Hall Closes; Programme Declared Success

"It is the largest and most enthusiastic training school for Sunday School workers ever held in British Columbia," said Rev. E. R. McLean of Vancouver, yesterday evening in the Memorial Hall, at the conclusion of the six days' training programme organized by the Greater Victoria Religious Education Council.

The registrar's report revealed an attendance of 159 young people and adults, representing five denominations and twenty-seven churches. Anglican Baptist, Presbyterian, Reformed Episcopal and United Churches shared in the undertaking, a delegation of fourteen coming from Sidney. Teachers from the City Temple, and officials of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A., also participated.

FINISH WORK

All classes finished their work yesterday evening, and following adjournment, proceeded to the gymnasium, where a programme of recreational activities was arranged by Vivian Shotmaker, boys' work secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Light refreshments were served by a committee directed by Mrs. A. J. Daniels and Mrs. Hammond. The official closing of the training school was conducted by the Very Rev. Dean Quainton at a short devotional service in the chapel of the Memorial Hall, with large number present.

A pleasing ceremony during the period spent in the gymnasium was the presentation of two leather loose-leaf note books to A. R. Morrix, president of the local Religious Education Council, who had acted as chairman of the school. Other executive officials, whose work was praised, were Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson, secretary; Miss Mildred Chrow, registrar, and J. C. Simpson, treasurer.

THANKS EXPRESSED

Votes of thanks were passed, amid much applause to all who had assisted in promoting the school, and particularly to the staff of lecturers, including Rev. E. M. McLean, general secretary, Religious Educational Council of B.C.; Miss Anne Mountain, Girls' Work secretary; Frank Fidler, Boys' Work secretary; Rev. C. H. E. Cropper, Rev. Bruce Gray, Dr. Ernest Thomas, Mrs. P. Grant and her assitants.

Carne Rebekahs Hostesses at An Enjoyable Tea

A most successful St. Patrick's Day silver tea was held in the Oddfellows' Hall, Douglas Street, on Wednesday afternoon by the members of Carne Rebekah Lodge, No. 45. The hall was a veritable bower of spring flowers, a profusion of daffodils, pussywillows and ferns predominating. A large arch was erected at the door to mark the entrance to the tea-room. The decorations of the numerous tables that circled the large hall were carried out in green and yellow. Mrs. J. McKenzie was general convener, assisted by a very efficient committee who welcomed the guests as they arrived. During the afternoon a most enjoyable programme was enjoyed as follows: Piano solo, Mrs. C. Brown; vocal solo, Mrs. J. McCahall; tap dance, Miss Marjorie Nott; accordian solo, Mrs. M. P. Doane; recitation, Miss Julia Kent Jones; vocal solo, Mrs. Jas McCahall; Irish dance by Miss Phyllis Addison and Master Billy Stinton, students of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson.

Mrs. Pilgrim peeped into the future and made many guests happy by reading their teacups.

Arrangements are being made by the lodge social committee to hold an indoor picnic after the next regular meeting on Friday.

NEW LIQUOR ACT PROVIDES PRISON TERMS

Bill Before Nova Scotia Legislature Sets Up Control Commission

Limitations For Establishment of Stores Based on Majority Opinion

Canadian Press

Halifax, N.S., March 21.—The bill which is to give Nova Scotia a government liquor control system similar to the systems in force throughout nearly all Canada will be explained next Tuesday when it comes up in the Legislature for second reading.

The measure was introduced yesterday by Premier E. N. Rhodes, who described it as a bill to "regulate and control the sale of alcoholic liquors in the Province of Nova Scotia."

While the bill itself, a lengthy document of sixty-five typewritten pages, will not be made public until its appearance in printed form, probably tomorrow, a summary prepared by the Government shows that under the measure, Nova Scotia will have government control under the permit system, with stringent penalties applicable to offenders against the act.

JAIL TERMS

Imprisonment for first convictions of illegal selling and penalties ranging from small fines to imprisonment for illegal purchasing and possessing are included in the machinery of enforcement, to be under the jurisdiction of a commission of from one to three members, as yet unnamed.

Wide powers of administration would be vested in this commission, the location of stores, dealings with brewers and methods of vending being, with certain restrictions, to its discretion.

MAJORITY RULE

The act provides, however, that no store shall be established in any town, municipality or district in which at the vote taken under the Plebiscite Act there was a majority of votes cast against the sale of liquor under government control act, until such time as the commission may be satisfied that a majority of the electors desire the establishment of stores.

Opposition Leader And Ministers To Receive More Pay

Toronto, March 21.—A Government measure which will give W. E. N. Sinclair, K.C., Liberal, as opposition leader, a sessional indemnity of $3,000 in addition to the regular member's indemnity of $2,000, was given second reading by the Ontario Legislature yesterday.

This would return the renumeration of the opposition leader to the status enjoyed before it was split in two when the Progressive group made such a move necessary through the size of its membership in the House.

The Ferguson Government also filed notice of motion yesterday that it would bring in a measure to increase the salaries of ministers to $10,000 from the present $8,000. The Premier, in all, receives a salary of $16,000.

COMPANIES ACT OF CANADA IS TO BE AMENDED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 21.—Second reading was given in the House of Commons yesterday evening to a bill amending the Companies Act. The measure which was deferred to the committee on banking and commerce for consideration, is very much along the same lines as the bill which was examined by a special committee of the Senate last session and passed on to the House of Commons just before prorogation, too late for discussion by the members.

The purpose of the bill, as explained by Hon. Fernand Rinfret, Secretary of State, is to advance company legislation so that it may become a more efficient instrument for the advancement of Canadian enterprise and industry.

Certain proposals made to the Dominion authorities at the recent conference of provincial Attorneys-General in Toronto, in order to control the sale of shares and other particulars concerning brokerage firms, would be considered by the committee, said Mr Rinfret.

Deaths of Two Fliers Declared Accident

Sharbot Lake, Ont., March 21.—Adverse flying conditions, coupled with a dense fog, contributed to the crash of a mail plane on Long Lake, near Parkham, last Tuesday, according to testimony given at the inquest. Herve Simoneau, pilot, and N. L. Robertson, radio operator, Montreal, were both instantly killed in the crash.

The jury yesterday evening returned a verdict of "accidental death while attempting to land their plane in a dense fog and in adverse flying conditions."

Vancouver City Employees' Pay To Be Adjusted

Vancouver, March 21. — The basic salary schedule for Vancouver City employees, laid down in the Brittain-Bengough-Winter report was adopted by the City Council at a special meeting yesterday afternoon and referred back to the personnel committee for the adjustment of anomalies, errors and inconsistencies.

The council provided by resolution that increases of salary within fixed grades will not be made automatically. They will be made on the sole responsibility of department heads, who will send their recommendations to the council through the personnel committee.

Promotions from one grade to another will be made on recommendation of the personnel committee, in consultation with the department heads concerned.

DAMAGES ASKED IN SUIT

Toronto, March 21.—Louis M. Singer, former commissioner of the Amalgamated Builders' Council, in a writ issued here, is suing Gordon Waldron, K.C., for damages for alleged slander. Mr. Waldron conducted a royal commission which investigated the activities of the council, whose charter was cancelled as the result of evidence adduced at the investigation.

There is no stated amount in the action.

FARM LOAN INTEREST

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 21.—A rate of 5½ per cent interest in place of 6½ per cent on loans advanced by the Canadian Farm Loan Board is advocated by A. J. Benoit, Liberal, St. Johns-Iberville, Que. The subject will come under discussion this session in the House of Commons.

A Tip

...From.....

Andrew Carnegie

ASKED to explain his phenomenal success, Andrew Carnegie blandly attributed it to his ability to get men to work for him who knew more than he did.

And that's a formula for success. Nobody who is really successful does all the work himself. He employs other people's minds and efforts.

Do you do the same in the intricate business of running your home and taking care of your family? You can, quite easily.

You can employ specialists in diet; you can serve the master dishes of famous chefs; you can have the advice of style authorities in selecting your clothes, of whole electrical laboratories in buying household appliances, by reading the advertisements.

All the newest knowledge—knowledge millions of dollars and years of effort have won—is contained in the advertisements.

If you will use the advertisements in this newspaper as Andrew Carnegie used men who knew more than he did, every dollar you spend will be spent wisely, economically, and will return full measure of satisfaction. That's the way to be a success in the greatest business in the world—making a home.

It Pays to Read the Advertisements

Acids In Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Advt.)

Col. Goodland spoke in Victoria this week in an illustrated lecture on the subject of war graves and their upkeep

Announcement is made by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National express companies that, commencing on April 1, delivery of express parcels will be extended on Quadra Street to the city limits and east to Blackwood Street. When the need for extending delivery was brought to the attention of the two companies they made a survey and found that a great many new dwellings had recently been erected. When these facts were laid before the Board of Railway Commissioners, the companies were authorized to extend the delivery. The residents concerned feel very grateful to J. A. Walford and C. F. Earle for their assistance in having the extension granted.

Respect Paid To Memory Of Late R. E. Brett

As a mark of respect to the memory of the late R. E. Brett, who was one of the most valued members of the board, the Real Estate Board of Victoria at its luncheon meeting to-day took a standing vote of sympathy with the bereaved relatives.

MAY DAY PLANE MEET PLANS TO BE DISCUSSED

Model Builders to Assemble at Y.M.C.A. To-morrow to Go Over Programme

Discussion of plans for the proposed outdoor model plane meet, to be held in conjunction with the May 24 celebration, will feature the business of the Victoria Model Aircraft League at its meeting in the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow morning at 9.45 o'clock. A programme has been arranged for the meet and will be subjected to the flight representatives for ratification at the gathering.

All recording and equipment officers of the various flights are asked to have their monthly reports ready for the headquarters staff. During the morning the wing equipment officer will present a statement on the league's financial standing.

The tentative programme for type of plane and contest entered in the meet follows: Endurance tractor, endurance; endurance tractor, distance; single pusher, distance and endurance; twin pusher, distance and endurance; fuselage (commercial), distance and endurance; scale models (planes flying), distance and endurance; factory models, distance and endurance; open speed, course, 100 feet; stunting planes; weight carrying; glider competition.

Bread Too High

Investigations are being carried on by the Esquimalt Board of Trade on the price of bread.

To forward their study of the subject members of the board have decided to circularize the different boards of trade on the Island asking their opinions on the matter.

It was stated at a recent meeting of the board that the cost of production in relation to the retail price of bread was out of all proportion and would permit a twenty-five to thirty per cent cut.

Improvement Of Bridle Paths Is Immediate Need

Improvement of bridle paths on the southern end of the Island is greatly needed at the present time, Major K. B. Spurgin told the Real Estate Board to-day in discussing a move being made by a committee of the board toward this end.

The Oak Bay Council had promised $100 for the project provided Saanich would also assist, Major Spurgin said. Saanich, while refusing financial assistance, had been asked to aid with equipment such as horse and wagons, tools, etc. The Victoria City Council had not yet come to a decision on the matter.

Horse riders intended to hold a meeting on the matter shortly, he said, and a subscription list would be started to secure a fund for the development of paths.

He pointed out the value of bridle paths as a tourist attraction.

OBITUARY

Relatives and a very large gathering of sympathizing friends attended the funeral service yesterday afternoon over the remains of Miss Margaret Louise Jones, who passed away at the family residence, Colquitz, Monday. Short services were conducted at 1.30 o'clock at the Sands Funeral Chapel by Rev. Thomas Keyworth, and at 2 o'clock services were conducted by Rev. H. A. Ireland, assisted by Rev. Thomas Keyworth at the United Church, Wilkinson Road. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers. The hymns sung were "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Abide With Me." Mrs. Barr sang a solo entitled "I Have Not Seen." C. Miller, J. Quayle, Ted Cummins, S. Pringle, E. Foster and L. Peters acted as pallbearers, and the remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

There passed away last evening at the family residence, 887 Brett Avenue, Saanich, George Domoney, age sixty-nine years. Born in Newfoundland, he had been a resident of this city for ten years. He is survived by his widow, at home, five sons, and one daughter in Alberta; one brother and one sister in Vancouver. The remains are reposing at the Sands Funeral Chapel, and will be forwarded to-morrow afternoon to Red Deer, Alberta, where the funeral service will take place and interment will be made in the family plot.

The funeral of the late war veteran, George Wm. Stead, who passed away Saturday, took place this morning at 10.30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Many friends were in attendance. Members of the Canadian Pensioners and of the R.A.O.B. attended in a body to show their respect to a brother member. There were many beautiful flowers and the service was conducted by the Rev. Canon F. A. P. Gladwick. The hymns sung were "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Brief Life Is Here Our Portion." Worthy Primo J. Quinn read the R.A.O.B. burial service at the graveside; G. Akehurst, A. Sobrist, R. H. Jones, representing the Canadian Pensioners; R. Mackie and W. Worth, representing the R.A.O.B., and Robert Thomas acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

George Edward Ross, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ross of 2728 Fifth Street, passed away this morning, aged seventeen days. He is survived by his parents and a grandmother, Mrs. A. Simpson of Victoria. The funeral will be held from the Sands Funeral Chapel, Monday, at 2 o'clock.

The funeral of the late Frank Deveraux will take place on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from McCall Bros.' Funeral Home. Rev. W. A. Guy will conduct the service, after which interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

A private funeral service for the late Mrs. Mary Agnes Bannerman was held at 2149 Granite Street yesterday afternoon, conducted by Col. de Salis in the presence of a few intimate friends. The body was forwarded to Vancouver for cremation.

Funeral services for Capt. George Everton, who passed away on March 20, will beheld from the B.C. Funeral Chapel to-morrow at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay cemetery.

NO DECISION ON ESQUIMALT BUSES

A. T. Goward Will Let Council Know What B.C.E.R. Will Do By Letter

Although members of the Esquimalt Council this morning waited upon A. T. Goward, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company Limited, to secure complete data on the B.C. Electric's attitude towards transportation in that municipality, they were only given to understand that Mr. Goward would give them a definite statement of what the company was prepared to do in a letter at their next meeting a week from Monday.

Reeve Elrick and his councillors discussed with the vice-president of the company all angles of transportation. Mr. Goward was asked whether or not he would be prepared to run a bus service in the municipality. Without giving a definite reply, he stated that the Esquimalt car service did not pay and since a bus service was more expensive than a tramway, he inferred that he would be against such a move.

Until the letter is received by the council no definite steps will be taken in the transportation question.

RIPPLE ROCK NOT TO BE MOVED FOR YEAR AT LEAST

R. T. Williams Tells Victoria Audience of Assurance of No Action

There would be no appropriation in the Dominion estimates for the removal of Ripple Rock this year R. T. Williams told the Native Sons of Canada yesterday evening, when addressing the meeting. He had received definite assurance from a responsible source to this effect, he said.

The portion of the wire received in the city referring to the point read as follows, Mr. Williams stated: "No appropriation for this work this year." He regretted he was not at liberty to disclose the source of his information other than to say it had been from a responsible quarter.

"By presenting a united front from Victoria to Cape Scott, we can have what was anticipated years ago, a railroad through the Yellowhead Pass, and rail and road connection with this Island. The local service clubs can assist the latest organization of the city, the 'Ripple Rockers,' to bring about this happy consummation," declared Mr. Williams, who exhibited maps and correspondence in a description of the route which had been proposed.

A. C. Pike, the chairman, referred to the public-spirited manner in which Mr. Williams had taken a stand on the issue. C. J. McDowell, and others, lauded Mr. Williams for his efforts, and described the issue as one of national importance.

NEW WARNING DEVICE SOUGHT

City Invites Tenders For Johnson Street Bridge Alarm System

The city is inviting suggestions for the best means of warning vehicular traffic at Johnson Street bridge, by way of a call for tenders for suitable warning apparatus for the purpose. Particulars of what is required may be obtained at the office of F. M. Preston, city engineer.

In connection with the operation of the bascule bridge, drivers of vehicles approaching the bridge from either side must be warned when the bridge is about to open. It has been found hard to devise a plan that will arrest the attention of drivers under all conditions of wind and weather.

Some combination of signals that will sound a warning and also operate a moving device to attract the attention of drivers is sought with a view to improving existing conditions. The tenders are returnable on March 31.

SEEK RELIEF FOR SOLDIER-FARMERS

Resolution Asking Reduction in Land Prices Passed By Legislature

Suggested November 11 Be Made Thanksgiving Day

A resolution requesting the Dominion Government to reduce the payments required from soldier settlers to an amount commensurate with the productive capacity of their holdings and generally to extend to veterans, who have taken land under settlement schemes, the greatest possible measure of relief was passed by the B.C. Legislature this morning.

Several speakers referred to the struggle some soldier settlers were having on farms which they had taken up after the war. Col. Cy Peck, V.C., and Capt. Ian Mackenzie spoke in support of the resolution moved by J. W. Berry, Conservative, Delta.

The House also adopted a resolution in the name of Col. E. L. Bordon, asking the government of British Columbia seriously consider observance of Armistice Day, November 11, as the national day of commemoration and thanksgiving and that a copy of the resolution be sent to the Dominion government.

ROBBERY IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, March 21.—Burglars entered the Harkness grocery on West Forty-first Avenue here, it was reported to police to-day. They took $205 from a safe which had been left open and $6 from the cash register.

NEW SHIPS TO BUILD TRAVEL TO NORTHLAND

C.N.R. Passenger Agent Returns From Annual Inspection Tour of South

Unusual interest is being displayed all along the coast in the greatly improved steamship services which will be in operation this summer to northern British Columbia and Alaska, according to George A. McNicholl, general passenger agent, Canadian National Railways of Vancouver, who reached Victoria to-day aboard the steamer Ruth Alexander after making his annual trip of inspection of the company's interests as far south as the Mexican border.

They were met at San Francisco by A. B. Chown, passenger traffic manager for the C.N.R. at Chicago, who traveled with the party to Los Angeles.

Mr McNicholl has charge of all the company's steamship and railway travel offices on the Pacific Coast, and this jurisdiction necessitates an annual trip to the south

RECORD SEASON

The development of the Canadian steamer services to Alaska this year is causing much favorable comment all through the southern territory, and the new tonnage being placed on the route will undoubtedly attract much California travel by way of British Columbia, Mr. McNicholl believes. Inquiries that are being made through the company's representatives indicate a record travel season to the north, and with the new C.N.R. passenger ship on the route the company will be in a position to handle all the business that offers.

Messrs. McNicholl, Boreham and Chown spent three weeks in California.

INSPECTED DOCKS

On arrival here they were met by Charles P. Earle, district passenger agent, and to-day they inspected the work of reconstruction in connection with the company's docks in the Inner Harbor, which will be ready for the reception of the new boats by the beginning of June.

Major W. G. Swan, who is responsible for the design of the new docks here, was in the city to-day in connection with the contract held by the Victoria Piledriving Company. He expressed satisfaction with the progress being made.

Mr. McNicholl checked out of the Empress Hotel this afternoon and returned to Vancouver. Mr. Boreham remained over for the night boat.

J. C. Campbell Will Replace Col. Spencer At Meeting To-night

Col. Nelson Spencer had an unexpected call to Vancouver and will therefore be unable to address the Men's club at First Church to-night, but the club has been very fortunate in securing J. C. Campbell, director of publicity of National Parks of Canada.

Mr. Campbell will lecture on the National Parks of Canada and will illustrate his lecture by four reels, using his own motion-picture machine.

FINE VIEWS OF PARKS SHOWN

Publicity Bureau Members Shown National Parks of Canada

Over 500,000 Visitors to Canada's Playgrounds in 1929, Says J. C. Campbell

Magnificent views of the National Parks of Canada this afternoon aroused the keen interest of a well attended joint luncheon meeting of the Victoria and Island Publicity and the Tourist Trade Group of the Chamber of Commerce, held at the Chamber of Commerce with H. E. Boorman in the chair. The views were presented by J. C. Campbell of the National Parks Bureau of Canada, who preceded the moving pictures with a brief review of the rapidly increasing popularity of the National parks.

Stating that last year was the first time the parks had attained a registration of over 500,000 visitors, Mr. Campbell pointed out that the parks had now become one of the major tourist attractions of Canada. The tourist trade was not appreciated by some Canadians at its true worth.

Mr. Campbell said that the National Parks were great game reservoirs of vital importance to Indians and Eskimos who were wards of the nation, and to hunters and trappers in all parts of Canada.

RECALLS ISLAND'S CHARM

Appealing for the preservation of the natural beauties of Canada, Mr. Campbell said: "I remember Vancouver Island as it was forty years ago, I could cry out with shame at the way this lovely land has since been smashed around in the process of exploiting its timber resources. Intelligence should be used in development and utilization of natural resources. It should not appear afterwards as though a bunch of drunken sailors had been through the land, careless and believing that no others were to come after them."

HOLIDAY OBJECTIVES

Speaking of the constant vigilance required to maintain the existing national parks from spoliation and to enlarge their number, Mr. Campbell remarked: "There are many influences at work to deprive the people of their national parks."

"I was at Banff with another departmental official recently, when we were both feeling pretty blue at things. A light car approached and we saw it carried a burned-out man and his family seeking recuperation and enjoyment in the park. That family's appearance brightened one's whole outlook. So long as the existence of the parks makes such excursions in the open popular, so long is the matter of the preservation and extension of the national parks system worth while," he said.

Pooley Refuses Information On Liquor Inquiry

Another refusal to give any information on the liquor investigation of A. F. Griffiths or on cost of the investigation was given in the Legislature yesterday when a motion in the name of A. M. Manson asking for a return showing what Griffith paid to Dal Thomas was voted down.

Attorney-General Pooley protested that it was not in the public interest to make public any news of the investigation at this time.

Mr. Manson protested that for eighteen months Griffiths had been working behind the scenes and the investigation had left an unsavory trail. The House should be informed what money he had paid to Dal Thomas and what services the latter had rendered to the Liquor Board. Mr. Manson questioned the wisdom of the investigation and said evidently it had revealed nothing, for there had been no striking dismissals. The Legislature had no information whether it had cost $35,000 or $100,000.

Derailed Cars Blocked Track

Nanaimo, March 21. — The southbound passenger train from Port Alberni yesterday afternoon was delayed by a train wreck on the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway at Nanoose, in which several cars of timber were derailed. There was no loss of life and the property loss was small.

The passenger train did not arrive at Nanaimo until 3 o'clock and the Vancouver ferry Princess Elaine was delayed one hour.

Another Record Goes As Boston Beats Maroons In Fast Game

THE SPORTS MIRROR

SIX OF the teams in the National Hockey League are now in the thick of the play-offs for the coveted Stanley Cup, which represents the world's professional hockey supremacy. One club, Boston, is out to hold onto the pewter they won last season, while five others are just as determined that the trophy will find a new resting place for the next twelve months. In the next two weeks there will be some hectic hockey battles in the east and it will be a case of the survival of the fittest. The Bruins have experienced a brilliant season, having finished far ahead in the American section, and smashed practically every record on the N.H.L. books.

* * *

In looking back a few years, the growth of the National Hockey League has been phenomenal. At the end of the war four clubs composed the eastern circuit, namely, Ottawa, Montreal Canadiens, Toronto St. Pats and Hamilton. Just eleven years have elapsed and now the league boasts ten teams and is split up into two circuits. And there is promise of additional clubs next year, and, as Frank Patrick forecasts, the day may not be far off when there will be two separate leagues, one in Canada and the other in the United States, with the two winners playing off at the end of the season for the world's championship.

* * *

In the 1924-25 season Hamilton finished at the top of the N.H.L., but refused to enter the play-offs, and the Canadiens were awarded the championship and came west to play the Victoria Cougars in the world's series. As local fans well remember, Victoria won the Stanley Cup. The next year the entire Hamilton club was sold to the New York Americans. The Boston Bruins and Montreal Maroons then entered the league to bring its strength up to seven.

* * *

When the 1926-27 season got under way the N.H.L. was brought up to its present strength, ten clubs, with the entrance of the New York Rangers, Chicago and Detroit. The latter three clubs were formed of players from the former Western Hockey Association, whose teams were sold to the N.H.L. At the end of this season the three leading clubs in the two sections met in a play-off series. The second and third teams played off and the winner met the leaders. It resulted in the two top clubs in both sections being defeated, and as a result much dissatisfaction was witnessed. The following year the present system was introduced. The third teams in both sections meet in a play-off, as do the second teams and the top teams. The winners of the third team play-off meet the winner of the second team series, and the winner plays the survivor of the competition between the two leading teams. In this manner one of the teams finishing at the top of either section is assured of a place in the finals.

* * *

It is very doubtful if any other club in the history of the N.H.L. has experienced the same sort of season as that of the Ottawa Senators during the present campaign. With the wide open forward pass in all areas in vogue at the start of the season, the Senators appeared unbeatable, particularly by other teams in the Canadian section of the league. Classed as a strictly defensive team in previous years, the Senators surprised hockey critics throughout the circuit by adapting themselves to the changed conditions quicker and better than any other team in the league, with the possible exception of the Boston Bruins. Then, when the forward pass was modified, Ottawa fell into a slump, and before they came out of it, dire predictions were made that they would drop back and land outside the play-offs. Newsy Lalonde, their manager, however, pulled the Senators together and made the grade.

* * *

The Montreal Maroons have also been somewhat of a surprise this season. They started this season after a campaign last year that saw them land in last place in the Canadian division. This year they are in the play-offs as champions of that same section, with a possibility of winning the title. What caused such a wonderful change? There are a number of answers. The return of Hooley Smith and Babe Siebert to their old form were the main reasons. The manner in which Dunc Munro, aided by Jerry Laflamme, led the team, and the not inconspicuous part the former played on the ice himself were other factors. Munro played telling hockey through the year, and despite the fact that he is supposed to have heart trouble, he played in a manner that ranks him as one of the league's premier defence men.

* * *

George Boucher was also quite a factor in their success. He was the Maroons' all-round reserve. Although he was not the spectacular old stick-handling wizard of yore, he still proved a useful player, and showed headwork and defensive ability that told when most needed. Maroons deserve their top position, and they carry the hopes of followers in the Canadian section that they will trounce Boston.

Hawks and Canadiens To Start Series on Sunday

Ottawa and New York Rangers Battle to 1-1 Tie in First Game of Third-place Series; New York Takes Lead and Protest Strongly When Ottawa Scores Goal as Whistle Blows to Tie Count.

The first battles of the National Hockey League titans in the series to decide the 1930 winner of the Stanley Cup and the world's professional hockey championship have brought a continuation of the record-breaking activities and the surprises of the regular season.

The Boston Bruins, defending champions, who set so many new records in their climb to the top of the American group, and the Canadian leaders, Montreal Maroons, set another new mark by struggling through the longest overtime game the National League has ever seen before, Boston finally won, 2-1.

The game at Montreal, first of a series of the best three out of five between the first-place teams, went through the regular sixty minutes and forty-five minutes of overtime play.

STRENUOUS BATTLE

Two goals coming three minutes apart in the second period, were the only breaks in the strenuous battle of the three regular periods. Then they went right on, stopping only to change sides after the third period and to clear the ice during the overtime, making it sixty-five minutes of almost steady play before a weary Harry Oliver of Boston, took a pass from Percy Galbraith and put a shot past an equally weary Flat Walsh, Maroon goalie. Dunc Munro, Maroon captain, opened the evening's scoring and Cooney Weiland made the tally that tied it up for Boston.

At Ottawa, the New York Rangers, battered third-place holder in the American Division, held the speedy young Ottawa Senators to a 1-1 tie in the first game of the third-place play-offs.

The second-place teams, Canadiens of Montreal and the Chicago Blackhawks, are not due to start their two game series until Sunday.

FIRST PERIOD

The Bruins took the offensive from the start, but were stopped at the Maroon blue line. Nels Stewart returned the puck to the Boston territory, where Barry took it away from him. Coming down the ice, Barry was tripped by Red Dutton, who incurred the first penalty of the series. Clapper, Weiland and Gainor combined to make several attacks on the Maroon net, but the Montrealers successfully repulsed them. The play was fast and both teams changed their front lines frequently. Opposing forward lines attacked with equal effect, the defencemen on both sides protecting the goalers so well that neither had many shots.

SUMMARY

First period—No score.

Penalties—Dutton, Hitchman, Barry.

SECOND PERIOD

After numerous penalties were handed out, the Maroons got the first goal of the series when Dave Trottier, going down the ice with Dunc Munro, passed to his teammate at the blue line, where Dunc took and drilled a hot one high into the corner. Cooney Weiland put Boston even with the Maroons three minutes after Munro's goal, when he scored on a pretty three-man play with Owen and Clapper. He shot a low fast shot which pound the net behind Walsh before the Maroon goalie knew it was coming. The Bruins were playing five men to the Maroon's four at the time. Play was somewhat slower as the period drew to a close.

SUMMARY

Second period—1, Maroons, Munro (Trottier) 9.41; 2, Bruins, Weiland (Owen) 2.53.

THIRD PERIOD

The third period was but a minute old when Eddie Shore and Hooley Smith were banched for roughing one another. The pace was fast and the substitutes got lots to do. The Montrealers were having a hard time holding off a determined attack and several times had to shoot "drifters" at Thompson to relieve the pressure.

As the play became rougher men fell on both sides, tripping body checking and general rough play being prevalent. Walsh was the hero for a few minutes as he was called upon to stop shot after shot of the Bruins. Once he was beneath a pile of Bruin and Maroon players ten feet out of his goal, but still in possession of the puck.

The Maroons had a slight edge on the period's play, but the Bruins were not far behind.

SUMMARY

Third period—No score.

Penalties—Shore, Smith and Barry.

FIRST OVERTIME PERIOD

Battling to a one-all tie in the sixty minutes of the regular session, the teams went into indefinite overtime, the first goal scored in the overtime to decide the result of the match Hitchman went off for roughing, but the Bruins went on the attack. Barry clashed with Babe Siebert behind the the Boston nets and the Maroon winnman had to be assisted off the ice.

Later Hooley Smith went down after a collision with Lionel Hitchman and a second Maroon's regular was helped to the bench. Feeling ran high among the spectators.

SUMMARY

First over time period—No score.

Penalties—Hitchman.

SECOND OVERTIME PERIOD

At the end of ten minutes play the teams changed ends and resumed play, there was never a let up in the pace as the opposing forward lines skated back and forth across the ice. At times Tiny Thomson was barraged with shots and at others Flat Walsh had a hard time to keep off the attack. Hooley Smith tripped Weiland as the latter was about

Slowly but surely the Bruins' Carson missed a certain chance to score when he missed an open net ten feet away after getting a pass from McKay.

Slowly but surely the Bruins superior aggression began to tell with Walsh having more shots to look after than Thompson. A beautiful four-man rush by Boston just failed to end the game, when Cooney Weiland missed the post.

At the end of ten minutes' play the teams changed ends and resumed play. There was never a let-up in the pace as the opposing forward lines skated back and forth across the ice. At times "Tiny" Thompson was barraged with shots and at others "Flat" Walsh had a hard time to keep off the attack. Carson passed up a certain chance to score when he missed an open net ten feet away after getting a pass from McKay.

By this time it was more than an hour since the regular time had finished, although neither team could get a goal. Play was comparatively slow in contrast to the first part of the game. Shooting was weak and passing poor, and each team missed dozens of chances to finish the long tussle.

Oliver at last gave the Bruins the game by skating down to beat Walsh easily on a pass from Galbraith.

THE LINE-UPS

Boston — Thompson, Shore, Hitchman, Barry, Oliver and Galbraith.

SUMMARY

First period—No score. Penalties: Dutton, Hitchman and Barry Smith.

Second period—1, Maroons, Munro (Trottier), 9.41; 2, Bruins, Weiland (Owen), 2.53. Penalties: Oliver, Galbraith, Munro, Shore (2), Wilcox and Ward.

Third period—No score. Penalties: Shore, Smith and Barry.

Scored For Maroons

DUNC MUNRO

husky defence star and playing manager of the Montreal Maroons, who scored their lone goal against the Boston Bruins yesterday evening in the first game of the Stanley Cup play-offs between the leaders of the two sections. Munro, a member of Canada's Olympic champions, the Toronto Granites, in 1924, was signed by the Maroons in 1925. At the start of the present season it was though Munro would not play, through a bad heart, but he has taken an active part throughout the entire schedule.

HOCKEY FINALS AT A GLANCE

At Montreal—Maroons 1, Boston Bruins 2.

At Ottawa—Senators 1, New York Rangers 1.

The next games will be as follows:

Sunday—Ottawa at New York.
Sunday—Canadiens at Chicago.

College Will Fight to Retain Title To-morrow

Fighting to retain the B.C. intermediate rugby championship, Victoria College, crack local champions who have completed their season here without a defeat, will run up against the fast-moving Ex-Magee squad, Mainland titleholders in their division, at the Willows to-morrow at 3.15 o'clock.

The Ex-Magee men won the Vancouver title in a fast and tricky match from the Meralomas last Saturday and promise to keep the champions playing all out in the game here.

Three clever backfield men, Louis Chodat, Saundry and Jerry Hewer, are expected to bother the Collegians considerably and should put up good exhibitions if they live up to their reputations.

The visitors also have a heavy scrum that should go well if the ground is heavy.

Trail and Ports to Settle Championship

Meet in Second Game To-night For Western Canadian Amateur Hockey Title

B.C. Champions Enter Game With Two-goal Lead; Teams Will Be Changed

Port Arthur, Ont., March 21.—Championship of amateur hockey in the west is the prize at stake to-night as Port Arthur and Trail battle in the second encounter of a two-game series. The Smoke Eaters from British Columbia striving for an honor that has never come to the coast province, hold a 2-1 lead by virtue of hard-won victory Wednesday.

But the Ports, holders of the Canadian championship, are reaching out for a chance at their fourth Allan Cup in six years. Coached by Albert Pudas, right winger of the Lakehead squads first titled sextet in 1924-25, Port Arthur plans a determined try on the two-goal margin held by the smelter employees.

TO CHANGE TEAMS

Ali, Dupuis, reserve goalie for the Allan Cup holders, is expected to be between the posts to-night. He will probably replace young Gordon MacQuoil, dependable regular, who suffered a nervous breakdown in the midst of the Wednesday contest. But Dupuis, if he is used, should not weaken the team. Continues' last period attacking by the Trail men gained only one tally against Dupis Wednesday and that was virtually impossible to prevent.

Veteran Carl Kendall, thirty-eight-year-old playing boss of the brigade from British Columbia's interior, is also likely to make a change in his team.

J.B.A.A. Oarsmen Will Hold Annual Meeting Monday

On Monday evening next the annual meeting of the J.B.A.A. oarsmen will be held in their quarters at the Gorge. The gathering will be presided over by President R. V. Taylor and all members are requested to attend, as plans and prospects for the season will be discussed. Preliminary arrangements for the May 24, the N.P.A.A.O. and club regattas will be drawn up. During the evening the president will present the following cups to club members: Flumerfelt, Helmcken, Mallandaine and The Daily Times. These cups were won at the last club regatta.

Hansen Stages A Comeback To Win Over Strack

Vancouver, March 21.—Charlie Hansen, veteran Seattle grappler, defeated Charlie Strack, Oklahoma giant, in the feature contest on yesterday evening's wrestling card here. Hansen, after absorbing a lot of punishment from Strack's headlocks for seven rounds, suddenly snapped out of his apparent grogginess in the eighth canto of the scheduled ten-round match and put his opponent out with a headlock and body slam.

Jack McLaughlin, Vancouver middleweight, defeated Lance of Seattle with a headlock in the dying minutes of their preliminary set-to, while Taro Mayake, veteran Japanese jiu-jitsu expert, defeated Moose Norbeck of Minnesota in the third round of the ten-round semi-final. The Jap spotted Norbeck thirty-three pounds in weight and twenty-five years in age, but was still too good for his youthful opponent.

COMBINATION CUP MATCHES ARE CARDED

Saanich Thistles to Oppose Jokers; Former Change Team Around

Esquimalt Meet Five C's; Two Junior Cup-ties Scheduled To-morrow

Four First Division soccer elevens will be engaged to-morrow afternoon in Combination Cup matches. At the Royal Athletic Park, the Saanich Thistles, winners of the league championship, will oppose the Jokers, while at Beacon Hill, Esquimalt and the Five C's will hook up. Both games will start at 2.45 o'clock.

Victoria West, leaders in this competition, and Victoria City, will both be idle to-morrow.

In an effort to come out of the slump that has hit them during the last month or so the Thistles have made several changes in their team for to-morrow's match. Joe Crowe, who has held down one of the full-back positions, will move up to the centre-half, while Armitage, one of the halves, will drop back to Crowe's place. Johnny Ewing, who has been out of the game for some time, will return to his old position at left wing. The Jokers will field their usual team and are looking forward to a victory.

After taking a licking from the Wests last Saturday in a Jackson Cup match, Esquimalt are out to take the C's into camp in what should prove an interesting struggle.

TWO CUP TIES

In the Junior League two cup ties and one league fixture will put six of the clubs in action. Esquimalt and James Island, the only two clubs entered in the Provincial Cup series, will meet in an elimination match at James Islands, the winners to enter the series against mainland competition. In the Davis Cup semi-final replay, Victoria City oppose Royal Oak at the Central Park. In the league match Oaklands will journey to Sidney. All these games commence at 2.45 o'clock.

Juvenile League teams will all be in action with four matches carded. They follow:

Division I—Chinese Canadian Club vs. Victoria West, at Central Park; kick-off at 2.30 o'clock.

Division II—Langford vs. Sons of England, upper grounds, Beacon Hill. Five C's vs. Saanich Thistles, lower grounds, Beacon Hill. Kick-off at 1.30 o'clock.

Five C's—Farquhar; Burgess and Harwood (captain); Reg. Shanks, McConnell and Moulton; Linsley, Bundock, Quainton, Bob Shanks and Nicol. Reserve, G. Fish.

Victoria West, Division I., juveniles—Lund; Luttrell and Campbell; Fraser, Colgate and Rickenson; Dawson, Purdy, Bichard, Kennedy and McInnes.

WILL DECIDE ISLAND TITLES

Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Championships at Chemainus To-night

To-night will witness the deciding of the Vancouver Island amateur boxing championships at the show to be held at Chemainus by the Chemainus Recreation Club. Eleven bouts will be staged with boxers from all parts of the Island competing.

Entries for the tournament have been received from Victoria, Duncan, Ladysmith, Port Alberni and Nanaimo, in addition to those received from the Chemainus club. The first bout will commence at 7.45 o'clock.

Junior class, 95 pounds—Babe Work, Chemainus, vs. Gus Crucil, Chemainus; Al Sharkey, Chemainus, vs. Billy Hunter, Ladysmith.

Middleweights, 160 pounds — Art Spruston, Chemainus, vs. P. Bailey, Victoria.

"Sink" Swanson, Nanaimo, will be the referee. All bouts will be of three rounds, each of three minutes' duration.

Carnera Scores His Eleventh Knockout Win

Jacksonville, Fla., March 21.—Primo Carnera, giant Italian, scored his eleventh knockout in the United States here yesterday evening, when he put Frank Zavita, a Newark heavyweight, to sleep in the first round of their scheduled ten-round bout. The fight lasted one minute and fifty-one seconds. Carnera drove a terrific right into Zavita's side and it was enough to end the bout.

HORSE RACING

Agua Caliente, March 21.—Brown Wisdom, from the Reichert stable, smouldered the heavy impost of 126 pounds and then trouced a group of nominees for the Agua Caliente handicap in the Broadway Limited Handicap at the Mexican track yesterday. The winner, second choice in the betting, paid $6.40 for a $2 ticket. Naishapur, the favorite, finished fifth.

Brown Wisdom went to the front at once and won as his rider pleased by three lengths. Hatrick was second and Scimitar third.

Results follow:

First race, five and one-half furlongs—1, Nifty, $5.40, $3.20, $2.40; 2, Macon, $2.80, $2.20; 3, Little Pat, $2.80. Time 1.07 1-5.

Second race, mile and one-sixteenth—1, Ida Fitpatrick, $9.40, $3.40, $3.60; 2, King's Court, $10.80, $6.00; 3, Dr. Ben, $5.60. Time 1.48 4-5.

SEMI-FINALS OF BOTH CUPS ON TO-MORROW

English and Scottish Football Teams to Seek Places in Finals

Former Ties Regarded Fairly Even; Glasgow Rangers Favored to Win

Canadian Press

London, March 21.—English and Scottish Football Association Cup ties reach the semi-final stage to-morrow. In England the semi-final matches are:

The Wednesday vs. Huddersfield Town on the grounds of Manchester United.

Hull City vs. Arsenal on the grounds of Leeds United.

Hearts vs. Rangers at Hampden Park.

The English ties are regarded as fairly even affairs as cup competitions go. On league form the Wednesday and Arsenal should win, but league performances are not a good criterion for judging what a team will do in a cup match. The records of the English semi-finalists in the cup competition this year are:

The Wednesday—Burnley, 1-0; Oldham, 4-3; Bradford, 5-1; Notts Forest, 2-2, 3-1.

RANGERS SHOULD WIN

Rangers, by their great record to date, are favorites to beat Hearts. It must be remembered, however, that Hearts have twice defeated Rangers in league games this season. Hamilton Academicals have long been a quiet tip as cup winners and they gathered a large following when they eliminated Kilmarnock, the cup holders, in the second round and afterwards beat St. Mirren in the fourth round. On the other hand Partick Thistle beat Aberdeen, one of the strongest clubs in Scotland, in the course of their trip to the semi-finals.

Hamilton Academicals—Stenhousemuir, 6-0; Kilmarnock, 4-2; King's Park, 4-0; St. Mirren, 4-3.

Jimmy Thompson

Hockey scribes have been debating the question of who will make up the 1930 All-star team in the National Hockey League. Sporting editors have been publishing their choice for some time now and the sporting fraternity are all making their selections. But readily all agree that the question is impossible and can't be answered because it's a matter of individual taste, and individual opinions. Maybe it is, but what's wrong with taking the majority of these so-called individual opinions of the sporting fans themselves. Are they not the boys who keep the game going by paying the shot? Why shouldn't they have a spin at the selection of this team?

Jimmy Thompson, the sports cartoonist of The Times, through a hook-up of about twenty-five Canadian daily papers, from coast to coast, will give the hockey fan a chance to pick this All-star team for 1930 through popular opinion. Watch Jimmy's cartoon to-morrow on how you may help solve this question.

Schedules Indicate Good Games In All Classes This Year

Women's and Men's Senior A Divisions to Start Play April 2; Twenty Teams Entered in Three Sections; All Finals To Be Staged on April 12; Games To Be Played in Y.M.C.A. Gym. on Wednesday and Saturday Evenings.

Teams in the B Section of the Y.M.C.A. basketball knockout series will swing into action next Wednesday evening when the "Y" Business Men clash with the Forresters, the Sons of Canada take the floor against Victoria High School and Jordan River battles James Island. All matches will be played at the gymnasium of the "Y."

The following Wednesday the Senior "A" division will start operations with Pedens and the Capitals featured. C.P.S. and Duncan, the other two teams in this class, will play on April 5, while the finals will be staged on April 12.

The women's teams will also open their schedule on April 2, when the J.B.A.A. clash with the Axioms. On April 5 Keating will take the floor against Harmony, while on April 9 the winners of the latter fixture will meet the Red Birds in the semi-finals. Champions will be decided on April 12.

Before the men's "A" and women's divisions start, the "B" section will have gone through its second round. A week from to-morrow the "Y" intermediates will battle the Doo Dads, while the winner of the Sons of Canada-Victoria High tilt will meet the West Road. The card will be completed with a fixture between Keating and the winners of the "Y" Business Men-Foresters' encounter.

CHAMPIONSHIPS APRIL 12

The committee in charge of the series has arranged the programme so that from April 2 to the finals, each card will see teams from the three divisions represented. All championship games will be played on April 12.

With twenty teams in the three classes fans are looking forward to some good ball during the contests and will have an opportunity to see the city and Island champions in the different leagues play in post league fixtures.

The complete schedule follows:

MEN'S "B" CLASS

April 5—C.P.S. vs. Duncan.

WOMEN'S DIVISION

April 2—J.B.A.A. vs. Axioms.

April 5—Keating vs. Harmony.

April 12—Final.

BUCKS GO ON RAMPAGE TO BLANK CUBS

Portland Regains Tie For Coast Hockey Leadership By Scoring 8-0 Victory

Most Loosely Played Game at Rose City This Season; Finals Open Monday

Canadian Press

Portland, March 21.—The Portland Buckaroos went on a scoring rampage yesterday evening to defeat the Victoria Cubs, 8-0, at the Coliseum, and go back into a tie with Vancouver for the Pacific Coast Hockey League leadership. As hockey contests go, it was about the most loosely played game seen with a higher score and that was scored by Portland were the most chalked up in any one game here this season. There was only one game in the league for the season 10-0, when Seattle swamped Victoria 10.0.

Portland scored two of its goals in the first period, three more in the second and three in the third. The most sensational of the eight and, in fact, of the entire season here was the second goal of the game made by Jack Pratt, the locomotive defence star. Pratt attempted to dive between two Victoria defence men, but was tripped up for a bad spill. As he sprawled on the ice he took a crack at the puck and the frozen rubber sailed past Goalie Robertson, who naturally did not anticipate any such move from Pratt after he hit the ice.

COUPEZ SCORES THREE

Louis Coupez led the Portland attack with three of the eight goals. Due to a lack of hard checking there were few penalties. The teams played through the first peeriod and five minutes of the second before Referee Ion sent anyone to the bench.

Portland meets Seattle to-night at Seattle and Vancouver takes on Victoria in the final games of the regular schedule.

The play-off series between Portland and Vancouver for the league championship starts Monday at Vancouver. The two teams return here next Thursday for the second game of the series.

The line-ups:

Portland—Aitkenhead, Pratt, McGoldrick, Conn, Teel and Lyons.

Referee—Mickey Ion.

Summary:

First period—1, Portland, McGoldrick (Conn), 2.43; 2, Portland, Pratt, 5.49.

Second period—3, Portland, Huffman (Coupez), 5.06; 4, Portland, Coupez (Armstrong), 7.31; 5, Portland, Downie (Conn), 2.03. Penalties: Pratt, H. Runge, Kenny and Armstrong.

Third period—6, Portland, Huffman (McGoldrick), 2.49; 7, Portland, Coupez (Armstrong), 7.40; 8, Portland, Downie (Conn), 4.48. Penalties: H. Runge (2), Armstrong.

Regina Pats Win Hockey Series Against Calgary

Winnipeg, March 21.—Without once denting a hard-hitting Regina defence, Calgary Canadians, junior hopes of the Far West, went out of the Memorial Cup race yesterday evening.

Canadians waded through 120 minutes of torrid hockey for a "break" they never sighted. Al Ritchie's Pats from Regina plunged through a six-man defensive system that at first seemed impregnable and in the same time scored six goals. They won to-night's semi-final 4-0, to enter the western final of the Canadian junior play-downs against Winnipeg Elmwoods. Pats took the first game of the series 2-0.

BURKE LEADS IN LA GORCE OPEN TOURNEY

Young West Professional Shoots Below Par Golf For 68 at Miami

Craig Wood Second and Horton Smith Third; Sarazen Turns in a 74

Miami Beach, Fla., March 21.—Billy Burke, young professional, of Westport, N.Y., shot below par golf to lead the field with a 68 at the end of the first eighteen holes of the seventy-two-hole $15,000 La Gorce open tournament here yesterday.

Burke, knocking three off par, turned in 34's on both outward and homeward nines. His card showed four birdies, with only one hole over par.

Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N.J., was second among the sixty-four qualifiers, chalking up a 70 for the eighteen-hole round. Wood had a 36 for the first nine but came back with a 34.

SMITH THIRD

In third place was Horton Smith, Craigston, N.Y., winner of first-prize money last year. Bill Mehlhorn, Pensacola, and Clarence Gamber, Boca Roton, Fla., were tied with 71 each. Mehlhorn took a 36 going out and a 35 coming in, while Gamber and Smith marked up 34's on the first nine and 37's on the second.

Ed Dudley, Wilmington, Del.; Tom Rackets, Cleveland, and Tommy Armour, Boca Roton, followed with 72's. Gene Sarazen, Fresh Meadows, L.I., found the traps on the par fourth and tenth, running his total to 74.

Johnny Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla., who took top money in 1928, played a steady game throughout, but the greens took a heavy toll in putts. He added a 37 on the final nine to a 37 on the outward trip for a 74.

Oregon College and Local Swimmers To Meet On Saturday

VICTORIA PREPARED FOR GALA

Tom Wellburn to Lead Pick of Local Clubs Against Oregon College Stars

Good Polo Game Expected Between Crystal Garden and Visiting Squad

Led by Tom Wellburn, veteran local swimmer, who is coming to town specially for the meet, the best aquatic material Victoria can muster, will meet the Oregon Aggies in the exhibition gala at the Crystal Garden to-morrow evening. While it is recognized that the locals will be fighting an uphill battle against the highly trained college team, followers of the game expect to see a high standard of swimming.

Wellburn appears to be the city's biggest hope for the meet, but whether or not he will be able to flash his old form will depend upon the condition he is in. Tom has been away from competitive swimming for over a year, but volunteered to help the local clubs out when they were caught short of entries at the last minute.

GOOD CONTENDERS

In the sprints, Don Wilson, fast young Brentwood College boy, will join Wellburn. A strong contingent, including W. T. M. Barrett, former provincial titleholder, will try the plunge for distance.

Bill Findlay and Ted Slingsby will take part in the quarter-mile, while R. Fisher will swim with Wellburn in the hundred.

The Crystal Garden water polo team, including R. W. Hibberson, Jamie Cameron, Jock McNeill, R. Fisher, Bill Robertson, Tom Wellburn and Bob Lawrence, will take on the crack visiting team in what should prove an interesting match. The Garden players have been working out fairly regularly, and will be in fair shape for the game.

In addition to the men's races, the fair sex members of the Y.M.C.A. and the Crystal Garden will provide some good races both in free style sprints and short distances.

FINE DIVING EXPECTED

Of outstanding interest promises to be the men's diving. Against Allan Stewart, crack "Y" boy, the visitors will send two of their spring board aces who have been showing good form in recent meets in Portland.

The complete programme, with the local entries, follows:

The complete programme, giving the local competitors in each event, follows:

Fifty yeards free style, ladies—Wanda Spencer and Winnie Pollard, Crystal Garden; Eleanor Peden and Helen Beck, Y.M.C.A.

Michigan Centre Block Always Good

By SOL METZGER

It's an old trick of the basketball trade, this legal centre block play used by Michigan. And like all others it is always good when it works. No. 2 drives right at the back of the opposing centre when the ball is tossed up. As he takes it he turns to his left.

Meantime forward No. 3 breaks down court to draw his guard away from the basket. After No. 1 taps the ball he slides off the right side of the opposing centre and rushes for the basket. His immediate opponent is sore put. He cannot break straight back to cover No. 1, as No. 2 with the ball is in his immediate rear.

No. 1 thus gets a lead for the basket. He looks over his right shoulder for the ball. No. 2 dribbles a step or two to the right and passes it to him. A dribble and shot and two points for the Wolverines.

WHEN GATE CRASHIN' IS A FINE ART

Amateur hockey has staged a comeback. In Toronto where they are battling for the Ontario championship, tickets reached a new high, it being rumored that they went to $10 a ducat. Even the hard-boiled pro fans have been forced to admit that the amateur code of playing rules still provides just as many thrills and is easier to understand. These games are conducted from coast to coast for both the Allan Cup and O.H.A. Memorial Cup at Toronto and Winnipeg, respectively. Last week when the play-offs started the teams stood as follows and will culminate in the final games in Toronto on Thursday, March 27 and Saturday, March 29. The provincial winners and the runners-up in the various branches of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, from the Atlantic to the Pacific are as follows: Maritime Provinces, winners, Truro, N.S.; runners-up, Bathurst, N.B. Quebec winners, Montreal A.A.A.; runners-up, St. Francois Xavier. Ottawa and district, winners, Ottawa Shamrocks; runners-up, Brockville. Ontario, winners, Hamilton, runners-up, University of Toronto. Northern Ontario, winners, Iroquois Falls. Thunder Bay, winners, Port Arthur; runners-up, Port Frances. Manitoba, winners, Winnipeg Elmwoods; runners-up, Souris. Saskatchewan, winners, Saskatoon; runners-up, Weyburn. Alberta, winners, Blairmore; runners-up, Edmonton. British Columbia, winners, Trail; runners-up, Vancouver.

OLIVER SINKS WINNING GOAL AFTER NEARLY TWO HOURS OF HECTIC PLAY

Overtime period—3, Boston, Oliver from Galbraith, 45.35. Penalty: Hitchman.

FIRST PERIOD

The first sure looking one that went wrong fell to Clancy. The Ottawa captain went in to get the rebound of his previous shot which knocked Roach off his toes. The Rangers' citadel was practically unguarded, but King, over anxious, drove the puck wide of the mark.

After 9 m. 45 s., Bourgeault scored surprise goal to give the Gothamites the lead. His high shot from centre ice got out of Connell's vision range and went into the twine over the netman's right shoulder. By their smoother working, short passing play the Rangers were carrying the brunt of the offensive work as the period closed.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, New York, Bourgeault, 9.45. Penalties, F. Cook and Finnigan.

Second Period—The Senators resorted to a strictly combination form of attack that gained little ground owing to the stiff back-checking of Lester Patrick's men. After Ching Johnson was penalized for holding, the New Yorkers played strictly defensive until again at full strength, but Murdock was chased almost immediately for tripping Clancy, and the Senators' withering fire again was turned on the visitors' cage.

Stalled momentarily as the homester goal was with every trick they possessed and only the phenomenal work of Goalie Roach held off sure shots Lamb, Clancy and Hec. Kilrea sent his way, the Senators had much the better of the period but could not rattle one past the crafty Roach.

SUMMARY

Second Period—No score. Penalties, Johnston, Murdock, Finnigan and Lamb.

THIRD PERIOD

Rangers appeared content to lay back with their lead. They did not manage to pierce past the home front line in five minutes. Roach had to take time out for repairs when the puck caught him in the left eye, leaving him dazed. He returned after a couple of minutes.

At 6.45 Gagne collared the puck, circled the net and tied the score. One of the referees blew his whistle just as the puck found the goal twine, and Rangers kicked vigorously but the officials ruled the counter legitimate.

SUMMARY

Third Period—2, Ottawa, Gagne, 6.46. Penalties, A. Smith, Taylor, Murdock, Reise. Shots on goal, Roach, 11-9-13—33. Connell, 11-4-9—24.

THE LINE-UPS

N.Y. Rangers—Roach, Johnson, Reise, Vail, W. Cook and F. Cook.

Ottawa subs—Shields, Gagne, Cox, Touhey, Starr, A. Kilrea, Hutton and Howe.

Referees—Cleghorn and Mallinson.

SUMMARY

Second period—No score. Penalties: Johnson, Murdock, Finnigan and Lamb.

Third period—2, Ottawa, Gagne, 6.45. Penalties: A. Smith, Taylor, Murdock and Reise.

WEST ROAD TO ACT AS HOSTS

Will Wind Up Season To-morrow Night By Playing Fulford and Royal Oak

West Road hoopsters will wind up their home season to-morrow night with three games. In the opening game of the card the suburbanite intermediate men's quintette will oppose a team from Royal Oak, while the senior men and women will play teams from Fulford Harbor.

The West Road intermediates have displayed some great ability this season, but when they play the Royal Oak boys they will have to step all the way to win.

In the women's game the home team are favored to come through with a win, as they have been practically unbeatable on their home floor this year. With a team composed mostly of Harmony girls, they are a strong team, and one which is capable of holding their own with any women's five on the Island.

George Lannon and his boys will be out to finish the season with a win, and if all goes well they should cop their game with the Fulford men in easy fashion. When it comes to accurate shooting, this bunch of ball-tossers are good on their home floor. Fulford are, however, a team that will fight from the drop of the hat.

The first game will start at 7.45, with the usual dance and refreshments following the games.

Bowling

In the City League bowling fixture played yesterday evening at the Arcade Alleys, the Colonist Night Owls won all three games from the Jokers. The city champions were in rare form and handed a coat of whitewash to Art Porter's representatives. Dave Clarke, of the Night Owls, led the individual scorers with 208, while Harry Moulton, a teammate, won aggregate honors with 514.

Another Colonist team chalked up a victory yesterday evening when the Colonist Scribes won two out of three games from The Times in a Fivepin League fixture. L. Grieve, of the Scribes, was high individual and aggregate scorer with 841 and 935.

TRAINING GOSSIP

Manager John McGraw finally has lost patience with that holdout, Ed. Rousch, veteran outfielder of the New York Giants.

McGraw has sent a wire to Rousch's home ordering the outfielder to appear here by Sunday night or suffer the consequences. What these will be McGraw declined to say.

Heinie Manush leading hit maker of the St. Louis Browns, signed a contract yesterday. Manush named an increase over last year which the Browns would not grant.

Not a little worried and somewhat remorseful, Shires Arthur Shires is expected to change his mind about forgetting the White Sox, and make a final, personal appeal for reinstatement to Charles A. Comsiky.

After receiving Comisky's demand that he first explain his difficiulties in the prize ring before he would be reinstated, Shires explosively announced he would play semi-pro baseball this season and asked to be placed on the voluntarily retired list.

TWO DOUBLES GAMES CLOSE IN TOURNEY

McCaghey Extended to Defeat Grimes in Singles Fixture; Draw Changed

Currie and Hawes, who have been bowling consistently in the doubles class of the Capital City and District Carpet Bowling tournament at the Crystal Garden, advanced another round closer the championship in their division when they sent Bland and Bossom down to a 24-10 defeat in the feature game of the tourney yesterday evening.

The losers held their opponents up to the last few ends, but failed to rally when the winners pulled to the front.

IS EXTENDED

In the singles section McCaghey was extended to beat Grimes, but the other favorites advanced with easy victories.

A change in the draw for this evening's encounters will see Stewart meeting McMillan on No. 4 table at 8.45 o'clock. Groutage was scheduled to play the latter.

Yesterday evening's results and to-morrow's draw follows:

OPEN DOUBLES

Currie and Hawes 24, Bland and Bossom 10.

Fisher and Wilson 14, Cruickshank and McCaghey 22.

AN OLD TIMER'S SCRAP BOOK BY TIM McGRATH

Tim McGrath Thought Sailors Were Boobs Until He Met Tom Sharkey

Tom Sharkey and this writer met up to make ring history just because I thought sailors were a lot of "boobs."

Word reached San Francisco that the crew of the old cruiser Philadelphia were ready to bet $10 a man that their master-at-arms, Sharkey, would lick any heavyweight on the Pacific coast. There were 700 in the crew. Feeling I ought to cut in, I got busy around Vallejo, site of the Mare Island navy yard.

I had a fair heavyweight, whom I sent up to "work" in the yard. Then I began talking of a fight. A boatswain from the Philadelphia, who managed Sharkey, met me, with a terrific wad of dough to bet. That set me to thinking.

"Let's see this sailor," I said, after articles were signed. The door opened, and in walked the huskiest sailor I've ever seen. When he was introduced, I stepped back and got an eyeful. Then I tore the fight articles to pieces.

"If you don't make a champion, I don't know a natural fighter," I told Sharkey.

"Well, then," said Tom in his rich brogue, "if that's the way you feel about it, go get me some fights."

And there started our ten-year partnership and lifetime friendship.

* * *

I came back raving about Sharkey. The fight fans laughed.

Some nights later, I contrived to get him introduced in the ring at a Colma fight. The Philadelphia's band came along—all A.W.O.L., it turned out later. But this didn't impress. The crowd laughed. Sailors were boobs.

The late W. W. Naughton was at the fight. I presentde Sharkey. Naughton was impressed. He wrote an article on him which was widely copied. Sharkey beat three tough opponents. And we were over, for a career that brought Sharkey a permanent place in pugilism's Hall of Fame.

Kinsmen Founding Honored At Canada-wide Function

Twenty-six Clubs in Dominion Gather For Anniversary Dinner

Meetings Start at Same Hour All Over Canada; Gramaphone Message

Kinsmen throughout the Dominion of Canada sat down to dinner simultaneously yesterday evening to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the founding of the club.

The Victoria club, the most westerly in the organization, started dinner at 6 o'clock.

Montreal, the most easterly, started at 9 o'clock, eastern standard time. The twenty-four other clubs in the Dominion sat down at various other times according to their location. A total of 993 members, representing 91 per cent of the roster of the organization attended the twenty-six gatherings.

A dinner schedule arranged by the national headquarters of the club was so fixed that all clubs would be doing the same thing at the same time.

Four clocks, set to represent the different time divisions across the Dominion, graced the table of the local club, which held its meeting in the Empress Hotel with President Stanley Miles in the chair.

At 6.35 o'clock, the same minute as the rest of the clubs, the toast to the King was honored, followed by the singing of "O Canada" and "The Kinsmen Song."

CHEERS FOR KINSMEN

The president then called for three cheers for brother Kinsmen which were given in lusty style.

Following the introduction of guests, S. H. Bantick of Toronto, national president, addressed the members through the medium of the phonograph, conveying a message of fervor, patriotism and service. In part, he said:

"Ten years ago a little group of fifteen young men, under the leadership of Harold Rogers of Hamilton, formed in that city the first Kinsmen Club.

"To-night, ten years later, we have an association of Kinsmen clubs, twenty-seven in number, with a membership of over 1,100.

"Our proud position in the service clubs of our country to-day, is that we are the only solely Canadian Young Men's Service Club in Canada.

PATRIOTISM

"Above and beyond our local community work we Kinsmen are attempting a service to our beloved Canada as a whole in that we strive to put into effect our great ideal, That a spirit of true Canadian nationalism and patriotism as a nation within the British Empire, be fostered and stimulated, and that unity of thought and purpose throughout the Dominion of Canada be established."

President Bantick conveyed the greetings of the national executive and

STANLEY F. MILES
President of the Local Kinsmen Club

paid tribute to the past leaders of the organization.

Next on the time schedule came a musical selection, after which Ernest L. Stock, the vice-president, read a message from the club founder, Harold Rogers, who spoke of the fine organization which had grown out of the original group in Hamilton.

"Kinsmanship is to me almost a religion," the founder's message said, "an ever-increasing inspiration, an ideal and cherished treasure of fellowship and friendship, an opportunity and a challenge; a religion in its teachings of service, an inspiration in its activities, an ideal found in its policies, a friendship of the finest men I know throughout the entire Dominion, an opportunity and a constant challenge in the work undertaken."

GOVERNOR'S GREETINGS

President Miles then read greetings from the district governor, J. Hutcheson of Vancouver, who spoke with confidence of the future of Kinsmanship.

"While much progress has already been made, I believe that the Kinsmen Club is really only started, and we can with confidence look forward to the time in the not distant future, when it will be the desire of all young men who feel the urge to be of service to others to belong to the Kinsmen Club, and that club will come to wield an influence for good throughout the country that cannot be fully appreciated now," the governor said.

After another musical selection, the principal speaker of the evening, V. L. Denton of the Normal School, was called upon.

The thanks of the club to Mr. Denton were expressed by Kinsman W. J. Thomson.

Herbert Sabiston, secretary, read the invitation from the Host Club president to the national convention in the east.

Following the report of the registrar, J. M. Green, regarding the national attendance, the meeting closed with a few remarks by the president and the National Anthem.

V. L. Denton Addresses Local Club on Canada's Increasing Status

Vacant Spaces Are Biggest Heritage, He Says, on Immigration

A concise and intensely interesting discussion of Canada's Imperial status, her growth and future problems was given by V. L. Denton of the Normal School, in an address before the Kinsman Club of Victoria yesterday evening in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Denton took as his subject "I Am a Citizen of No Mean Country."

"The Canada you see to-day is not the Canada I saw when I was a boy," he said, remarking on the growth of the Dominion in recent years.

He recalled the days when Canada's military and naval forces were under British jurisdiction and when Canadian legislation was subject to revision.

"In a short forty years Canada has grown up to be practically a sovereign state," he declared.

Imperial conferences, taking over of national defences, Canada's answer in the war and the 1926 conference which established Canada as a "full-fledged member" of the British Commonwealth of Nations, were described by Mr. Denton. As a nation, he said, Canada was four years old.

ACQUIRED POWERS

Canada's growth in the last twenty-five or thirty years had seen the Dominion acquiring powers. As yet it had not gained extra-territorial powers. The question therefore arose "Should there be a Canadian navy, or could Canada, under the protection of the League of Nations, continue indefinitely?" This was, he declared, a question which should now be decided.

A sovereign state should be able to give protection to its nationals in foreign lands, he added.

This, he said, brought up the question of a navy police for the world. Could there be developed a naval police, or could all the nations maintain their navies and still belong to the League of Nations?

NATIONAL FLAG

A second point as far as Canada was concerned was that of a national flag. He referred to an article on this point printed in The Cowichan Leader.

Australia, he said, had selected a national flag, which flew on all occasions, was carried on her ships, and denoted Australia to the world. So had South Africa. Within the next five years, he thought, a decision would be made with regard to a flag for Canada, but he hoped it would not be made a political football, as it had been in South Africa.

"IN RESPECT" OF CANADA

Mr. Denton referred to the change in Canada's Imperial dealings, pointing out that treaties of Canada were now signed by the King "in respect" of Canada, rather than as the sovereign of the Empire. Moreover, Canada's dealings with Britain were now done directly, and not through the Governor-General. The Supreme Court of Canada had not, however, yet received the final arbitrant judicial power. Appeals to the Privy Council were still possible. This would be another step toward increasing Canada's powers In this respect he referred to difficulty which counsel had found in taking cases before the Privy Council through a certain lack of understanding of customs in Canada.

Development of Canada's diplomatic powers were next discussed by the speaker, who pointed out that in 1927 the first trade agreement was made by Canada without an official representative of Britain. The states of the Empire now had the right to make their own treaties. Thus, if a "Treaty of Versailles" were again signed, Canada would be a signatory.

DIPLOMATIC GROWTH

Canada's ministers in Washington and Tokio and her growing diplomatic corps were instanced by the speaker in enlarging this theme. Moreover, Canada had trade commissioners in many cities and countries where Britain also had commissioners. It was a new situation entirely.

"When I was a boy, such a thing was an impossibility. All trade arrangements with Canada were made by British consuls, who, of course, looked after the interests of their own country first," he said.

AHEAD OF MASSES

Mr. Denton said that the leaders of Canada were many years in advance of the 10,000,000 odd people in the Dominion in securing these powers.

"Catch cries in hard times sometimes gain a large following," said the speaker in reference to suggestions of annexation to the United States and a Canadian republic.

The other angle of the situation had to do with Canada internally, said Mr. Denton. Canadian ideals must be considered. As a nation, these would not be borrowed from the Mother Country, as they would be if Canada were still a colony.

IMMIGRATION

Foremost among these was the immigration question, on which, he said, "more slut and nonsense" had been placed before the people than on anything else. He referred to the difficult situation which had arisen in the United States owing to unrestricted immigration, finally resulting in quota laws.

Canada was due in the next ten years to face this question seriously. In New England, for instance, sixty per cent of the people were foreign born.

"Do you want to see Canada like that in twenty years? We must watch the handwriting on the wall. For the sake of doubling our population are you willing to see this?" he asked.

REACHED PEAK!

While it was argued Canada needed more people for development of her land and railways, etc., Mr. Denton claimed that in the case of wheat production the peak had been reached. Within a few years the farmers would have to turn their attention to better wheat rather than more wheat.

Canada's land, he said, should be allowed to take care of the natural increase, warning against over-population and attending dangers.

BIGGEST HERITAGE

"Our biggest heritage is our vacant spaces. Let us grow slowly and escape quota laws, dolos, Fascism and possibly Bolshevism," he declared.

Mr. Denton referred to the situation in Italy, which was crowded with people. He suggested that Mussolini's attitude against migration might be the undoing of Fascism.

The Doukhobors were a glaring example of bloc immigration, he said, in denouncing this policy as "very bad." He did not favor federal or provincial-aided immigration.

The immigrant, he said, did not acquire Canadian ideals, and thus formed a certain danger in this manner.

Canada to-day ranked fourth in the world in export and import trade and in wealth per capita. This was really a marvelous thing.

"Bring in ten million people in the next ten years and you dilute this ratio in half. China with her 400,000,000 people is an example of this," he said.

GREATEST ASSET

In conclusion Mr. Denton, quoted the words of R. J. Cromie, publisher of The Vancouver Sun, to the effect that Canada's small population was her greatest asset.

He also referred briefly to the conservation of natural resources as a wise policy.

IMMIGRATION CONFERENCE AT AN EARLY DATE

Prairie Province Premiers May Discuss Plans Following Federal Announcement

Regina, March 21.—Possibility of a conference between the premiers of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, with a view to settling the provinces' attitude respecting immigration, was indicated by Premier J. T. M. Anderson in a statement made yesterday following a meeting with W. J. Egan, Deputy Minister of Immigration, who is here from Ottawa.

Premier Anderson said the Federal Government had agreed immigration should come under the jurdisdiction of the provinces and that in future Saskatchewan would be in a position to discriminate as to the type of immigrants desired.

The government also would be held responsible for such immigrants requested by the province who later might become a charge, although in another province a time limit is suggested for such cases.

Edmonton, March 21.—Referring to Premier Anderson's statement, Premier Brownlee of Alberta, stated he had no definite word of such a conference.

He pointed out, however, that one of the questions discussed with the government by W. J. Egan when in Edmonton was the desirability of a conference of this sort.

The Alberta Government had agreed to this, but the calling of the conference, Mr. Brownlee said, was entirely a matter for the Federal Government to decide.

To Relieve Catarrh Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength.) Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, blasting sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial. (Adv.)

BOARD HEARS REQUEST FOR NEW EGG DUTY

Ottawa, March 21.—The question of restricting Canada's imports of eggs by increases in tariff was argued before the Tariff Advisory Board here yesterday, when the application of the Canadian Poultry Pool Limited was heard.

The applicants asked for a duty of nine cents a dozen on all foreign shell eggs entering Canada which do not comply with the specification of Canadian extras. The Canadian extras, it was pointed out, were of such a high standard that no competition from abroad was feared. At the same time it was urged the present fixed value on frozen eggs entering Canada should be at least maintained. The latter enter at ad valoren duty, while the duty on shell eggs is three cents a dozen.

GREATER PRODUCTION

The question revolved itself into whether the remedy proposed would have the desired effect. In a letter from the Canadian Council of Agriculture it was argued the imposition of a higher duty would only have the effect of stimulating production in Canada, with a lowering of the present high standard of Canadian eggs. The result would be that the market would be glutted, prices would decline and consumption would fall off owing to consumers ceasing to eat as many eggs when they were of poorer quality, it was said.

The imports complained of were seen chiefly at the present season of the year, when large quantities of eggs from Chicago were sent to Toronto and Montreal and offered for sale at prices as low as twenty-seven cents dozen for extras, when the cost of production was forty cents a dozen, it was stated. This was attributed, in part, to a desire on the part of someone to force down prices just as Canadian hens were beginning to lay heavily in the spring and eggs were being put in storage.

NEILL SPEAKS

A. W. Neill, M.P. for Comox-Alberni, believed the situation of the poultrymen in British Columbia was serious. It was due in part to the high freight rates of poultry and feed from the prairies. He supported the application.

In British Columbia there is an act which requires all eggs imported to be stamped with the country of origin. Mr. Neill suggested that if this act was passed by the Dominion Parliament it might go a long way toward solving the problem.

W. A. Landreth, for the Pool, said the various provincial governments had been asked to put the law through. He felt it would be a big help, but did not think it would do away with the need for a tariff.

SASKATCHEWAN LAND TRANSFER PACT IS SIGNED

Terms of Federal Return of Resources Soon to Be Made Public

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 21.—The agreement for the return of the natural resources to Saskatchewan was signed yesterday in Ottawa, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, affixed their signatures to a copy of the agreement, while in Regina Premier J. T. M. Anderson and Hon. M. A. MacPherson, Attorney-General, signed.

The copies were then mailed from Ottawa to Regina and from Regina to Ottawa. The completing signatures will be affixed when they arrive at their destinations and the agreement will then be made public.

With the signing of the agreement with Saskatchewan, announced at Premier King's office yesterday evening, the return of natural resources to the western provinces is complete. Agreements had already been completed with Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia.

SIMILAR TO ALBERTA'S

While the details of the transfer were not made public, Premier King has already announced that the same principles were followed as in the case of Alberta.

It is understood a commission will be appointed to deal with certain questions, while the date to be chosen for the basis of payment will be decided by the Supreme Court of Canada.

The province has contended there is legal foundation for a claim extending back to 1870, as against the proposal that claims should only begin at 1905, when Saskatchewan entered into Confederation.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, March 21.—Wheat: Trade in wheat was of fairly large proportions to-day and the market was decidedly strong with top prices 3¼ to to 3½ cents above the close last night. While there were slight recessions from time to time, the market, showed ability to recover and held stubbornly strong throughout.

The features were strong cables, a moderately good export business worked overnight with sales estimated around 1,000,000 bushels. Good buying of the futures for foreign account and eastern interests and fairly large short covering, one or two extensive lines being taken in.

Local offerings were not large but there was heavy selling of both May and July by Chicago interests which was unwinding of spreads that had been placed when this market was from 3 to 6 cents under Chicago. There was some selling against daily offers but thas was not large.

Liverpool closed 3 to-3½ higher, due to light offerings abroad and to the small Argentine shipments, which this week total only 1,487,000 bushels, while Australia cleared 1,240,000 bushels. Bradstreets reported North American shipments at only 3,602,000 bushels, but these figures will likely be improved considerable by Monday. Broomhall again reported Russia as making fair sales of wheat to Great Britain.

At noon to-day Buenos Ayres was 6¾ cents higher than Wednesday's close. The weather was cold over the southwest last night with frosts reported from several points, but not thought sufficiently severe to cause much damage.

The weather appears unsettled over winter wheat belt, and snow or showers were reported from Kansas and other points. The market acts as though it might do a little better, but we advise confining purchases to the setbacks as they occur. The cash market was quiet, but a fair demand existed for certain grades at unchanged spreads. Offerings very light.

Coarse grains—These markets were very strong during the first part of the day when oats were half cent up, barley ¾ up and rye 4⅝ to 5¼ cents above the previous close. The full bulge did not hold, however. There is very little demand for cash grains and is confined to the low grades.

Flax—There were a few buying orders in the pit at the start this morning and prices were actually from 9 to 10 cents higher. Practically nothing was sold and they fell away to close 4¾ to 5½ higher.

(Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Chicago, March 21.—Wheat: Argentine news was a big factor to-day, the advance of over 6 cents at Buenos Ayres in two days with reports indicating stocks of good milling wheat being exhausted, with light country offerings Liverpool closed 3 to 3½ higher, shorts being nervous over the light world shipments indicated. There was heavy profit taking, but the market held well in view of the sharp advance of the past week.

Temperatures did not drop to an alarming extent this morning, but the continued dry weather is causing more anxiety and Donovan continues to find a very unsatisfactory condition in the winter wheat sections of southern Illinois and southern Indiana.

Canada has had insufficient spring precipitation to far and much will depend on seasonable rains in April and May.

There is at least some basis for concern in that quarter. Receipts at all points are small with primary run 391,000 vs. 1,015,000 bushels a year ago and clearances were 358,000 bushels.

However, total North American clearances for the week were only 3,602,000 bushels which, with 1,187,000 from Argentine and 1,240,000 bushels from Australia, means very small world shipments which may tend to carry further uneasiness abroad.

Canada sold about 1,000,000 bushels wheat to-day, but our prices are now out of line. The market has had a good advance and would be inclined to take profits with view of reinstatment n any fair recessions.

Corn—Bulls met rather serious obstacles to-day with much larger country sales a smaller cash demand and heavy profit-taking, however the market held fairly well, with the deferred months stronger than the May. Cash basis unchanged to ½ cent higher.

Country acceptances were 156,000 bushels—the largest in a long time, while shipping sales were only 37,000 bushels, buyers backing away from the market.

The market has had a good advance, this is likely to stimulate the move. Would wait for the reactions on which to make purchases.

Oats—Rather dull with not much change in prices. Cash oats sales 94,000 bushels. Cash basis steady to hilf higher.

Rye—Some short covering early but on the advance there was scattered selling. There is little change in the situation excepting a few damage reports coming from northwest.

FOREIGN MARKETS HIGHER AND WHEAT PRICES RISE

Wheat was strong to-day, following strength in Buenos Ayres, which closed 3 up, and Liverpool which was up 3 to 3½.

Liverpool reported shorts there were nervous and were running to cover.

Cold weather did not materialize in the American southwest and American markets were inclined to drag, particularly late in the session when rain was reported in the southwest.

Forecast is for unsettled weather and rising temperatures.

Strength at Liverpool was attributed to smaller Argentine and Australian shipments and an improved demand for Manitobas.

Russia was reported to have sold a small cargo to the United Kingdom on the basis of 1.06 at Liverpool.

SENTIMENT MORE DIVERSIFIED

Chicago, March 21.—The Chicago Tribune to-day said that sentiment in wheat is more diversified and there is less disposition to press the short side, owing to uncertainty as to what the Farm Board may do and the effect of the cold snap on the winter wheat in the southwest.

CANADIAN WEATHER

Winnipeg, March 21.—To-day's weather map of the Canadian northwest shows 14 to 16 above, partly cloudy.

COLD CHECKS GROWTH

Chicago, March 21.—R. P. Cromwell reported from Wakenney, Kansas, to-day, that moderate freezes have been favorable, thinning out fields slightly and checking growth.

"But," he added, "I believe this cold snap is decidedly too low and may prove a severe shock from which recovery would be slow. If the crops withstand these temperatures, conditions can be called decidedly favorable."

HIGHER MONEY SLOWS RISE ON BOND MARKET

By JOHN L. COOLEY

Associated Press Financial Writer

New York, March 21.—Tendencies toward firmer money resulted in a less vivid demand for bonds to-day, although the pace was still brisk and well above the average for the past year.

Small fractional losses scattered through the list in the early trading reflected the effect on inquiry of the 3 per cent call money renewal rate, and the subsequent boost in the rate to 4. There was also a little profit-taking in speculative holdings, which had profited to a considerable extent by the phenomenal rise of the current week.

However, plenty of money was still seeking employment in bonds and offerings were well taken. Investment rails and utilities held firm, but some of the low priced industrials met with selling. A feature of the day was the strength of American Telephone convertible 4½s, which touched a new 1930 high of 168.

Pacific Telephone first 5s which had been rather quiet, caught up with bonds of the same grade by rising more than a point to 103.

The general strength of the current market brought out a large crop of new offerings. The largest was the $40,000,000 issue of Royal Dutch 4 per cent at 89½. Others included Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, general mortagage 4 3-4s totalling $15,000,000 due 1989, at 100½. $13,000,000 Shell Union Oil Company of California 15-year debenture 5s at 99½, and $10,500,000 Southern Cities Public Service Company one-year five per cent gold notes at 99.

Wheat Shortage Cuts Canada Trade

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 21.—An unfavorable balance of $99,810,000 is reflected in figures of the trade of Canada for the twelve months ended February 28. A comparison with the preceding twelve months demonstrates the effect of lighter wheat shipments on exports, the total of which was down to $1,145,426,000 from $1,365,920,000. Domestic imports increased to $1,270,676,000 from $1,250,840,000. Exports of foreign origin were up to $25,339,000 from $24,601,000.

CONSTRUCTIVE NEWS PUT FIRM TONE ON MONTREAL MARKET

Canadian Press

Montreal, March 21.—Brazilian Traction dominated a strong closing on the Montreal Stock Exchange to-day when it closed 2½ points higher at 32.

Montreal, March 21.—The Montreal Gazette to-day says:

"While developing some irregularity in less active dealings, the local stock market continues to give evidence of a firm undertone and a steadily improving sentiment that finds its origin in the stronger tone in wheat, a growing ease in the money market and a buoyant market in Wall Street. The improved price tendency in the central list here and recent sessions have been a very substantial broadening out of market interest.

"It is quite apparent that fairly good public following could be attracted to the market on any constructive development that would overcome the hesitant mood that has surrounded the market situation in recent months.

"Impressive buying of Nickel this week, particularly for investment trust accounts, was reported from New York, while in the case of Brazilian, there is noted a steadily improving sentiment on the local street.

"Sailing for Europe aboard the Aquitania, Robert C. Stanley, president of Nickel, stated that considering circumstances affecting the metal markets, Nickel anticipated a fairly satisfactory quarter. Of course, he said, Nickel has been in a better position than most metals, and has not suffered nearly as much.

BUYING IN BREWERIES

"National Breweries came into strong buying demand, proving the third most active issue in the list. The company's financial statement for 1929 is expected to make its appearance early next month, and is likely to be one of the very few brewing company exhibits to show a gain over the preceding year. Sources in close touch with the affairs of this company continue to emphasize the fact that the company's business is almost entirely a domestic one, and as such would hardly be affected by the pending legislation at Ottawa in regard to liquor exports.

BRAZILIAN EARNINGS INCREASE

Montreal, March 21.—Brazilian Traction Light and Power shows a net after expenses for February of $2,167,136. This is before depreciation and amortization and compares with $2,154,344 in February, 1929. The total for the first two months this year stands at $4,366,261, compared with $3,374,399 for the corresponding two months of last year. Gross earnings are shown for the month at $3,678,698, compared with $3,765,709 for the same month last year.

VANCOUVER STOCK EXCHANGE

Vancouver, March 21. — With the Home Oil general meeting looming tomorrow, and with improved wheat prices and generally satisfactory progress reports from several oil fields, a buoyancy was imparted to the oil market during the forenoon part of today's session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange. Trading was light in volume, but prices were well maintained and public interest was shown in board rooms in the financial district.

On the news that two new wells will be drilled in the Skiff Field, Devenish, which has been quiet for some time around fifteen to seventeen cents, spurted up to twenty-eight cents this morning.

Another announcement of interest is from the Ribstone Field, not a great distance from the Kinsella structure, and is to the effect that the Triton Oils will commence work there within the next sixty days on their first Ribstone well.

The mining board did not produce any outstanding feature to-day, although there was again renewed strength in Premier Gold, which is selling around 1.05, and activity in Woodbine and Dalhousie Mines.

Pend Oreille and Reeves were unchanged and Oregon Copper and Noble Five were both around fourteen cents, and the balance of the metal stock was about the same as on the previous day.

B.C. Now Third In Manufacturing

Ottawa, March 20.—A report of the manufacturing industries of Canada for 1828 has just been issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. British Columbia stands third in capital invested, salaries and wages and value of output, Ontario and Quebec ranking first and second, respectively.

In capital invested, British Columbia has $368,000,000 out of a total $4,780,000,000; a payroll of nearly $59,000,000 out of $754,500,000; and a gross output valued at $271,000,008 out of $3,600,000,000.

MINES TURN UP ON STANDARD

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 21.—Coincident with similar action on other exchanges, the Standard list turned upward during the late session to-day, some early losses being wiped out and small gains registered.

Base Metals advanced five to 3.45, Pend Oreille seven to 2.85, and Big Missouri two to 54. Premier closed off three at 1.02.

Nickel and Noranda were firm throughout, selling up about a quarter each at the close. Hollinger came out at 58.85, up five.

INDUSTRIALS TURN STRONG IN TORONTO

Toronto, March 21.—For the second time this week, volume of sales showed a heavy increase as the market on the Toronto Stock Exchange turned briskly upward. The advance to-day was led by Brazilian Traction, which rose to 43½, a new high for the year.

Oils were in the van in the afternoon, the rise accompanying a similar movement in New York Imperial Oil and International Petroleum were specially strong, the latter rising over a point to 22¾.

TO-DAY'S REPORTS ON CALGARY OILS

Calgary, March 21 (Miller-Court Special Service).—Sterling Pacific was reported to have a big burst of gas, which was a substantial increase, but this proved groundless. There is a slight and gradual increase, as clearing is proceeding and the gas volume is now thought to be between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 cubic feet.

Calgary, March 21.—Installation of rotary equipment is now under way at Merland, the most southerly well in the Turner Valley, according to Pat Adams, drilling contractor.

It is expected that drilling will be resumed from 4,470 feet within a few days.

This well encountered a large flow of gas from the Dalhousie sands last fall. At the same time the gas flow took fire and for several days a battle with the flames took place before the fire was extinguished. New derrick has been completed and installation of the drilling equipment is now under way. Small production from ten to fifteen barrels a day was taken from the Dalhousie sands during the winter.

Calgary, March 21.—Okalta No. 1 is again frozen off, according to an official of the company, and the diamond drill will be rigged immediately in order that the obstruction may be removed. This well was frozen off in January and was brought back to a daily production of more than 200 barrels a day by cleaning with the drill.

Calgary, March 21.—Mayland has completed a long fishing job, occasioned when about 5,300 feet of tubing was lost in the hole. This well was running the tubing to prepare for a third production test when trouble was encountered.

Calgary, March 21.—Royalite No. 23 has completed fishing and cleaning up after the nitro-glycerine premature explosion of a few weeks ago.

Calgary, March 21.—Homestead is drilling at 4,444 feet in a very hard formation. On account of the large amount of gas it has been necessary in the interest of safety to discontinue the night shift.

CALL FUNDS JUMP TO 4 1-2 P.C.; BANKS CALL $75,000,000

Associated Press

New York, March 21.—In the last hour some new peaks were attained on the New York Stock Exchange today. Indian Refining at 26, United Aircraft at 73½ and Warner Brothers figures at 76 established new 1930 highs.

The ticker ran as much as forty minutes behind the market.

INDUSTRIAL AVERAGES UP AGAIN

New York, March 21.—B.C. Bond—At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials stood at 280.55, up 1.14 points for the day; for 20 rails at 156.68, off 0.10 points; and for 20 utilities at 102.08, up 0.32 points.

New York, March 21.—From recent levels at 2 per cent and even slightly lower, call money to-day opened at 3 per cent, and before the close rose to 4½ per cent.

The banks called from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 and this caused traders to take profits and sell the market.

SOME STRONG MOTORS

Mack Truck rose two points to 85¾.

There was strength in the oils led by Standard of New Jersey, which climbed from 66¾ to 92¾.

NEW HIGH FOR YEAR

Warner Bros. made a new high for the year by rising from 73¾ to 76½. In the afternoon a steadier tone developed in the market as a whole with U.S. Steel running up to 191 and Vanadium making 104, from a low at 97½ earlier in the session.

WEAK FEATURES

Gillette Safety Razor, Simmons, Mongomery, Ward, and National Cash Register developed special weakness, also American Locomotive and American Car and Foundry.

Gillette was forced to a new 1930 low despite optimistic advices from official quarters. Dow Jones reported the company showed no earnings in January and a net of $427,000 in February, after taxes and charge-offs for the month's share of advertising expenses on the new razor. On the same basis, the showing for the first two weeks of March jumped to $1,114,000. The Boston and Canadian plants are working on orders on the books equal to a whole year's production.

COPPERS RUN UP

On reports that copper buying was on the increase, Anaconda and Kennecott led most of the coppers up. Anaconda rose from 72¾ to 75. It is believed there is a large short interest in Anaconda, and it is felt that any encouraging news regarding the situation in the industry would lead to a sharp recovery in market price.

Kennecott made three points to 58½. American Smelters one point to 74. Calumet and Arizona two points to 81¾.

Liggett and Myers was strong in the tobacco list, rising two points to 190.

American Telephone and Telegraph rose from 245 to 248½.

The rails were quieter to-day, but C.P.R. firmed two points to 208½.

TANK CAR ENLARGING CAPITAL

New York, March 21.—The proposal to enlarge the capitalization of General American Tank Car from 800,000 to 1,500,000 shares is interpreted as indicating the possible payment in the near future of a stock dividend. It may also mean that the management plans new acquisitions through the exchange of stock.

ROSSIA INSURANCE BENEFITS

New York, March 21.—Rossia Insurance is being benefited by the current advance in the market, as it is a large holder of high-grade common stocks.

ANACONDA DIVIDEND NEXT WEEK

"The very best sort of buying is still seen in Missouri, Kansas and Texas. Dividend rumors are again being heard.

"Pennroad interests are also reported buyers of the stock.

"The Anaconda Copper directors are scheduled to meet for dividend action next Thursday. It would not be at all surprising to see a move against a very large short interest in Anaconda before the meeting.

BIG SHIP DEAL EXPECTED

"Those in a position to know declare that American-Hawaiian steamship is likely to be taken over by the Dollar Line at a price of between 38 and 40.

DOINGS IN COCO COLA

"The advance in Coco Cola has only begun. It will be recalled that prospects of Coco Cola for 1930 were pointed out here February 20 when the stock was selling at 146. With everything in its favor Coco Cola should do much better than it did in 1929, which was a record year. A price of $200 per share is heard for Coco Cola.

"North American has made another new high for the year, and should be bought crossing 122 for a move through 130."

Steel Earnings To Show Up Well

New York, March 21.—Reports indicate that earnings of large steel units for this quarter will be relatively satisfactory in many cases, because of the substantial progress made by these units in diversification, efficiency and reduction of operating costs, The Journal of Commerce declares.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, March 21.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says today:

"The additional and immediate reduction in the Bank of England rate forecasts an additional reduction in the New York rate, and whether that development came yesterday afternoon, or comes in a week, is a market factor to be taken into consideration. It is sufficient to know that exceptionally low rates are here to stay for a considerable period of time and that, therefore, both stock and bond prices will have to be adjusted upward to conform with the most of money increases. Broker's loans must go hand in hand with an advancing market, and this is an advancing market, as witness the new top for the year in the industrials, a like performance by the utilities and soon to be recorded new record for the rails.

"I still can find no reason for recommending profit taking as the objectives of all three groups are still materially far removed from the prevailing levels. The oil group undoubtedly needs a few more days to consolidate the advance, which it has recorded. As a subsidiary group, the chemical issues are all in a forward swing, while the utility group bears all the earmarks of being the feature group between now and the early part of next week.

COMMENT

"Union Carbide has established a new top for the year, but since it still remains below 100 the buying recommendation continues. Dupont is likewise at a new point and should be held, while in the chemical group Mathieson should be purchased while obtainable in the 40's.

"In the utilities, American Power & Light has recorded a new top for the year, but the stock is still a purchase below 115 for an objective, which has as its minimum 125 and its probable maximum 140.

"Public Service of New Jersey has crossed 100, but is still a purchase within a few points of that figure, while Consolidated Gas and Brooklyn Union are purchases at any figure below that, thus far tops of the year.

"On the Curb, in the utility group, the same applies to Electric Bond and Share and International Utilities "A" stock.

"Elsewhere in the industrial list, continue the purchase of National Surety below 100, General Asphalt below 65, Mid-Continent Petroleum below 30, and Famous Players below 75.

"Local traction issues are consolidating advances already recorded. Look for an additional phase of advance to begin early next week."

Says Cheap Money Will Spur Business

Dominant influence on the stock market appears to have become the easy condition in the money market, according to a review of the situation here issued by George D. Tyson, manager of Miller, Court and Company.

Reports from industry in the last few days have been more unfavorable than favorable, but the further reduction in interest rates has been sufficient stimulation to cause a strong market in New York, he said. There seems to be unanimity of opinion that good business will follow current low interest rates and curtailed activity. It is a question, however, just how far the stock market is entitled to go, based on the length of time before business becomes really active again.

STOCK RECOVERY EQUALS 40 P.C.

New York, March 21.—The Herald-Tribune to-day says:

"It is all very well to point out that the stock market normally anticipates an upward move in trade and industry, but the speculative community cannot be entirely unmindful of the fact that the general level of prices has already recovered approximately forty per cent since last fall's decline with little encouragement from business."

EGG MARKETS SHOW STEADIER

Toronto—Dealers quoting country shippers for ungraded eggs: Extras, 27c and 28c; firsts, 25c and 26c; seconds, 22c and 23c, delivered.

Brokers report sales of graded eggs at extras, 30¼c; firsts, 28½c; seconds, 26c, delivered. Prices to retailers are, extras, 32c and 33c; firsts, 30c and 31c; seconds, 27c.

Montreal—Market is steady, although unchanged in tone and price. There is a good consumptive demand and seconds particularly are scarce. This grade is jobbing on spot at 29c.

Use Nitro-glycerine To Shoot Well To-day

Baltac well in the Turner Valley will be shot with nitro-glycerine immediately, and it is possible Mayland No. 1 will undergo the same operation later, according to word received here to-day from J. H. McLeod, production manager of the Imperial Oil Company, by George D. Tyson, manager of Miller, Court and Company.

Baltac has been bailed of mud and has not yet shown a gas flow from the lime. It is reported unofficially that the gas flow is somewhat less than 2,000,000 cubic feet. Mayland No. 1, southeast of the Lowery Pete well, which recently entered production, is at 800 feet in the lime.

Money Powers Out To Foster Trade Revival

New York, March 21.—The World to-day says that the plain fact seems to be that the central banking authorities have embarked deliberately upon a policy designed to encourage business revival and that it is unavoidable that the stock market should share in this encouragement since this factor influences business sentiment.

"Speculative commodity markets, the centre of activity and interest a month ago, have slipped definitely into the background, so sensational have been the developments in the money situation," the Herald-Tribune comments. "Wheat, after slowing up substantially last week in its decline, seems actively to be on the mend and cotton turned about ten days ago and seems to be consolidating its gains. So far as the future outlook for business is concerned, this steadiness in the prices of leading commodities is, of course, extremely encouraging."

IMPORTANT PRINCIPLE

A. M. Manson, K.C., and George S. Pearson, Liberal, Nanaimo, pointed out an important principle was embodied in the resolution, and it was regrettable that an opportunity had not been offered to give more attention to it. Mr. Manson described public utility workers as steady, straightforward, sober, good fellows and many of the corporations were largely municipal in earlier days. Some of the bigger corporations which were not public utilities companies had adopted pension plans. It might be advisable to make it essential that utility corporations adopt a superannuation plan.

Dr. H. C. Wrinch, Liberal, Skeena, thought this was a resolution which would be acceptable to the other side of the House. He did not think it was too late to take action at this session.

When Hon. S. L. Howe referred to the fund in his department for aiding destitute aged, C. L. Hanna, Liberal, Alberni, objected to the subject being considered on the lines of charity. What was sought was a pension plan under which a man was rewarded for life's service to an industry.

VIGOROUS APPEAL

Mr. Uphill made a vigorous appeal for action. He compared the life of transportation company workers and others with that of teachers who had a superannuation. The strenuous duties of the former made it impossible for them to work as long as the latter. The desire of workers to contribute to a fund for the provisions of old age was a commendable spirit worthy of encouragement. Fifty thousand people in the Province were anxious to have this legislation on the statute books. As regards the subject being brought up late in the session he said representative of 1,600 employees of the B.C. Electric Railway Company put the matter before the government at the beginning of the session.

H. W. Speed and J. Price of Vancouver, J. Bond of New Westminster, and J. P. Torrance of Victoria represented the Street Railwaymen's Association in making the request.

OTHER MOTIONS

Progress was made on other motions on the order papers during the morning sitting.

Mr. Manson, withdrew his motion of criticising of Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands, taxed on evidence missing from A. N. Dayken's report on university lands. His stand with regard to the commissioner he explained, but he did not think the Minister knew of the evidence that was missing. Mr. Manson also stated that he had been misinformed yesterday when he said John A. Boyd gave sworn evidence before the commission.

On a party vote the House defeated T. D. Pattullo's resolution asking the Legislature to deplore as improvident the sale to A. B. Trites of eighty-eight acres of land in the north arm of the Fraser adjacent to the city airport and to the university endowment lands for $5 an acre.

Hon. F. P. Burden's reply that this had always been the price charged by the lands department for similar property, was declared by Mr. Pattullo to be ridiculous. The particular property was filling in so rapidly due to the action of the Fraser that in a few years it would be attached to the mainland and was purchased, according to the Minister's own explanation for use as a summer resort, which showed it had high value.

A. M. Manson stated that the harbor commissioners for the North Fraser had protested the sale of valuable property so close to Vancouver at this small price. Reference was also made to the fact that it was subsequently offered to the city by Mr. Trites for $150,000, to which the government replied that at any rate the city did not buy.

been based on legal opinion advanced to the city in regard to civic and provincial laws, in which, it is averred, there exists no distinction between fire engines and private vehicles, both in regard to speed regulations and also in the necessity for stops at arterial crossings.

The instructions posted for city fire fighters as a result of the ruling were explicit in demanding a full observance of civic by-laws and the Provincial Motor Act. It follows from this, some aldermen point out, that preferential treatment for fire engines responding to emergency alarms is removed, and that fire apparatus may not claim precedence over even a dump cart on the street.

While some phases of the issue are still in dispute, the necessity for immediate action to remedy what is described as a lack of legal provision in the case, is being studied at the City Hall. The fire wardens have called a meeting for this afternoon.

If civic legislation is not sufficient to remedy the omission of preferential treatment for the fire engines, a request for emergency action on the part of the Legislature, which is still in session, may be considered by the city, it was intimated.

Meanwhile the city's complicated system of fire alarms, sirens and other warning devices, together with the good sense of the driving public, must be relied upon to insure to fire apparatus the opportunity of making a speedy response to actual alarms of fire.

TOWN TOPICS OPTIMISTIC ON FINANCE OUTLOOK

New York, March 21.—R. T. Moore, in Town Topics financial service, issues the following summary of the present stock market outlook:

"We now have every indication that a real old-fashioned bull movement is under way. We have an increased volume of public buying, low money rates. Rising of five to ten points are common occurrences, and the usual number of free tips are going the rounds of the brokers' offices. When such a condition is found, it is dangerous to sell the market short, and when profits are taken one generally finds the stock just starting a brand new move, and the feeling is to jump right back and purchase the stock again.

"With the old time leaders like Steel and American Can advancing to new high levels for the recovery, one cannot look for an immediate recession. Steel, according to gossip in reliable quarters, is headed for 200, while Can is talked of for 160 to 165.

"Possibilities in the natural gas industry have aroused public fancy, and with several huge mergers contemplated those stocks with natural gas have prospects of running sensationally higher.

"We have had a sample of what natural gas stocks can do in recent advances in United Gas, Electric Bond and Share, and Electric Power and Light. Other stocks in the above group that appear well bought on the tape include Columbia Carbon, Houston Oil, United Carbon.

"Rails again advanced with little publicity. We think high grade rails are cheap with money loans at the best rate in years.

"New Haven comes within seven points of its highest price of last year, and we think it will be in new high ground before thirty days.

"New York Central, Southern Railway, Delaware and Lackawanna and Western, Delaware and Hudson, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Atchison, all high-grade issues, seem headed vastly higher, and we hear that Southern Railway, Mobile and Ohio may stage a sensational run."

While everyone would agree with Mr. Shelly's remarks regarding investigations of the whole taxation problem, which he described as "alarmingly top heavy," Mr. Blandy said he must disagree with the minister's picture of the municipalities' condition in which he indicated the government grants to municipalities might be reduced.

NOT SO BIG

Teachers' salaries, betting, liquor and motor licenses formed the grants to municipalities and totaled about $3,200,000. The government claimed the municipal grants totaled over $5,800,000. It appeared the minister included in this sum the grants for mothers' pensions and hospitals. Really, however, these were paid by the taxpayers themselves.

With regard to mothers' pensions, Mr. Blandy said it could hardly be claimed the Province had taken a big burden from the shoulders of the municipalities by innstituting this legislation.

It was also stated 32.9 per cent of the provincial revenue was given to municipalities, whereas the real percentage was just over thirteen, he claimed.

ASSESSMENTS DECREASE

Proper investigation showed the assessment in municipalities outside of Vancouver had decreased $31,000,000 in the last nine years. The minister claimed the assessments had gone up $30,000,000.

Great play had been made on reductions in tax arrears. In reality this was only a case of taking a debt from one account and putting it on another.

SCHOOL COSTS INCREASE

Nothing, however, had been said about the huge increase in the cost of schools to the municipalities. Over $4,000,000 was the amount of increase in the last nine years, putting a much heavier burden on the taxpayers.

Extra onus had been placed on the municipalities by the province, such as the four-year high school course and hospital grants.

WOULD CUT GRANTS

The government now proposed to cut the liquor profits to a maximum of $1,000,000, and motor licenses to $870,000. These sources of revenue were growing steadily, but the municipalities were to be shut off from these increased benefits.

Certain relief for municipalities were planned in regard to arterial highway maintenance, but on investigation, it was revealed that three-quarters of the municipal population would not benefit from this.

"I think you will agree the financial relation between the Province and municipalities might have been shown in different light to that adopted by the finance minister," he said.

CONFERENCE SUGGESTED

Mr. Blandy suggested a round table conference to discuss the situation might be held as was being done with regard to Federal and Provincial taxation.

With regard to succession duties, Mr. Blandy suggested it would be a wise policy to go slow in abolishing any established taxes. He hoped they would not be abolished until the situation was very carefully scrutinized.

Discussion on Mr. Blandy's remarks was joined by David Leeming, Major H. C. Holmes, and J. C. Bridgman.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

OLD RULES ARE GOOD

The oldest financial counsel is still the soundest. On it fortunes are built and income maintained from generation to generation.

In simple words it is "Stick to high-grade Securities." The principle is the same whether it be two figures or six.

If you refuse to let anything interfere with this policy you will discover one day that you have built up an independent income.

Production in 1929 was more than double the 1928 output, and six times greater than in 1925.

Hargal has an issued capital of 900,000 shares and has a most favorable position adjoining the producing wells of the Home Oil Company. On application we will be glad to furnish a map showing the exact location of the Hargal Oil Company's holdings. If Hargal comes in with a 400-barrel well, as seems probable, its earnings after deducting royalties, would be $279,062 per annum, which would place the company on an earnings basis of 12 per cent, on a market valuation of $2.60 a share. Present market is around $1.20.

Orders for Hargal will be executed with promptness and efficiency on either the Vancouver or Calgary Stock Exchanges.

cies, regarding a rumor that Premier Tardieu was not going back to London. It was added, however, that it did not depend on France alone to find a solution of the present difficulties of the conference. Foreign Minister Briand and his colleagues would co-operate in any effort to accomplish something, it was said, but it must be co-operation and not one-sided sacrifices.

QUESTION OF FIGURES

The French figures had been before the conference for weeks and had been put through detailed study, it was remarked, and there was no reason seen here why somebody else interested did not submit his figures to the same test.

London, March 21.—The Naval Limitation Conference seems now to lie in a state of suspended animation, waiting for another meeting at Chequers over the week-end.

Premier Ramsay MacDonald will leave for Chequers this afternoon, but not before he has held consultations with Henry L. Stimson, United States Secretary of State, and Reijiro Wakatsuki, Japanese naval delegation head. Mr. MacDonald will also have an audience with the King before he leave, to acquaint His Majesty with the progress and the present position of the conference.

TARDIEU IN PARIS

Mr. MacDonald has left Sunday open for an interview with M. Andre Tardieu, French Premier, but it is now doubtful if Mr. Tardieu will be able to join him. M. Tardieu and Aristide Briand, the veteran Foreign Minister of France, are talking over the situation in Paris to-day.

"Stepan Vassilievitch! The most carefully laid plan in the world cannot succeed in the face of treachery. I'm trusting you to the peril of all our hopes. Look to it that my trust isn't misplaced. Oh, I gauged your soul long ago. You have few principles, no loyalty to any cause, no honor—little but a degenerate mind and a mania for intrigue. The last is the breath of life to you. Take care that it doesn't bring about your death. There is one treachery forbidden, and I should be glad if you would always remember it."

"Why trust me at all?" I asked angrily.

Strange to say, I really was angry, as if the slur had been on Paul Drage instead of on Stepan Ouspensky, who probably deserved it.

"I often think I'm foolish to do so," replied Gorko.

I maintained a sullen silence, and Gorko fell to pacing up and down. Presently he halted by the door and, with his hand on the knob, said peacefully, "You had better stay up here to-day. Lock your door. If there's trouble of any kind to-night, my room's next to yours, and you will only have to shout."

"I thank thee, Sergei Alexovitch," said I, for I was still rather annoyed.

He looked at me steadily, nodded, opened the door and went out.

The rest of that day I was left pretty much alone. The barber fellow came in once or twice to see if I wanted anything; food was brought to me, and a generous supply of vodka, which, of course, I emptied down the bath. Otherwise I had no visitors, and about 9 o'clock, tired of reading newspapers, I locked my door, leaving the key in the lock, turned out the light—they even ran to electricity in that house—and fell into a deep sleep.

I don't know if I dreamed at all but suddenly I was awake again and listening. It was quite dark, and, as there were heavy curtains drawn across the window, I couldn't tell how far the night had won towards morning. There wasn't a sound in the house, yet I knew something was wrong. Was there some one else in the room? With muscles braced for action, I lay listening.

Then it came. Over where I knew the window to be something moved, and I had a momentary glimpse of stars in a clear sky, before the curtain fell back into place behind the intruder. That was enough for me. Reaching out a hand, I switched on the light, at the same time springing from my bed towards the window. Perhaps I should have left the light alone. When I saw my visitor, I was inclined to think so. He was short, slight, and apparently of mean physique, but he carried a nasty-looking automatic, which was trained in my direction. Fortunately I took him rather by surprise and I think his mask had slipped over an eye or something, for he stood bewildered a moment and so gave me time to close with him. Then, however, he was agile enough. Desperately struggling, we fell against a small table, sent it flying, knocked over a chair, crashed down ourselves and tore and kicked and grappled on the carpet. The noise must have been hideous. I had one hand on his gun wrist and with the other I hit whenever and wherever I could. He was digging into my ribs with his knees, had me unpleasantly by the throat and seemed well on the way to victory, when with a great effort I twisted his wrist under him, so that he had to drop the gun, and then, by bringing an uppercut home on his chin, forced him to let up his attack and sprawl away from me. My head was singing; everything seemed blurred; but there he was near me, and I fell on him with a bellow of rage. Again we struggled, a mass of flying fists and blood and curses. He was still no mean enemy, so I was glad when I found his automatic lying under my nose. Disengaging a hand, I grabbed it, lifted it and brought the butt in contact with his head as hard as, in the circumstances, I found possible. At all events, it settled him. He became limp, and, mightily relieved, I staggered to my feet.

All this took considerably less time to happen than it does to tell. I had hardly disposed of my assailant when a loud report made me spin round. However, it was only Gorko, blowing in the lock of the door. He entered fully dressed and mastered the situation at a glance. Behind him I could see Dmitri, bearing a rifle, and behind him again several Red Guards, similarly armed.

"Guard the door," ordered Gorko on the instant and kicked it shut. As he came towards me, his revolver dangling from his wrist, I heard the men outside arguing and Dmitri telling them to dry up.

"Some idiot tried to murder me," I said, feeling suddenly unsteady.

Gorko was looking down at the still form on the carpet. The mask had come off in the struggle, and an ugly, savage face lay exposed. The man, I observed, wore what may once have been clothes but were now certainly rags, filthy, stained, and torn. He looked like a beggar, and I said so. Gorko shook his head.

"A brigand," he said simply.

I sat down on the bed and shivered. "Is he dead?"

I obeyed, and Gorko, after another long stare at my victim, turned his eyes on me.

"I know him," he said quietly. "He's a Kurd and one of the most desperate lone brigands in the country. I believe he's been in the Jew's pay for a long time."

"By the way, where's Ivan Semionovitch?" I asked.

Gorko took no notice, and I was suddenly aware that his eyes betrayed admiration.

"There must be something the matter with you," he said at last. "I should never have believed you could settle this apache."

My mixed pleasure at this remark was interrupted by a violent altercation that now broke out beyond the door. Gorko strode to it and flung it back, to disclose Dmitri stoutly refusing passage to the younger Obuhov.

"Let him come in," said Gorko, and Dmitri lowered his rifle. As the Jew advanced into the room, I was struck by his excited appearance and evident anxiety. He was angry, too, because Dmitri had been none too polite.

"What's happened? What is it?" he burst out, looking round. He saw me still alive and must have suffered disappointment, but the bed was between him and the brigand, so his anxiety was yet rampant. He couldn't hide it. His dark face was flushed, his eyes shifting uneasily, and in his highly colored pyjamas he made altogether a poor spectacle.

"Who fired that shot?" he went on. "What's happened?"

"Shut the door," said Gorko to Dmitri, and not till it was done would he notice Obuhov.

"Now!" he said quietly. "Let me tell you, first of all, comrade, that this house has been entered by an assassin. You have the placing of the sentries and are therefore answerable for this extraordinary happening. Men have been shot for less. I consider it strange, too, that the assassin should be armed with a new automatic pistol and should take the trouble to wear a mask. But that's enough. Comrade Obuhov, thou art under arrest. No, don't move. Hola, Dmitri!" The door swung back. "Is Comrade Bolodov there? Tell him to bring six men and to clear the passage. When that's done, I want him here. Do you guard the door meanwhile."

There was a shuffling of feet outside, and I could hear a certain amount of grumbling, but Gorko, it seemed, was always obeyed, for the passage emptied, except for Dmitri, who still stood square across the doorway with his rifle at the ready. After a short silence, in which Obuhov glowered but made no movement, a regular tramp came along towards us; there was a sharp word of command, another, and a young officer, whom I took to be Bolodov, appeared. Dmitri let him pass, and he came smiling into the room.

"Comrade Commandant," said Gorko curtly, "Comrade Obuhov is your prisoner. Put him in his own room and place a sentry over him. When that's done, inspect all senties and see they are satisfactorily posted. Take any measures you consider necessary and report to me here with two men when you have finished. Now remove the prisoner."

Bolodov, obviously pleased, summoned his soldiers, and Ivan Semionovitch walked out in custody. His face was nearly livid with rage, but he said not a word, just glared. So the passage was empty again, except for Dmitri.

"Tie up that carrion," he ordered, pointing to the still unconscious brigand.

Dmitri, having been a sailor, made a sound job of it and then resumed his post outside, shutting the door after him. Gorko sat down on the bed.

"So far," he said simply, "everything goes very well. At last, thanks to you, I have my excuse. As you saw just now, I had taken precautions. Bolodov is a Communist and is one of the best officers in Russia. I had him sent here specially. Three-quarters of the men are reliable, and the rest will be disarmed at once. Don't be surprised if you hear a shot or two presently. Yes, everything goes very well."

"What about old Obuhov?" I asked.

"Semion Efimovitch? Lemenev's looking after him. The Jew has an amazing brain, but physically he's weak."

"What do you mean to do with them both?"

"Keep them here for the present. Later—shoot them, perhaps. What's that?"

The door opened an inch or two, and Dmitri growled that a woman wanted to come in.

She looked very charming, got up in some sort of dressing-gown with a fur collar and her feet in little fur-trimmed slippers. She must have waited to do her hair, because it was beautiful as ever and hardly appeared to have been slept in.

"Well?" she said gently, "What's all this?"

She bent down to look; then, with a little laugh, she crossed the room.

"And you haven't shut the window yet," she said reproachfully, doing it herself. "Really, I can't think why you didn't put a guard in this room. It was ridiculous to leave Stepan to sleep here alone."

"I had no authority over the guard till a few minutes ago," replied Gorko. "Until I assumed it, in fact. However, I certainly might have done something. Fortunately the Count Ouspensky's well-known valor prevailed over the intruder."

He always gave me the title when he wanted to be sarcastic.

I was conscious that Nina looked at me with a new interest. Yet I felt far from comfortable. Was ever man in a more peculiar situation? Added to that, I felt weak from reaction, my head really did ache and I had precious little clue to my previous standing with the lady.

"You'd better go back to bed, Nina," said Gorko.

"I'm going. I gather you've arrested the Obuhovs?"

"Both of them."

"A very necessary one."

"Oh, admitted! And, even if things don't fall out as they should, you can always say they were caught in correspondence with the Allies."

She flashed me a brilliant smile as she turned to the door, but for some unaccountable reason I hated her.

"Wonderful woman," said Gorko unexpectedly, when she was gone.

I'm afraid I agreed without much enthusiasm.

CHAPTER VI

In spite of the excitements of the night, I was up early next morning. My attendant, old Obuhov's batman, seemed in no way put out by his master's arrest, and performed his duties for me with a stolidity I made no attempt to penetrate. Cheered by steaming hot chocolate and an excellent bath, I descended presently to the drawing-room I had seen the day before. Taking that as my centre, I made a leisurely inspection of the house. It was a curious journey. Half the rooms were furnished with an elegance that astonished me, while the remainder had a bare appearance suggestive of a barrack. Here and there I found locked doors; off the hall I came on a guard-room, in which several soldiers were sleeping; and at almost every corner I met a sentry, who, beyond favoring me with a short stare, let me pass in silence. Neither Gorko nor Nina Alexandrovna was visible, and I was wandering outside, lost in thought, when I saw the young officer, Bolodov, approaching.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Spring Song

(Copyright, 1930).

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Where is the alarm clock, if you please, my dear?" asked Uncle Wiggily of his wife one evening when all the little bunny boys and girls had listened to the Bedtime Story and had gone to sleep.

"Alarm clock?" asked Mrs. Longears in surprise. What are you going to do with that, Wiggy?" Not take it apart to fix it again, I hope."

"Because," went on his wife, "the last time you took our alarm clock apart to fix it and you put it together

'All right!' said Mrs. Longears.

"Yes, I know, my dear," answered Uncle Wiggily, calm and patient like, "But why bring that up again?"

"Yes, I know, my love," spoke the bunny gentleman with a twinkle of his pink nose, "and it is the new clock I want. I'm going to wind it and set it so it will awaken me early in the morning."

"What in the world for?" asked Mrs. Longears. "Must you go look for an adventure so early?"

"It isn't that," explained her husband. "But to-morrow will be the first day of spring, sweet, gentle spring, and I always go out early in the morning of that day and sing my spring song. I must do it this year as usual."

"How do you know to-morrow will be spring?" asked his wife.

"March 22 is spring," hummed Uncle Wiggily. "The little birds begin to sing. And if birds sing I must also sing for spring! Tra la la! Oh, how glad I am that winter is gone and spring will be here in the morning! So give me the alarm clock, my dear, and I'll fix it to awaken me early."

"All right!" said Mrs. Longears with a sigh. "But if you ask me it is very silly for an old rabbit like you to get out of bed early in the morning to the rattle of an alarm clock just to sing a spring song."

"Oh, well, it's fun to be silly once in a while," chuckled the bunny gentleman as he wound the clock and set it for the hour 5, which was quite early, as you must agree.

So Uncle Wiggily went to bed, happy dreams visiting him as he fell asleep thinking of his spring song to come in the morning. But if Uncle Wiggily was asleep the Fuzzy Fox in his den not far away, was wide awake.

"I must do something to Uncle Wiggily to pay him for what he did—having my friend the Shaggy Wolf arrested and put in jail," mumbled the Fox as he paced to and fro in his den. "Just because I spelled Welkum wrong on the Wolf's back when he was pretending to be a doormat was no reason for having him arrested. I know what I'll do. I'll go to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow in the morning, early. I'll climb up to his window by the old, dried honeysuckle vine I saw to-day. I'll jump in his window and grab him before he's out of bed. Now I must go to sleep for I shall have to get up early."

And, early next morning, the Fox went softly out of his den and to the hollow stump bungalow of Uncle Wiggily. Up the dried honeysuckle vine, which was like a ladder, the Bad Chap climbed, and into Uncle Wiggily's bedroom he jumped.

"Ha! I have you now!" barked the Fox, making a dive for the bed. "You had my friend the Wolf arrested after I painted Welkum on him so he would look like a doormat. Now I'll fix you!"

Opening his mouth wide the Fox leaped on the bed. But was Uncle Wiggily in the bed to be eaten! Indeed he wasn't! That funny, old rabbit gentleman had awakened early to the tinkle of the alarm clock and out into the woods and fields he hopped gaily singing:

"To-day, to-day, I gaily sing and welcome back the jolly spring!"

And with that Uncle Wiggily danced around and sang some more and the robins and a few other birds also sang because they were so glad spring had come. And when Mr. Longears got back to his bungalow he saw the disappointed Fox running away over the fields, with pieces of dried honeysuckle vine sticking to his tail.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed the bunny. "I see what happened. The Fox paid me an early spring visit, but I was up earlier to sing my spring song, so he missed me and I'm glad of it. Ha! Ha! It's a good thing I wound my alarm clock.' And Mrs. Longears said the same thing. The Fox hadn't dared bite her or any of the little bunnies because she whanged him with Nurse Jane's broom.

Now will you please ask the chocolate cake to stop rubbing up against the marshmallow pudding and getting it all black. Thank you! And just for that next I'm going to tell you to-morrow of Uncle Wiggily's spring flower.

Are Men to Blame for Marriage Problem?

Dorothy Dix

Finds Husbands' Ideas Old-fashioned

"About Three-fourths of the Difficulties Between Married Couples Are Due to the Fact That Men Are Still Looking at Women Through Grandpa's Spectacles," Suggests an Interested Onlooker

THE trouble is that men are old-fashioned" said a woman the other day in discussing the husband-and-wife problem. "There is a new woman, but man is still the same old man he was in Father Adam's time, and that is why there is so much friction between men and women and why so many homes go up in smoke.

"The last fifty years have made a new heaven and a new earth for woman, and have changed everything about her from her political and financial status to the length of her skirts and the color of her morals. She is modern from the last hair of her bobbed head to her stockingless feet, but man still regards her from the prehistoric standpoint, and his ideas and ideals concerning her are the same he has held for the last thousand years.

"In his secret soul every man's conception of a model wife is a patient Griseldarish sort of female, who will be meek and humble and burn incense before him and yes-yes everything he says, and sit by the fireside and darn stockings while he philanders around and will forgive him seventy times seven for straying off the straight and narrow path and who will ask nothing of life but just the joy of cooking and scrubbing and sewing on buttons and making things comfortable for her husband and children. That is the kind of wife men have always wanted and it is the kind they still want.

"So it is no wonder that the old-fashioned husband can't get along with his new-fashioned wife who believes that marriage is a fifty-fifty proposition, and who is determined to have ther rights even if she has to fight for them, and who doesn't see why her husband shouldn't be as faithful to her as she is to him, and who can't be made to understand why a woman who is a college graduate isn't as able to form an intelligent opinion on a subject as a man who stopped in his third year of high school to go to work.

"About three-fourths of the difficulties between married couples are due to the fact that men are still looking at women through great-grandpa's spectacles. Take the matter of money, for instance, which is the principal bone of contention in the home and over which husbands and wives do their daily dozen. For the great majority of wives will tell you that it is only after they had fought, bled and died that they succeeded in wresting an allowance out of their husband, if ever.

"Now it is not because men are stingy or begrudge their families their upkeep that they so hate and loathe giving their wives a definite sum of money with which to run their houses and for their personal expenses. When they analyze the situation they know that it costs no more to give their wives a lump sum than it does to dole it out to her in pennies and nickels. In fact, it is cheaper, because it enables her to manage better.

But in the back of a man's head is the old-fashioned idea that women can't be trusted to handle money, and that, anyway, a wife should make the gesture of subservience to her husband involved in coming to him as a mendicant for every dollar she needs.

"Grandma submitted meekly to this because she had always been dependent and had never had a pocketbook in her life, but it galls intolerably the modern woman who has been self-supporting before her marriage; who has had her own money to spend as she chose without giving an account to anyone; who is just as humiliated by having to ask her husband for every quarter as he would be if he had to ask his father for street-car and cigarette money, and who cannot and will not stand for the injustice of not receiving as her due any of the money she earns by her labor as a housewife.

"And what makes it a tragedy for any woman to marry who is following a career, unless she is willing to give up the career and just settle down to being plain Mrs. Smith and devote herself to singing lullabies to a squalling brat instead of arias to an applauding audience or buying 25 cents' worth of pork chops instead of $100,000 worth of Paris gowns for a big shop? Nothing but man's old-fashioned idea that a woman's place is the home and that somehow, some way, it is a reflection on him for her to have any interest outside of just being his wife.

"I have known dozens of brilliant and talented women doctors and lawyers and educators and business women who married and attempted to go on with their careers, and practically every one of them landed in the divorce court. And there was nothing the matter with the women, either.

"They made splendid wives, but their husbands were more jealous of their professions than they would have been of any rival, and resented their success and turned from them to other women who accorded with their old-fashioned ideas that a woman may be noted for being the best-dressed woman in her circle, or the finest piemaker, but never as a great surgeon, or a famous lawyer.

"And, take it from me, the modern girls are making the mistake of their lives in thinking that men have accepted a new code of feminine conduct. They think that because men pet and kiss and take them on wild parties and advocate free love they have ceased to regard chastity in women and have new standards of morality. Never was there a greater mistake. Men will play with these loose-living girls, but when they come to marry they want their wives to be like Caesar's.

"Certainly men are old-fashioned in their views about women, but I hope they will hold to a lot of their old-fashioned ideas. It will be the brake that will keep women from running away with modernity."

ORIGINALITY OF MELVILLE IS COMMENDED

Address Last of Series Under Auspices of University Extension Association

The originality of Herman Melville, his scientific accuracy and clearness of vision, were stressed by Prof. F. H. Wilcox, Ph.D., of the University of British Columbia, in his lecture on that writer before the University Extension Association at Victoria College yesterday evening. The address marked the close of the series of lectures given by the professors of the University of British Columbia, and was received with enthusiasm by the small but appreciative audience.

Opening his address, Prof. Wilcox gave a sketch of Melville's career, paying particular attention to his activities in the field of letters. Generally summarizing the rise and fall of that writer, he showed how he had been greeted with moderate popularity in his first few books, but, on the publication of his masterpiece, "Moby Dick," had been almost universally ignored. This had led to his unusual obscurity in the latter stage of his life, the lecturer stated, adding that it was only within the last fifteen or twenty years that interest had been revived in Melville's work.

SKETCHED LIFE

The writer had been born in New York of fairly wealthy parents in 1819. At the age of twelve young Melville lost his father, who had become bankrupt. After serving for a time as clerk in a store, the young lad had run away to sea, making a four months' journey to Liverpool and back. Finding the rigors of a sailor's life too much for him, Melville had settled down for a short time and had taught school. At the age of twenty-one, Prof. Wilcox continued, he had abandoned teaching and, in a gesture of protest against the uncongenial atmosphere in which he lived, had shipped aboard a whaler.

Unfortunately, the boat on which he signed was mastered by a rough captain and high-handed officers. Averse to these conditions, Melville had deserted with a companion, on one of the Polynesian Islands. There, again, he had met with misfortune, having encountered a cannibal tribe of doubtful character, the speaker stated. Eventually, after a sojourn of questionable peacefulness, he made his escape, and once again signed on with a whaling ship. Later he became a beachcomber of Tahiti and finally returned home as a seaman on a United States man-of-war.

STARTED WRITING

On his return, Prof. Wilcox continued, he had taken up writing seriously and had been greeted with some success following the publication of "Typee," a book of more or less autobiographical nature dealing with the South Seas.

His popularity had also been considerable following the writing of "Mardi," along with two or three other earlier books.

However, when he attempted a book of wider scope entitled "Pierre," he had been ignored by critics and the reading public, who treated his novel as a joke, the speaker said.

Following financial worries, increased by the necessity of providing for a wife and two children, he completed his masterpiece, "Moby Dick." This, like "Pierre," found an unready public and proved a complete failure. Embittered by the reception of the story, Melville had turned away from writing, Prof. Wilcox stated, and had virtually finished his life in the menial position of a customs inspector in New York.

WORK IN THREE CLASSES

Prof. Wilcox divided Melville's books into three types, those with the South Seas as their subject, those dealing with a sailor's life before the mast, and those more particularly of a spiritually biographical nature.

"Typee," he considered the best example of the first type. In it the writer had described accurately the state of savagery he had seen in the Polynesian Islands, where he had lived for a short time. Throughout the story was woven a vein of delightful description, written with a true sense of fact.

The book had a rigor and glow, the speaker averred, that proved Melville was essentially critical.

"White Jacket," a later novel, was similar in construction to "Typee," but was marred to a certain extent by too many digressions. In it the lecturer referred to the many criticisms of naval institutions such as Melville's treatment of ships' physicians and the practice of flogging. This fault-finding attitude was possibly responsible for his loss of popularity, Prof. Wilcox suggested.

PIERRE POOR BOOK

The former, he said, was poorly written, and failed to convey the idea Melville had intended to put into it. There was undoubtedly a good reason for its failure, he added.

Nevertheless it did stand out as a scream of denial to the comfortable optimism of such writers as Emerson," Prof. Wilcox continued, saying that it should have achieved some note.

In "Moby Dick," Melville succeeded in doing what he attempted in "Pierre," the lecturer contended. That story, as a mere narrative of whaling experiences, was a masterpiece, he said. In it the writer displayed the sincerity of his heart and was consequently able to put down vividly the incidents of his story in a higher key than those of his other books.

ROMANTIC THEME

Moreover, "Moby Dick" had for its theme the added romance of the exceptionally dangerous whaling activities of the early days, and should have aroused interest through its description of the fearless men who went after the huge mammals in small boats. It dealt entertainingly with the scientific aspect of the trade and furnished an abundance of natural history, he added.

The deeper allegorical significance of "Moby Dick" also received favorable comment from the lecturer, who outlined the symbolism used in the work.

In conclusion, Prof. Wilcox stated Melville had shown that he had a great vision and would not blind his eyes to the light he had seen.

At the conclusion of the lecture votes of thanks were extended to the lecturer for his address, to the School Board for the use of the College during the lecture season, and to the members of the executive for their untiring work in promoting the series.

WHEAT PRODUCTION

To the Editor:—The Spokesman, the new weekly paper, of March 15 last states that France has produced in three years out of five more wheat than the whole of Canada, and that Italy in two years out of five has produced more wheat than all Canada. Would you be good enough to state whether that is true?

JOHN STEWART.

Editor's note:—In the five years from 1925 to 1929, France's production of wheat exceeded that of Canada in only one year, 1929, when her total was 312,000,000 bushels against Canada's 293,899,000 bushels. In the other four years Canada's annual production was very much larger than that of France. In none of the five years has Italy's wheat production been as large as that of Canada, or even that of France.

CLINICS

To the Editor:—Since the publication in the press of an announcement that Victoria is to see the launching of another amalgamation of medical and surgical operators, it might be well to point out to those responsible for the new institution some features which might add to the comfort of those who frequently spend much time in deplorably ill-ventilated waiting rooms into which often the sun never penetrated. One has only to enter these rooms to become horribly conscious of the vitiated and germ-laden atmosphere.

Notwithstanding the undoubted and obvious value of sunshine and pure air, it is unfortunate that our medical offices set an appalling example in this direction, and it might be reasonably suggested that much disease is spread through this apparent lack of attention to the primary rules of hygiene, which even the least able of our doctors might be expected to observe.

If it be true that disease germs exist and multiply prolifically under such conditions, surely every effort should be exerted to combat the evil effect upon those whose lowered vitality brings them into consultation with the doctor for treatment.

The atmosphere of a small crowded office filled with ailing humanity is not conducive to improved health conditions, and a suggested remedy would be to install electric fans embedded in the windows to insure a pure current of air—carry out into the open unpleasant odors and the air exhaled from perspiring and unhealthy bodies.

And, above all a southern exposure in order that the sun rays will penetrate and give cheer and help in the extermination of the dreaded germ, thus carrying out the principles of modern teaching in medical and health science.

FIVE-DAY WEEK HUMBUG

To the Editor:—According to an item in Wednesday's Times our plumbers have fired the opening gun by demanding $10 a day, a five-day week, and double time for overtime. Apparently they have beaten our laggard carpenters in their demand, but the latter won't be long now.

It is the plumbers, however, that we have to thank for exposing the hypocrisy of the five-day week. For some months we have been persistently told that the five-day week was to provide a modicum of work for their less fortunate fellow workmen, yet the demand for double time for overtime lets the cat out. A five-day week would make of Saturday a holiday, and would entail a payment of $20 to any plumber who worked on that day, or $10 for half a day. Most of us knew this all the time, and have been merely waiting for one of the crafts to give the game away. The organizer or business agent of the plumbers' union will doubtless be hauled on the carpet for this lack of finesse, and the poor, but honest carpenters may have to delay their demands until this obvious break has been forgotten; but the bald fact remains that the granting of any such exorbitant wages would have an immediate and disastrous effect upon the cost of living, and would be particularly hard upon the laborer, the $4 a day man, without whose honest and arduous help the average plumber and carpenter would be nonentities. It must be apparent that every increase in wages from now on increases the cost of living to the other fellow, and the other fellow includes those civil servants who appear to be paid from $65 to $100, and whom no manner nor number of labor unions can assist to anything much better. Conversely, of course, every decrease in these high wages reduces the high cost of living.

It may not be generally known that plumbers have been hard to get since last November, and those employed have been almost all non-union. The reason is that union plumbers are forbidden to take a job without notifying the union organizer. This applies to all the trades in the unions without exception. Let us suppose that a plumber or carpenter hears of a job and goes out to scout around (he is permitted to do that, and ain't he the lucky dog?). He finds things all right, union wages and so on, and so reports to the organizer. If the organizer or business agent is a suspicious individual he may order out his car and go and investigate for himself. He finds everything as reported, even including a nice clean towel and a cake of Barmolive soap. At the next meeting the matter is broached, and our scouter is given permission to take the job. Naturally, after several months out of work he hot foots it to the job—to find that a non-union man has beat him to it by two days. Too bad!

It is somewhat amazing that the general public knows so little about the trades. There are very few trades that the average man of fair ability cannot handle. It is quite common around here for a young fellow without the slightest experience to build his own house, instal his own plumbing and wiring, all easily passing the by-law and inspection test. Plastering is generally the handicap; but the unreasonable cost of plastering has forced them to send east for plaster board, which is easily installed and quite the equal of plaster; better in some ways, for it never cracks nor falls.

It is rather a wonder that our union plumbers never have the initiative to take a contract or two, and with the contract all the "profits" thereof. A non-union plumber took such a contract last June and when the architect came to look over the house the first words he said were: "who did the plumbing?" Upon being told, though he had never heard of the man, he said: "that's the best job I've seen in years. I'd like to bring every plumber in Victoria to look at that plumbing." Such men don't join unions. While others are quarreling and arguing, they are doing the world's work and never get a headline in the papers.

In conclusion, our contractors are not blameless. They seem to have signed an agreement last April not only submitting to the high wages, but agreeing to the infliction of a fine if the high wages were not rigorously enforced in the case of man carrying a union card, quite irrespective of his capability. If they make the same mistake again, we shall have the same trouble every year. It may be confidently stated that there are not a dozen plumbers in Victoria who are worth 69 a day, nor a dozen carpenters who are worth $8. They may think they are, and so thinking, waste from one-fourth to one-third of their lives waiting around for a few urgent periods of work. Henry Ford has attained his high place in industry by never signing agreements with regard to his workmen. His workmen, on the other hand, are the best paid in the world, and have signed never an agreement. And they have had the five-day week for years, but not in the underhand way union labor in Victoria wants it—as a means to filching $20 for a day's work.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT PLAY

"A Kiss For Cinderella" Will Be Presented This Evening and Saturday

"A Kiss for Cinderella," the matriculation play of the Victoria High School to be given in the school auditorium tonight and Saturday of this week, presents many interesting features.

In the first part of the play there is a Mr. Bodle (Horace Dawson) who is an artist for whose pictures there is no spirited bidding. He has a Cinderella-like maid whom he reports to the police because of her apparent unpatriotic curiosity about Germany. The policeman (Robert Carey) who answers the call, adopts a disguise to discover what Cinderella's "goings-on" are taking place.

Later in the play there is Cinderella's ball, not as balls really are, but as a figment of Cinderella's imagination, the fantastic ball of one's dreams. Here, the pompous Lord Mayor (John Merrett) is in charge, while Lord Times (William Ford) has the final word in everything.

The King (John Pennington) and his good lady, the Queen (Marguerite Jeeves), are much concerned with the choice of a mate for their son, Prince Hard-to-Please, who, curiously, bears a surprising resemblance to the policeman. Cinderella has once seen a horse show and this has colored her conception of a competition for a prince.

The seven beauties who compete for royal favor prance around the room like high stepping steeds. Everyone who does not stand the test is made short work of by the censor (W. Kitley) but Cinderella wins, and the wedding between herself and Prince Hard-to-Please is performed by Bishop Penguin.

In the last act Cinderella is found half frozen in the snow, and has been taken to convalescent home where Dr. Bodle (Kathleen Baker) has charge. Here the doctor is much worried by the flirtation going on between "Danny" (Jim Petch) and a pretty probationer (Alice Taylor).

The whole production has been effectively prepared and every indication is in the direction of an entertaining performance.

Metchosin Fair Plans Advanced

Arrangements for the Metchosin Fall Fair were advanced on Tuesday evening at a meeting held at the Colwood Hall, called by the directors of the Metchosin Farmers' Institute and attended by two delegates from the women's institutes of Colwood, Langford, Metchosin, Luxton and Happy Valley. Arrangements were made for a public meeting to be held shortly for the development of public support for the exhibition.

BELLINGHAM MAN DIES

Vancouver, March 21.—John A. Adams, forty-eight, Bellingham business man, died in the Vancouver General Hospital yesterday a few minutes after he had suddenly been taken ill in an automobile in the 1200 block of East Marine Drive.

He is thought to have succumbed from natural causes.

Police learned that Mr. Adams, who had been a visitor in Vancouver since Tuesday, was being driven back to Bellingham. On Marine Drive he complained of feeling ill and was rushed to the hospital.

He is survived by a widow in Bellingham.

AT THE THEATRES

PLAYHOUSE FILM IS REAL TEST FOR CHARACTER ACTOR

"Seven Faces," Fox Movietone all-talking production, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is a real test for Paul Muni, hailed as the foremost character actor of the United States. He enacts seven roles, under the direction of Berthold Viertel. Marguerite Churchill and Lester Lonergan, who handled the stage direction, are also featured.

"MOTHER GUILLOTINE" HARD AT WORK IN COLUMBIA PICTURE

"Mother Guillotine," as the headsman's machine was known during the French revolution, has a busy time of it in "The Scarlet Daredevil," which is showing at the Columbia Theatre. Thrilling scenes of the days when Paris streets ran red with the blood of the aristocrats are shown in this picture which has Matheson Lang, famous stage player, as the star. Juliette Compton, famous Follies beauty, has one of the principal roles.

SEA PERILS RISKED TO SECURE THRILLS FOR MOVING PICTURE

The exciting "whoopee" boat and police raid sequences of "The Locked Door," the all-talking United Artists feature, now at the Capitol Theatre, were filmed in a turbulent sea off Terminal Island in California.

Headed by George Fitzmaurice, the director, and Rod La Rocque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd and Betty Bronson, the principals, the company floated and bobbed for hours in frail water craft that threatened to swamp them any minute.

The obvious difficulty of providing sound equipment to record the action—most of it taking place in swift hydroplanes—was met practicably by placing the microphone units on barges and in tows trailing behind the swift craft.

TEMPE PIGGOTT IN TALKIE DEBUT AT THE DOMINION

Tempe Piggott, who has been playing character roles on the stage and screen for sixteen years, makes her talking film debut in Gary Cooper's first starring picture, "Seven Days' Leave," which is playing this week at the Dominion Theatre.

Miss Piggott supports Cooper, the soldier-hero of the play, in the role of Mrs. Haggerty.

Born in London, and trained on the stage there, Miss Piggott was brought to this country to play in a New York stage production by the late Henry Miller, theatrical producer. It is a coincidence that the film company which is giving her first role in talking pictures introduced her to the silent screen. She made her motion picture bow in a Paramount production, "Behold My Wife," starring Milton Sills, five years ago.

McLEOD PLAYERS TO REPEAT LATEST PLAY NEXT WEEK

The Gordon McLeod Players' latest play, "Tell Me the Truth," has proved so popular that it will be played a second week. The same play is in its seventh week at the present time in Vancouver.

Full of fun and most comical situations, this comedy of home life is exceptionally well played, and has a charming setting. Lilian Christine and Claude Bailey have the funniest parts, while Roland Gillett, besides having full scope for the droll humor, has a charming little bit of sentiment to portray.

Margaret St. Barbe-West is delightful as the shy little spinster who finds matrimony more to her taste than a dull maiden life. Maude Blaye gives a particularly sweet and dignified portrayal of the old nurse, while Ann Farrer as the older aunt, gives a good character study.

TANLAC FREES JOHN BURKHARDT OF STOMACH TROUBLES

Flat on Back, Super Medicine Puts Him Back on Job

In a few days quicker than you ever thought possible—that super medicine Tanlac starts to prove its merit. And amazing though it may seem, the more stubborn and unyielding the case may be, the more remarkable is the work that Tanlac does in straightening out weak disordered stomachs. It's a real medicine formulated according to modern medical science—that's why—not just a "patent medicine" that makes a lot of ridiculous claims to cure everything. Tanlac was prepared for the specific purpose of strengthening the ailing organs of digestion and because every ingredient in it is designed for helping the good work along, it has won easy victories where everything else has failed. And remember this, when stomach troubles are ended you'll be absolutely amazed at the way bowel troubles, constipation, dizziness, headaches, and even rheumatism usually disappear completely. Tanlac has brought glorious new health to hundreds right here in this town. Among the recent cases is Mr. John Burkhardt who says: "I was flat on my back when I started taking Tanlac. A few doses began to improve my appetite, my digestion grew better and I was soon back on the job." Every mail brings enthusiastic letters of testimonial—52,000,000 bottles have been sold. Guaranteed by all the druggists so accept no substitute. (Advt.)

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

By REV. J. ELLIOT ROSS

Catholic Professor and Associate Administrative Director, the School of Religion, State University of Iowa

Most of us, I suppose, have sometimes imagined how overjoyed we should have been at the privilege of knowing Christ face to face during His life on earth. Of course, we always imagine that we should have been among His faithful followers, never among those who persecuted Him.

But is it not a waste of time to dream about what cannot be, and to neglect the opportunities we have of knowing and serving Christ? For Christ Himself has told us that His presence is perpetuated among us. Whenever we feed and clothe the poor, we are feeding and clothing Christ.

For the most of us, however, poverty is just as effective a disguise of Christ as the human form in which He hid His divinity while on earth. And therein, perhaps, is an indication of how we should have treated Christ had we lived in Judea during His lifetime there.

Surely, if we had any deep realization of Christ's presence in the poor, we should serve them so eagerly that poverty would disappear. Certainly after nineteen hundred years of Christianity, there ought not to be so many in absolute need of the necessaries of life.
